Nixon Declares No Effort Made To Conceal $16,000

ABOARD NIXON CAMPAIGN TRAIN, In Oregon, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon said today no attempt has ever been made to conceal the existence or purpose of a $16,000 political fund that has become an issue in the presidential campaign.

Nixon gave a statement to newsmen after Dana F. Smith, Pasadena, Calif., trustee of the fund, made public a list of contributors to the fund.

The statement said:

"At my request Dana Smith today made public the full list of contributors to a political fund established to permit me to carry on my fight against communism and corruption above my official duties in Washington, D. C.

"This report includes amounts paid by each contributor and disbursements made therefrom. These are the basic facts about this fund:

"1. It was set up to pay for strictly political activities in which all public servants must take part in which those who are not independently wealthy are financially unable to participate without assistance.

"2. It enabled me to meet my speaking and mailing schedule without recourse to padding my federal office payroll, free government transportation, misuse of the senatorial franking privilege or any subterfuge.

"3. I have never received one penny of this fund for my personal use.

"4. This fund has been a matter of public knowledge from its inception; no attempt has ever been made to conceal its existence or purpose. All disbursements were made by Mr. Smith by check, as trustee.

"5. Contributors to this fund are long time supporters of mine who sincerely wish to enable me to continue my active battle against communism and corruption.

"6. None of them ever asked for or received any special consideration from me.

"7. This fund represents a normal, legitimate, open matter of permitting constituents actively to support the political activity of a candidate of their choice. Any other interpretation is a grave injustice to a fine group of public-spirited community leaders."

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Senator Richard Nixon of California must come "clean as a hound's tooth" out of the present furore over his acceptance of private expense funds if he is to remain on the Republican ticket.

AP reporters can say authoritatively that it is the present attitude of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, toward his vice-presidential running mate.

Eisenhower can be described accurately as believing that—from the facts the general now knows—Nixon did no wrong in accepting more than $16,000 in expense money raised by a group of California business men.

Lewis Victory Averts Coal Industry Strike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—John L. Lewin won sweeping concessions from Northern soft coal operators today in a new contract which staves off a strike due Monday.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, was expected to insist on—and probably get—the same terms from the rest of the industry.

His agreement with the Northern operators calls for a boost of $1.90 in daily pay and a 10 cent-a-ton increase in the royalty mine owners pay into the miners welfare fund..

Present pay is $16.35 a day and the current royalty is 30 cents a ton.

The wage increase and other contract terms will be effective Oct. 1 and run until Oct. 1, 1953.

Lewis told reporters that he had sent out telegrams ordering Northern mine workers to remain at their jobs Monday. About 17,000 of them had been scheduled to walk out then.

Lewis called the agreement "a triumph of collective bargaining in the mining industry."

The pact was announced jointly by Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Producers' Association. They said in a statement:

"We are gratified to be able to inform the American people that they will have an uninterrupted supply of bituminous coal this fall and winter."

Moses said the $1.90 per day pay boost means about a 32-cent-an-hour increase for the miners. He said that it was an increase of 11.6 per cent in wages.

The new contract will cost the operators almost 40 cents per ton of coal, Moses said. He made it plain that coal prices will go up shortly, saying:

"We feel we have an obligation to apply for a price increase and we probably will (do so)."

He added that while coal now is selling below ceiling prices, the industry believes that prices should be decontrolled.

Nixon Supporters Start New 'Fund'

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 (AP)—Hot supporters of Sen. Richard Nixon today set up a fund, in effect, to fight THE fund.

Angered by what they called "smear tactics" based on the supplemental fund Nixon has used as senator, a group of Republicans launched a campaign fund drive labeled "Dollars for Decency." In its first meeting, the group raised $302, a dollar per person.

Chairman John Krehbiel, Pasadena, declared, "The contributions now under criticism were essential to the American fight against communism."

Gallion Hit By Auto, Critically Injured

Alfred Gallion was still in critical condition last night from injuries received in a traffic accident yesterday morning. He received two operations yesterday for head injuries.

The accident occurred as Gallion, who was coming out of his driveway on a motor scooter on to Wilson Street, was struck by a 1950 Plymouth driven by Teddy L. McKeithen, 18, 1206 Standifer Avenue.

No charges were filed pending further investigation of the accident.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) — Herbert Hoover Jr., son of the former President, was disclosed today to have been a $500 contributor to the controversial $18,235 private expense fund raised for Sen. Richard M. Nixon.

Hoover's name was on the list of contributors made public, at the request of Republican vice - presidential nominee Nixon, by Dana C. Smith, Pasadena attorney who says he originated the idea.

Nixon had estimated the amount paid out of the fund over the past two years at about $16,000, but Smith's summary of expenditures made public today put the total at $18,235. Seventy-five contributors were listed.

EIGHT CONCERNS 100 PER CENT

Contributions To Chest By All Employes Shown By Those Firms

Eight Twin City firms and organizations had qualified for the 100 per cent honor roll of the Red Feather campaign up to Saturday night, a statement by David C. Silverstein and C. D. McAdams, drive leaders, revealed.

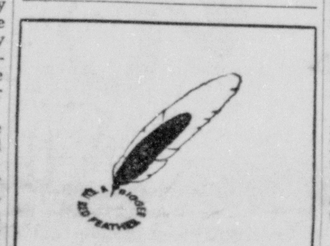

To qualify for the roll each firm or organization must meet its quota, or show that its employes have contributed on the basis of a day's pay and that an adequate gift from the firm and executive has been pledged.

With the new unit account plan, pledges may be paid, by pay-roll deduction within the firm, or upon bill from the Chest office on a monthly, quarterly or semi - annual basis. This plan will enable employes to pledge more and spread the paying over a period of a year thereby not causing a hardship on any one.

Special recognition was given by Chest heads for the record of H. M. James Machine Works in going over the 100 per cent mark. Every employe pledged a day's pay, increasing their pledges at the same time over last year's pledges, and the firm and executive gifts were also increased, thus allowing the unit to overscribe the quota which had been set for them by the drive evaluation commiftee.

The 100 per cent firm and organization honor roll will grow daily by leaps and bounds, the two leaders said. "We believe that fully 50 groups will have qualified by the middle of the coming week, or after the first report meeting which will be held Tuesday, September 23rd."

The list of firms and organizations whose employes are 100 per cent in contributing is shown elsewhere under the Red Feather honor roll picture.

HONOR ROLL:

1. James Machine Works
2. S. H. Kress Company
3. Silverstein's
4. Hill Lumber & Supply
5. Three Way Finance Company
6. Community Chest Office
7. Coney Island Sandwich Shop
8. Drouet Drug Store

Blue jeans, the resplendent pride of boys in school today, and adopted in many cases by girls who seek emancipation from a degree of regulated dress of their sex, are hit a broadside by Mrs. Elnora McClendon, principal of Highland Elementary School.

At a meeting of the school's P.-T. A., the manner of dress for girls was brought to light and many present registered a heavy barrage against girls donning blue jean trousers and cowboy pants to

810 ENROLLED AT NORTHEAST

Highest Number Of Students In History Of College

Fall semester enrollment at Northeast State reached 810 Saturday noon, B. S. Hamner, registrar, announced.

The student body represents an increase of about 17 per cent over the final enrollment of last year's fall semester.

Registration is still open for regular students and those desiring late afternoon and Saturday morning classes. Dormitory accommodations on the campus also are available for a few additional men and women.

Registration figures show 729 regular students and 81 who have scheduled courses offered in the late afternoon and Saturday morning. Most persons in the latter group are working toward degrees or certificates.

With the hike in enrollment is a significant increase in the number of students in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. The military police unit comprises 314 cadets in contrast to last fall's list, according to Lt. Col. Melville H. Griffith, professor of military science and tactics at Northeast.

Since the enrollment has shown a consistent climb during the two-year history of the institution as a four-year school, college officials predicted Saturday that next year's student body will reach 1,000.

To fill the needs of students, Northeast has increased its curricula, equipment, faculty and staff.

Honoring new members of the faculty and staff, President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater will be hosts to them, the entire faculty and staff, their wives and husbands at the President's campus home today from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

HUMOR ON POLITICAL FRONT

Gov. Adlai Stevenson bursts into laughter as he chats with Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.) in back seat of car during his visit to Bridgeport, Conn. At right is Rep. A. A. Ribicoff. The Democratic presidential nominee, on a whistle-stop tour of New England, worked not only to win Connecticut's eight electoral votes but also to obtain re-election of Benton and the election of Ribicoff to fill the unexpired four-year-term of the late Sen. Brien McMahon. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Sheriff Drops Libel Charge Against Paper

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 20 (AP) — Sheriff Theodore H. (Teddy) Martin of West Feliciana Parish dropped his 15-month-old $100,000 libel and damage suit against the Lake Charles American Press and its managing editor Kenneth Dixon today.

In an order signed by District Judge Mark Pickrel, the suit was dismissed "with prejudice to the plaintiff Martin and at plaintiff's cost."

Pickrel signed the order after the motion to dissmiss was filed by motion through his attorney, Sam D'Amico of Baton Rouge.

Originally filed on June 1, 1951, the West Feliciana Parish sheriff's suit charged that columns written by Dixon under the heading "Charley Lake Says" had damaged him to the extent of $100,000.

The columns were critical of Martin's conduct during the course of an investigation of conditions at the state penitentiary at Angola by a citizens committee appointed by former Gov. Earl Long.

The penitentiary is located in West Feliciana Parish.

When the original suit was dismissed due to technical errors, Martin subsequently refiled it on a corrected basis in the 14th Judicial District Court here except for postponements, no further action was taken on the case until Martin moved to dismiss the charges and the order was signed today.

HO HUM, TALKS RECESSED AGAIN

MUNSAN, Sunday, Sept. 21 (AP)—Truce talks lapsed back into another week-long recess today—the eighth in a row—when a rancorous 52-minute session of Communist and United Nations delegations failed to crack the prolonged deadlock on prisoner exchange.

Each side accused the other of propounding lies.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior U. N. delegate, barely mentioned the prisoner issue. Instead his 27 - minute statement challenged the Red contention that South Korea began the war. He declared: ". . . You have now arrived at the point where the bigger the lie, the better it sounds in your ears."

N. Y. FIRM BUYS MAPLEWOOD, LA.

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 20 (AP) — A Brooklyn, N. Y., firm has purchased the entire unincorporated town of Maplewood, La., which contains 800 rental units, a business center and 3,000 population.

The purchase, at an undisclosed price, was announced here today by the law firm of Jones, Kimball & Everett, local attorneys who will represent the new owners.

Maplewood is eight miles west of Lake Charles near Sulphur. The town was built eight years ago and its individual family units and apartments are occupied mainly by employes of nearby industrial plants.

Church buildings and a Calcasieu Parish (county) elementary school were the only parts of the community not involved in the transaction.

Allred said the accident occurred about 9:45 p. m.

Says Government Will Be Staffed With Persons With High Morals

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (AP) —Dwight D. Eisenhower told a St. Louis audience tonight a house cleaning in Washington would be his first job if he is elected president in November.

In a prepared speech at a rally sponsored by the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, the GOP candidate said the clean-up in Washington would be the first of a five-phase program. The others he labeled: to save, to streamline government, to decentralize it and to unify it.

"From the beginning," he promised, "we will bring into government men and women to whom low public morals are unthinkable. Thus we will not only drive wrongdoers and their cronies out of government. We will make sure that they do not get into government in the first place."

Eisenhower's major speech here climaxed a whistle stop tour across Missouri from Kansas City today.

Along the route he put the accent on the need of youth in politics but he made no mention of the furore over the acceptance by his running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, of expense money from a wealthy group of Californians.

Eisenhower in his St. Louis speech said his friends at Kansas City where he spoke last night, had asked that he make tonight's speech there because it harked back to the cleanup spearheaded by Kansas City women in the late 30's, the campaign that ended the regime of the late Democratic leader, "Boss Tom" Pendergast.

President Truman is an active member of the Democratic faction that has been inherited by "Boss Tom's" nephew, Jim Pendergast.

Eisenhower said he thought the demand for a house cleaning has spread to all the women of the country, and doesn't still exist in Kansas City alone.

"No repaint or refurbishing job will do" to clean corruption out of Washington, Eisenhower continued. "When it comes to the political members of our national government, we will be satisfied with nothing less than their complete replacement."

Borrowing a quotation from the Bible he said the axes must be laid at the root of the trees of official corruption and mismanagement.

Eisenhower made these points on the rest of his program:

"To save: that means an administration which knows how to practice the wiser spending of less

'OLD BALDY' IS TAKEN BY ALLIES

SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, Sept. 21 (AP)—Two columns of Allied infantrymen battled their way to the top of Old Baldy Hill in Western Korea early today and recaptured it after a stiff fight with defending Chinese Reds.

An Allied front-line officer reported confused fighting still was in progress several hours later, but said:

"We are still on the hill."

The Allied attack was launched from two directions in an apparent attempt to envelop the Reds and cut off their retreat.

The Allied attack was launched from two directions in an apparent attempt to envelop the Reds and cut off their retreat.

First reports from the front said only that Allied forces were on top after a stiff battle.

Thunderous U. N. artillery fire supported the Allied infantrymen as they battled up the scarred eastern and western slopes.

The Chinese answered with intense mortar and artillery fire at both the relief columns and tired U. N. infantrymen who have clung to the southern slopes since Thursday night.

An earlier attempt Saturday to regain Old Baldy was turned back by the Chinese after Allied infantrymen reached within 300 feet of the top.

Fighting raged at eight other points on the Western and Central Fronts Saturday and resulted in at least 600 Red casualties.

U. N. forces braced for new Red thrusts in what appeared Saturday to be a steadily increasing series of attacks on hill outposts.

Expect Reds To Go Out For Piecemeal Gains, Not War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development said today that in the next few years there probably will be greater damage of piecemeal Communist gains than of a military attack deliberately launched by Moscow.

For this reason, the businessmen's group, in a survey of American and foreign policies, pictured Southeast Asia and the Middle East as particular danger spots to this country and the free world.

Calling for "continuous political support, technical and administrative assistance, and foreign capital on a large scale" for Asia and the Middle East, the group said also:

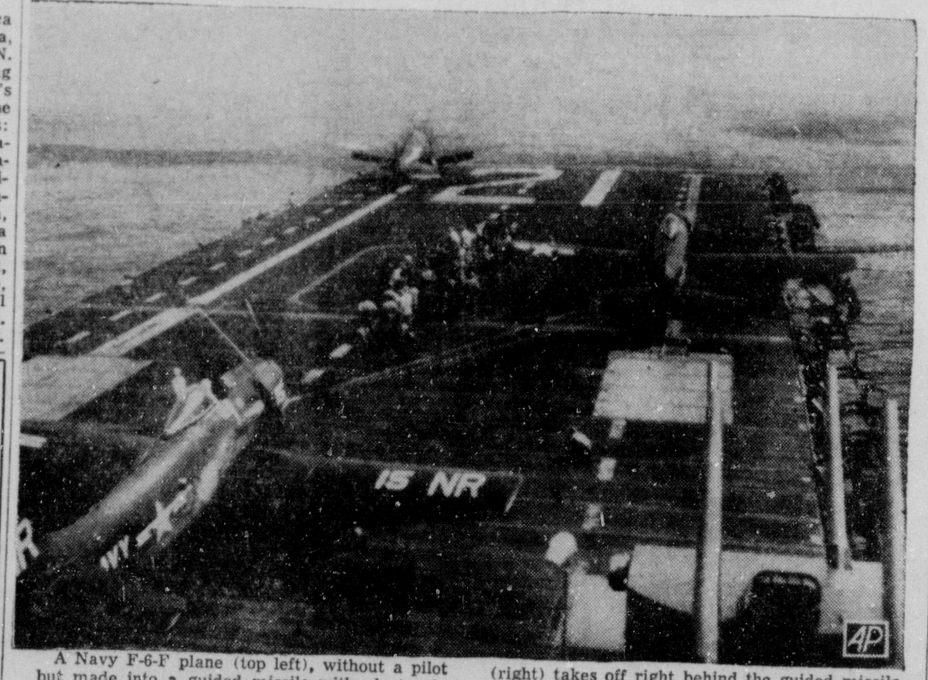

"There is need for the United States to assert vigorously, in the name of the whole free world, an interest in social and economic reform in free Asia and to support that interest with practical action through United Nations agencies and otherwise."

The report was prepared by the Research and Policy Committee of the CED, which is composed of business leaders and educators and is devoted to research and planning in economic affairs. The CED is headed by Marion Folsom, treasurer of Eastman Kodak Company.

The report questioned whether American policies provide sufficient forces to bolster local defense forces against Communist aggression in Asia.

Strengthening Asian nations was listed in the report on "the threat to our national security" as one of four most urgent tasks currently facing the United States.

PUBLIC FORUM

Bastrop, Louisiana.
September 18, 1952.

Dear Editor:

We notice that the North Louisiana Legislators have held a meeting in Monroe in protest to the Kennon Administration.

I would like to take the opportunity to express myself to the public in connection with the meeting, it's purpose, and it's outcome.

In the first place, the legislators have shown that they have a very weak mind, inexperience and disqualifications. These boys as a whole voted in Baton Rouge, La. in favor of those bills and they also voted for the boards. Now they tell you the bill is no good; that if they had it to do over again, they would not have voted that way. I tell you, ladies and gentlemen, if those legislators are telling you the truth now, they were asleep when the bills reached the floor of the House and Senate. I was present when most of those bills were voted on and I must say that some of them acted as if they were asleep. Did Bob Kennon have the boys hypnotized? If he did, don't you think he will put them to sleep again in the proposed Special Session?

These boys we have voted to send to Baton Rouge to represent us in the State Legislature have definitely shown a weakness. They know that they have and now they want to meet again in Baton Rouge to tear up all they have done. They want to meet now for free. They tell you that they have made a mistake. If they have made that big a mistake they should be meeting for free and return the money they were paid for doing what they now want to undo. Some of these boys have served on the committee that passed the bill before it went to the Legislature for final approval. These boys have made a mistake and approved the mistake. What kind of men have we chosen?

Bob Kennon is doing a fine job as governor of this great state of ours. After every gubernatorial election we have this same kind of publicity. This stuff is initiated by people who are seeking publicity at the expense of whatever innocent party who happens to be standing in their path.

Five years ago when Earl Long was elected you couldn't find a man after the legislature adjourned who would admit voting for him. They were all sorry they hadn't voted for Sam Jones, or they were all sorry that the best man in the race — Bob Kennon— had lost out in the first primary. Do you remember that? All this stuff will die down when the publicity has reached it's peak.

Personally, I wonder why the legislators haven't mentioned anything about voting themselves a salary. . . . Are they sorry of that, too? I also wonder if they are sorry they voted 99 per cent to give the governor an increase in salary . . . and how about the judges' salary? Our good-natured legislators increased the judges' salaries more than the average man makes. . . . I'm speaking of the amount of the increase. . . . Do they want to undo all that? If they do, I'm all for it. But I hardly think that is on their minds.

The boys are not qualified to make up their minds. They need some experience and now they want to get it at the expense of the taxpayers. If it should happen that a special session should be called and if they should happen to serve for free, I'll bet you one thing, they will have fewer of those 30 minute a day sessions like they had when the taxpayers were paying them $30.00 a day.

I noticed that the representatives of West Carroll and East Carroll were not present at the mass meeting. Good for them!

H. D. Ruffin.

Have you tried the convenience of a new see-throughable plastic apron that ties around the waist and has several waterproof pockets? This handy carryall will save you time and precious steps because you can pack in your sponge, sudsmaker, and cleaning rags and carry them right with you. The apron itself is completely washable, of course.

It's worth your while to try a new kind of press cloth that is semi-transparent and lets you see exactly what and where you're pressing. You probably don't have to be reminded how many times you've had to re-do a garment because you ironed darts or pockets or pleats the wrong way — not being able to see what you were doing. This "See Thru" cloth, made of a specially treated fabric, cools quickly and can be washed in soap and water. That means you can use it over and over again, keeping it spanking fresh for your most delicate things.

IN MOVELAND

By JAMES BACON
(For vacationing BOB THOMAS)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— What's the most important single factor in the boxoffice success of a movie? Stars, director or story?

None of those, I say, and I find some important Hollywood people who agree with me that a picture often makes or loses a buck solely on its title.

Last year, MGM made a highly entertaining picture called "Angels in the Outfield." Critics liked it and apparently most who saw it liked it. But it didn't do business and MGM blames the title. The story was a fantasy that should have appealed to baseball fans and non-baseball fans alike. Although baseball is our national pastime, baseball pictures generally are not strong boxoffice.

One of the year's best suspense films was a sleeper made by Paramount called "The Atomic City." The picture had no big names but the word-of-mouth should have brought the customers in. Paramount changed the title midway in the run to "19 Elevado St." It apparently only confused the customers.

Abrupt title-changing, incidentally, is the chronic despair of publicity deparments. They spend months publicizing a picture under one title, only to have it open under another. If a picture fails, it's seldom the stars' or director's fault, the publicity people moan. The press agents usually get blamed for not selling the picture properly.

A Kirk Douglas picture that was generally acclaimed died under the title "Ace in the Hole." Midway in the run, the title was changed to "The Big Carnival."

Doing a little research on this subject, I contacted Arthur Hornblow Jr., one of MGM's top money producers.

"You couldn't have come to a more inexpert person," said Hornblow. "I'm the fellow who produced 'The Asphalt Jungle' and held out against a change of title...

That picture also was one of the year's best a few seasons ago. It was nominated for an Academy Award but it never did business. The New York selling office of MGM argued that the title didn't convey anything to the fans. Hornblow held that the advertising could convey the meaning of the title — that city dwellers live in a jungle of asphalt.

"Since then," added Hornblow, "I have been in the title doghouse around here." He disclosed that MGM has one executive whose main job is solely to reconcile picture titles between the Hollywooe production set-up and the New York selling office.

"I'm convinced that alliteration is the key to title success," remarked Hornblow. He then reeled off his best money-making sucesses: "Ruggles of Red Gap," "Waikiki Wedding," "I wanted Wings," "Week-end at the Waldorf," "Cat and the Canary," and "The Major and the Minor."

Only days after I talked with him, he changed the title of his current picture with Esther Williams. Oiriginally called "One-piece Bathing Suit," it henceforth will be known as "Million Dollar Mermaid."

The public is not the only one confused by title changes. A trade paper columnist chided Universal-International recently in her column. It seems the columnist went to see Ann Blyth in "Sally and St. Ann" at one theater and went to another theater a few nights later to see Miss Blyth in "All Because of Sally." The pictures were one and the same.

SUPPLIES DOUBLED

PUSAN, Korea (AP)— Relief and rehabilitation supplies for South Korea's war-stricken civilians were more than doubled in the first seven months this year compared with the same period in 1951.

The report on relief supplies from United Nations countries and welfare organizations was made by the U. N. Civil Assistance Command, Korea.

From January through August this year a total of 661.714 long tons of supplies were received, compared with 277,481 long tons of the like period last year, the report said.

Armed Service

CAMP RUCKER, Ala. – Prvate Phillip D. Thompson, 410 Parker St., Monroe, La., has arrived at this Southern Alabama Army camp to under go his initial infantry training.

Inducted Aug. 22, 1952 and processed at Ft. Sill, Okla., he will receive basic training from the 47th "Viking" Infantry Division here. The new soldier will undertake a rigorous schedule incoporating a wide-range of military subjects from military courtesy and field sanitation to machine gun and bazooka familiarization.

After finishing eight to 16 weeks of primary training, the recent inductee will be eligible for reassignment for further infantry or specialized training.

The 47th Division, the first permanent Army assignment for the new soldier, is a Minnesota-North Dakota National Guard unit. Activated for service on Jan. 16, 1951, the Division now is completing its second year at Rucker. Since activation, the 47th has trained men from all 48 states and three territories.

CAMP POLK, La. — A Camp Polk master sergeant last week received the French Air Force Brevet — 34 years late. M-Sgt. John Baldner, first sergeant of Company L, 147th Infantry Regiment, received his brevet rank from the French government 34 years after training with French air cadets during World War 1.

Sgt. Baldner, a veteran of 22 years army service, served on an American military mission in French Air Force during World War 1. At the end of his training period he soloed successfully and was awarded his brevet rank, the equivilent of America's awarding wings to its airmen. But the French government never got around to pinning the wings on Baldner and time passed.

Just recetly, talking to a friend from Ohio who had been in the same class, Baldner found he could still get his wings. He wrote to the Air Attache of the French Embassy in Washington, sent in his old flight log, and last week received the wings of a French brevet, only 34 years late.

Naval Cadet Millard A. Posey, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Posey, 3500 Grammont St., Monroe, La., reported to the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Cabaniss Field, Corpus Christi, Tex., recently, for duty in advanced flight training.

Posey, a graduate of Bastrop High School, entered the Navy in 1950 at Memphis, Tenn. He served at New Orleans, La., and received his primary and basic flight training at Pensacola, Fla., prior to reporting to Cabaniss Field. Cabaniss Field is one of the Navy's two advanced flight training bases for student carrier pilots. There they are taught to fly carrier - type aircraft such as the AD Skyraider (currently used by pilots of the seventh fleet in the Korean conflict), and the F6F Hellcat, Navy Fighter planes. Carrier based aviation has been credited with 75 per cent of all close air support for ground troops in the Korean theater.

'GAS' HOTDOGS

PITTSBURGH (AP)— The children in the neighborhood just threw a match on the ground, a foot-high flame spurted up and they roasted their hotdogs and toasted marshmallows with no trouble at all.

Then the gas company heard about it and sent a repair crew to fix the leak in the undergrcund gas line that leads to a nearby housing project.

INDO-CHINA AIRPORT

KIENAN, Indo-China (AP)—A new airfield being built in Northeastern Indo-China, not far from the port of Haiphong through which comes much of the U. S. war aid for the French forces.

The end of the year should see it completed. It will be the first airfield in Indo-China capable of handling any jet-propelled aircraft.

Already, broad runways stretching nearly 1 ½ miles have been finished—and hundreds of Vietnamese coolies are hard at work to finish the job.

Miss Maggio then outlined for the group the aims and the theme for this year's work, namely, the Lay Apostolate, emphasizing personal holiness and charity during the first semester and active participation in the work of the lay Apostolate during the second semester.

Miss Mona Lee Ticheli welcomed the aspirants and stated some of the things which would be expected of them for admission into the Sodality. A talk was then given by Philip Lisotta on the basic virtues of truth and charity, after which the group were served delicious refreshments by mothers of the Sodalists.

The yearbook photographers, J. D. Cascio, Philip Lisotta, and Albert Thibeaux have already launched their program of picture-taking. All individual photos of the freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors have been taken for the yearbook, and plans now call for pictures of the school's organizations. These will be the study of the coming week. Matthuan staff members have almost completed their initial layout for the 1953 issue of the annual which will be ready for distribution sometime in April.

George V. Lofton

An irreparable loss was experienced by newspapers of Monroe, the News-Star and Morning World, in the death of George V. Lofton, for 20 years associated with them, first as sports editor and for more than 14 years as managing editor. The blow caused by his death was doubly hard as it came almost exactly one week after Wilson Ewing, publisher and editor of these papers, died suddenly of a heart attack.

Mr. Lofton, native of Arkansas, following service in World War One, entered newspaper work, first serving on his home town daily, the Little Rock Gazette, later on the Commercial-Appeal, Memphis, Tenn., and as sports editor of the El Dorado (Ark.) Daily News.

His ability was recognized by the late John D. Ewing and he was next employed as sports editor of the Ewing's newly-established Morning World. Upon the resignation of the late Fred W. Williamson, managing editor, Mr. Lofton succeeded to this post which he held for the remainder of his life.

Lofton possessed an alert, well-disciplined mind. His memory was marvelous, his skill as a writer illumined all that he sought to portray. His was a far away vision of things to come and he was prepared to meet any emergency. In fact this ability was an outstanding characteristic of the man and many times he was confronted with situations that might have vanquished a man with less power to overcome, but this was not the Lofton way to do things.

He enjoyed sports and politics, playing an important role in Monroe civic affairs, not often at the head of a committee, for he served probably even better down the line in the more hidden ranks, but his presence and judgment were valuable assets when problems arose.

He served at his death as vice-chairman of the Louisiana-Mississippi Associated Press Managing Editors Association and a few months ago, at the behest of Governor Earl Long, then chief executive, he served on the state-wide committee that made investigation of the conditions in Angola.

A valuable member of the Fourth Estate passed on in the early hours of September 16. The memory of George Lofton will remain, his place will be unfilled for time to come.

Fallacy Of Planned Economy

There are those who say they do not believe in socialism but do believe in such things as the Brannan plan for agriculture or the Ewing plan for health insurance. They are certainly deluding themselves when they say this—and the danger is that they may be deluding others.

The advocates of the "planned economy", of which the two plans mentioned above are illustrations, believe in socialism whether they know it or not—for socialism and the planned economy are one and the same.

This fact was quite well set forth in a speech I heard Prime Minister Atlee of Great Britain make while I was over there about three years ago. In the course of his speech he made this statement, "It is the function of socialism to control the blind economic forces that govern the affairs of man."

In making this statement, Mr. Atlee "let the cat out of the bag"; he revealed the fundamental beliefs of the proponents of socialism -- that people are not capable of governing themselves and that natural laws should not be allowed to have free sway.

These beliefs, of course, are directly contrary to the whole philosophy of freedom which underlies our own constitutional republican form of government. Our government is based upon the belief that people are capable of governing themselves; once we abandon that belief, we would abandon all our gains of 175 years under this form of government.

Moreover, people who believe in freedom believe in the free sway of natural laws. They know that "the economic forces that govern the affairs of man" are anything but "blind"; they know that they are the most alive, wide-awake forces in the world, that they represent the combined intelligence of all the people all the time.

People who believe in freedom cannot accept the belief that a dictator or a prime minister and his cabinet or a president and his cabinet or any other small group of men can claim for themselves omniscient knowledge that will enable them to plan things for the people better than the people can plan things for themselves. Such a doctrine has never worked and it never will work -- for the simple reason that it is contrary to natural laws.

Try as man will -- under dictatorship or socialism or communism or the planned economy in any form -- he cannot repeal the laws of nature. Goethe well expressed this fact when he said, "Nature understands no jesting; she is always true, always serious, always severe; she is always right, and the errors and faults are always those of man. The man incapable of appreciating her she despises and only to the apt, the pure, and the true, does she resign herself and reveal her secrets."

It is simply contrary to common sense to believe that any individual or group of individuals can be more interested in a person's welfare than he is interested in it himself -- yet that is what the planned economy means. It means that everybody hews to a line, that everybody is encompassed within the plan, that individualism and freedom are dead.

That it does not work in the practical sense, we have seen many clear illustrations, not only in history but in our own experience. Great Britain accepted the planned economy in the nationalizing of her industries -- and Great Britain has been brought to the brink of bankruptcy thereby. The two main products of Argentina have always been wheat and meat. Now, after inaugurating the planned economy two or three years ago, Argentina is importing wheat and observing meatless days! We have seen the corruption and inefficiency resulting from our own controls here in the U. S. A.

The planned economy defeats its own ends. Nature and freedom will not be denied.

Menace Of Debt

Private debt in all classifications is rising in America--farm mortgages, home mortgages, business borrowing. Now it is revealed that consumer credit (installment buying) totals $21,200,000,000, which is $2,000,000,000 more than a year ago and three times the figure of 1939.

Federal government made a survey in 91 big and little cities and came up with figures disclosing that the average family spent more than it took in.

A gigantic public and private debt is being built up which carries the seeds of destruction of the American way of life. The federal government is in debt to the tune of $265,000,000,000. States and local governments have gone into debt for $100,000,000,000. Business, mortgage and consumer debts probably bring the total to $500,000,000,000.

This debt load could not be shouldered in time of adversity. Deflation would result in dollars being harder to come by and debts would be defaulted. Creditors would be ruined.

It is time for the national government to begin balancing its budget and encouraging citizens to strive for a liquid position. Will anw administration do that? Probably not.

Politicians know they are popular while they keep inflation and high spending going, and unpopular when the pinch sets in. Spending a dollar is more fun than saving one.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The political trick of the year, if it comes off, will be the welding of the Republican supporters of Dwight D. Eisenhower and Robert A. Taft to put the former in the White House and Strengthen the latter in his strategic position as Republican boss of the senate, whether the Republicans carry that body or not.

On the surface, the linking of forces and the end of the rift between the two men were all to Eisenhower's advantage, on the theory that it would bring into the general's camp all the Republican dissidents who were embittered by the senator's defeat at Chicago.

Present impressions here are that both the Republican party and its candidate have gained considerably by the agreement, particularly in the congressional field, where the party faces a tremendous task in electing both a GOP house and senate to give a new administration real control of the federal government.

Eisenhower can even trim his sails moderately on some issues of the campaign without evoking any harmful criticism, for he had not gone far enough in his declarations to make difficult some revision in his viewpoint. For example, his new York speech to the American Federation of Labor could not possibly have offended the Taft followers, yet it probably was not much different than it would have been if the two men had not gotten together.

Eisenhower is fortunate in having as his principal speech writer Stanley High, one of the editors of Readers' Digest, who probably has no superior in smoothly weaving together and reconciling conflicting ideas. But at times even High cannot make Eisenhower sound like anybody but Taft, and when it comes to foreign policy, he and the general will have to trim sails a bit.

That they have already begun to do so seemed evident in Eisenhower's midwestern tour when he really bore down on foreign aid expenditures, in which he had an important voice, at least on the military side, until five months ago. He criticized the draft of young men for service in foreign lands and by inference, those who drafted them. He referred to our own huge military outlay as "a sterile investment".

Those may have long been the general's own convictions, despite his close connection with our defense program — high ranking officers can at least have their own thoughts about this outsize armament program — but they also seem to tie into the Taft-Hoover-MacArthur school of thought with unexpected similarity.

Unchallenged, that might not lose Eisenhower a vote, but it sets up a new target for Governor Stevenson who takes the position that maintenance of our military strength is a necessity while the Communist menace bestrides the earth. The truth seems to be somewhere between the two viewpoints.

If the Republican nominee is hurt at all by the welding process with his recent opponent, it will be because Stevenson manages to pit him on the defensive, as he is striving to do, and convince voters that the Eisenhower campaign is largely a front for the Republican old guard, which bungled away Taft's chances at the Chicago convention.

It is inescapable that a party which in congress has largely subscribed to Senator Taft's views as chairman of the Republican policy committee could not get far away from those views even by nomination of another candidate. Before the Republican convention at Chicago, this reporter and others became convinced that Senator Taft could not be nominated, not because of opposition to his views, but because so many delegates who were ostensible for him were convinced that he could not win the election.

That gave Gov. Thomas E. Dewey his chance to move in for the kill. The healed rift between Senator Taft and General Eisenhower becomes a chasm when it reaches a point between Taft and Dewey. Now there is some uneasiness in the Republican camp whether Dewey, annoyed by what appears to have been a deal in which Taft came off with the advantage, will do his best for Eisenhower in the key state of New York, which may well decide the election.

The answer to this is that Dewey will concentrate on the reelection of Sen. Irving M. Ives (Rep.-N. Y.) against a comparatively weak Democrat, and in the process try to pull Eisenhower through.

The situation leaves unchanged the conviction here that Stevenson must fight his own way to the top, with his speeches as his best weapon. The outcome can well depend on how convincing those speeches turn out to be.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Louis G. Weil, 29, and Barbara Jeanne Milner, 17, both of Monroe.

Clyde O. McPhink, 39, and Bennie O'Neal Story, 34, both of West Monroe.

When washing lined draperies, loosen the lining at the bottom if it is not separately hemmed. This makes for better hanging in case of uneven shrinkage, and also makes ironing easier. A bath towel placed between the lining and the outer fabric speeds drying and prevents color spreading. If draperies are to be ironed, use a press cloth or iron on the wrong side, always lengthwise. For storage, fold them neatly, wrap, and place where they will remain unsoiled until needed again.

The Broadway Lights

The First - Nighters: "Wish You Were Here" is The Big Town's "hottest ticket," taking the throne from "The King and I." . . . "Seagulls Over Sorrento" which opened last week, died of seasickness last night. . . . Of the seven musicals on Broadway five are doing capacity biz. . . . "Mr. Pickwick" (a British Immigrant) was welcomed as a guest by some critics and rebuffed by others as an invader. The dandy and dully notices were about evenly divided. Mr. Atkinson, who found it "a thoroughly delightful play," clashed with Mr. Whattshisname's "extremely mild fun." The newcomer (incidentally) has the support of reviewers generally regarded as Most Influential, Atkinson of the Times and Chapman of the News. Weshalzee, weshalzee. . . . Advance word on "The Sacred Flame" (the Somerset Maugham revival) is good-good. Showfolks report Patricia Wheel of the cast is exciting. . . . Bette Davis' upcoming revusical ("Two's Company") has only 150 backers. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Theater (Lunt & Fontanne) enchanted London aislemen in N. Coward's "Quadrille." The critics snubbed the rickety script, reporting that the stars gave the play more help than it deserves.

In the Wings: George Jean Nathan (the Dean of Drama Undertakers) surprised showmen with the mournful news that he will not write his annual book on the Theater "because of the dismal season". . . . "Imagine," hmf'd a producer, "Nathan being reluctant to write an obituary!" . . . Broadway wits are calling him "Ad-Lib" Stevenson. Izee trying out his act for White House or the Palace?

The Cinemagic: Gregory Peck stars in Hemingway's "Snows of Killimanjaro," a lusty love-story punctuated by sexclamation points named Susan Hayward and Ava Gardner. Gardnerotica at her sexiest. . . . "Rainbow 'Round My Shoulder" impersonates a musical comedy. Music? Comedy? . . . "Big Jim McLain" is a swift hell-raiser that gives the Commies a good going over. Welcome to the Club. MISS. FARMERS MOVING TO CITY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — Mississippi farmers are moving to the cities, according to final 1950 census figures released today by the Bureau of the Census.

The Department of Commerce agency's figures show a rise in urban population in the state of 39 per cent while Mississippi farm population dropped 21 per cent since the 1940 census. Mississippi's total population of 2,178,914 is divided between 1,097,207 rural citizens and 607,162 city-dwellers.

The white population in the state increased 7.4 per cent, but this rise was offset by a net decrease 8.1 in the non-white persons, causing a decline of 0.2 per cent in total population.

In 1950, whites constituted 54.6 per cent of the total as opposed to a white percentage of only 50.7 in 1940.

Income figures for the state show an average income of $1,028 with 72.4 per cent earning less than $2,000. City wage earners averaged $1,690 with the rural non-farm group getting $1,187 and the farm population averaging only $662.

Disabled Schooner Is Taken In Tow

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Coast Guard reported tonight that the cutter Tampa was towing a disabled fishing schooner to Mobile, Ala.

The Tampa took the motor vessel Gonzales in tow at 2:40 p.m. in the Gulf of Mexico about 80 miles south of the Mississippi River's South Pass.

Earlier today, a Coast Guard PBY plane located the vessel, ending a 36-hour search.

A broken engine shaft was reported to be the cause of the breakdown. All 10 crewmen were reported safe.

The search for the vessel began late Thursday when the SS Oregon Sword sighted the vessel and notified the Coast Guard.

IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, as the Republican candidate for President, will have to come out much more strongly in favor of states' rights in the tidelands oil issue, the FEPC and all other civil liberties questions on his next swing into Dixie, if he is to win any electoral votes in the South.

This is the concensus of a score of southern newspaper editors and political reporters in key cities of a dozen states. They were asked to interpret the reaction of people in their communities to Ike's first campaign tour south of the Mason and Dixon line.

This is taken as a guide for the tactics the GOP candidate should follow when he invades Virginia and North Carolina at the end of the month and swings over as far as Texas in October.

With few exceptions, there was general agreement that Ike did himself some good on the first trip. On whether he did himself enough good to carry any southern states in November there was wide disagreement.

Turned Stone Cold

Frederick Sullens, editor of the Jackson (Miss.) Daily News, poohpoohs the whole idea that Eisenhower can carry anything in the South.

Southerners of both parties turned out in large numbers to see and hear the general, he admits. But he says "they turned stone cold when the GOP candidate, touching briefly on civil rights, declared 'All men are created equal.' And they went into a deep freeze a few days later when Eisenhower declared he would appoint a Negro to his cabinet."

Along the same line, C. P. Liter of the Baton Rouge (La.) State Times and Advocate declares, "Eisenhower faces an almost impossible fight here unless he can show he is a true friend of the South. He will have to bear down on the tidelands issue and show how it would slow efforts to improve educational opportunities and provide better salaries in all schools."

Want Ike to Get 'Tougher'

"Texas wants a fighter," says Editor Walter R. Humphrey of the Fort Worth Press. "His southern swing showed the first real indication Ike would pitch in to give corruption and extravagance issues the kind of stump treatment they deserve."

"When he comes back," adds Ed Pooley of the El Paso Herald-Post, "he should be tougher than ever and he should hammer on the mess in Washington and the bloody sacrifice in Korea."

In the opinion of Martin Andersen of the Orlando (Fla.) Morning Sentinel, Eisenhower's first southern tour "amazed" everyone. "Senator George Smathers' endorsement of Stevenson following Ike's tour brought storms of protests from his former friends and backers. Ike's second tour should stress duty to be American first and a party member second."

To this Loyal Phillips of the St. Petersburg Independent contributes this coaching "He should get more definite, and not let up on 'the mess.' He should again go for states' rights in oil and go very easy on FEPC."

Democrats Disgusted

In a careful appraisal of the southern political situation, James E. Mills of the Birmingham (Ala.) Post-Herald points out that "Many regular Democrats here are disgusted and talk of going fishing or staying home on Nov. 4. That would be small help to Eisenhower and Nixon because their only hope in the South is to win large-scale Democratic support."

"Friends of Eisenhower are on the spot here," says Jack Williams of the Waycross (Ga.) Journal-Herald. "They like him personally, but when they come to the voting booth, they'll probably be Democrats."

Quimby Melton, Jr., of the Griffin (Ga.) Daily News, however, thinks "Eisenhower will get more Georgia votes than any other Republican in history. But he should take a stronger stand against FEPC."

Sam Regan of the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer believes, "Ike will have to state a very positive program to win any great applause when he comes here later in the month."

Some See Outside Chance

"Eisenhower will get a substantial vote in North Carolina, admits Reed Sarratt of the Winston Salem Journal and Herald, "but the state is safely in the Democratic column."

"The South's traditional hospitality should not be confused with its votes," warns L. S. Hembree of the Anderson (S. C.) Independent. But George A. Buchanan of the Columbia Record thinks that if Ike were to come to South Carolina, "there is an outside chance that he might carry the state against all odds."

In Virginia, M. Carl Andrews of the Roanoke World-News repeats that "Ike must take a more definite civil rights stand to carry this state, but his chances are good. Cleavage between Virginia and Democratic National Committees is still unhealed."

Edward J. Meeman of the Memphis Press Scimitar thinks Eisenhower's first trip south exceeded the expectations of his supporters. If the general would come to the state, "there's a good chance for him to carry Tennessee," for the Republicans and other Ike supporters "are now united," he declares.

No Tidal Wave for Ike

At the other end of the state, in the TVA country, Political Editor Edward B. Smith of the Knoxville News-Sentinel reports that Eisenhower's "anti-public-power remarks at Boise and his farm parity position haven't been well received by Democrats wanting to vote Republican."

Eisenhower "scared Democratic leaders in Arkansas," says C. F. Byrns of the Southwest Times-Record. But this editor calls attention to the angle that "Most perennial Republicans in the South are Taft men, not yet very enthusiastic. Ike needs to pep them up."

Sen. Thomas R. Underwood of Kentucky, who is also editor of the Lexington Herald, belittles this further with the observation that, "General Eisenhower's southern swing has failed to upset the South politically. No tidal wave of landslide proportions is developing. In Kentucky, General Eisenhower has not yet picked up the strength that developed for Wendell Willkie."

George E. Sokolsky:
THESE DAYS

Adlai Stevenson, in reply to a question about Korea, said:

"I hope that public opinion, without reference to the period of the campaign or any other event, will continue to maintain the resolute patience and wisdom about the Korean problem which it has exhibited in the main thus far . . ."

That kind of talk is easy and inconclusive. Adlai Stevenson is, apart from being a candidate, the father of three sons, one of whom is in the armed forces. Like any other father he is, I am sure, willing that his sons should do their part in the defense of their country, but he would not like to see their years wasted. What has the prolonged truce in Korea, during which the Communists have built their strength on land and in the air, to do with the defense of the United States? And why should we be patient about the frittering away of valuable time in obvious futility?

Here is a problem that requires an honest statement of facts. The Wedemeyer Report, made in 1947 and suppressed for two years, forewarned our government that the Korean situation was in the making. Yet this report was hidden; Wedemeyer was reduced in activity so that he finally retired from the Army; nothing was done to avert the war which has lasted 27 months, cost us 120,000 casualties, including nearly 21,000 dead.

There is nothing funny about that, nor is it anything about which we need "resolute patience." Actually what is required is fixed responsibility for the errors and the deaths. We tried Germans at Nuremberg and Japanese at Tokyo who had obeyed the orders of their superiors, but we are asked to glorify those who gave the Korean War to our sons.

Further, Stevenson said:

"It is always necessary to keep clear, however, what our objectives are in the Korean intervention and not to be stampeded into a new set of objectives which might well mean heavier involvement in war in the Far East . . ."

What were and are our objectives in Korea? Adlai Stevenson does not say. In the recent full debate on the subject in the British Parliament, the impression seemed to be that our objective and the objective of the United Nations was to regain the 38th parallel and that once that target was reached, victory had been achieved.

I read all the testimony before the Russell committee dealing with the dismissal of General MacArthur. In all the two million words of that hearing, it is impossible to discover precisely what our objectives in Korea were. If they were to restore the South Korean government, then why are we still fighting there? If they were to regain the 38th parallel, then why are we still there? And what actually can be accomplished by regaining the 38th parallel? If our objective was to assert the authority of the United Nations, how is that being accomplished by what Governor Stevenson calls the stalling and double-dealing prolonged truce talks at Panmunjom?

It would be valuable if both candidates discussed the Korean question in detail, with emphasis on American objectives and with some regard for the future. It would raise the level of the current debate if emphasis were placed on an honest attempt to appraise this outstanding disaster in our history.

Thus far, both candidates have shied away from the Korean question. Stevenson's references to the subject have followed the Marshall-Acheson line which General Eisenhower finds it difficult to attack because of his former position in the Army and his personal relations with General George Marshall. But the American people, those who accept the Administration's position and those who have opposed it, have expected that this subject would be discussed with serious regard to detail in this campaign. It is their only chance to have it reviewed and debated.

Perhaps the best reason why this subject should be debated was given by Governor Stevenson himself in this same interview in U. S. News and World Report when he said:

"I am opposed to the admission of Red China into the United Nations. I do not see why this government should enlarge the sphere of operation of any other government which has waged, and is waging, war against it and against the United Nations in defiance of all that the United Nations stands for . . ."

Quite so.

'T' JONES GIVES TEXAS ITS PUNCH FOR OPENING WIN

Steers' Star Runs For Two TD's, Passes For Another

By Hugh Mulligan

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 20 (AP)—Quarterback James (T) Jones scored two touchdowns and passed for another to guide the University of Texas to a 35-14 football victory over Louisiana State University here tonight.

Fumbles killed the two big scoring threats of the first quarter. After Texas drove deep into L.S.U. territory, a backfield lateral went awry and Texas lost five yards to its 28 and was never able to make the necessary yardage. Willard Rachal sparked an L.S.U. counterdrive to the Texas 26 with a 52-yard run, but Texas' Bill Georges intercepted a fumble and cut the push short. The quarter ended scoreless.

Quarterback James (T) Jones flipped 22 yards to end Tom Stolhandske, who ran 30 more to give Texas the first touchdown of the game late in the second period. Hub Ingram's conversion kick was good. Earlier, Texas surged deep into L.S.U. territory twice, once to fumble on the eight and later to lose the ball on an unsuccessful 17-yard field goal attempt by Ingram. The half ended with Texas leading 7-0.

Texas unleashed a crushing ground attack for three touchdowns in the third quarter after L.S.U. tied the count at 7-7 on Jerry Marchand's two-yard scoring buck only 80 seconds after the intermission.

Jones broke through for 20 yards for Texas' first touchdown. Teammate Pod Price intercepted an L.S.U. fumble and returned it the 15 yards for another and Jones bucked over the third score from the one. Ingram converted three times for Texas, Cliff Stringfield once for L.S.U. The period ended with Texas leading L.S.U. 28-7.

Texas and L.S.U. each scored once in the fourth period. Right Halfback Dick Prescott crashed through from the three for L.S.U.'s second score after his team had gained a field down on the eighth. Texas linebacker Jack Barton intercepted a Stringfield pass on the L.S.U. 24 and raced down the sideline to pay dirt. Ingram converted for Texas, Stringfield for L. S. U. The game ended with a 35-14 victory for Texas.

Bulldogs Bill 2 Games This Week

The Monroe Colored High School Bulldogs, having won their first game over Little Rock, Ark., will clash with the strong Bernice eleven Monday night, at 8 o'clock at Neville Stadium. These two teams haven't met in a couple of years and will be fighting hard to overpower each other.

Head Coach Thomas and his assistants have been stressing their passing attack and also a better defense for opponents' aerial attack. Scrimmage drills have been spent with the line going through intensive blocking practice, and the backs and ends getting in trim for speed and coordination.

End E. Reed, slightly injured in the last game with the Arkansas Tigers, will probably see action if he continues to improve. If not a replacement will be made either shifting Quarterback Holman to end or McWilliam.

The Bulldogs will have rough week next week due to the fact they will journey to Alexandria to play Peabody High Friday for their first conference play giving them two games in one week.

Twin Cities Feminine Golf Gab

It has just been announced that the Northeast Louisiana Ladies' Golf Association's first tournament has been postponed. The tournament was to be held in Bastrop September 24, but has been postponed until October 22, because it is felt that there are too many golf meets being held too close together.

Minden's Ladies Golf Tournament will take place today, September 21, over the swanky 9-hole course there, and as you remember Hodge had a ladies' tourney last week. With the postponement of Bastrop's tourney the ladies will get a breathing spell and will not find it a hardship to participate in all three of these fine meets.

Six Monroe girls will journey to Minden today for their tournament and here's hoping them a bunch of luck.

Bayou DeSiard Country Club's Fourth Annual Ladies' Golf Tournament is growing by leaps and bounds. Enthusiasm is at the highest ebb and anticipation reigns for October 5 to hurry and get here. Plans and preparations have been completed and it is felt that this year's meet will be the largest and best ever. A very fast field is expected and last week announcement was made that Miss Mary Ann Villegas, Louisiana Women's state champion, of New Orleans, will be on hand, her first visit to this part of the state. Mrs. Henry Seidel, also of New Orleans, and one of the state's leading feminine golfers, has assured the Bayou DeSiard Golf Tournament committee that she will participate in the October 5 event. Other feminine golfers already entered are: Mrs. Gordon Perrin, Arkansas state champion, and 14-year old Clifford Ann Creed, young sensational clubweilder from Alexandria, along with a host of other fine shotmakers.

It is a pleasure and the local golfers are highly honored to have such a classy array of fine feminine golfers take part in tournaments in this neck of the woods.

The course at Bayou DeSiard is in excellent shape and will be open for practice rounds Wednesday through Saturday morning to all lady golfers participating in this tournament.

Ladies' Day at Muny this week saw the largest turnout of feminine golfers in some time. Seventeen club weilders of the fairer sex participated in Friday's play. Mrs. Raymond John won low net with a fine 37 and Mrs. Guy Campbell, a new member at Muny, won second place with 38. Mrs. Mike John won low putts award with only 14 putts. Mrs. Aileen Guthrie won the hole-in-one contest.

Mrs. Ed Villa was welcomed as a new Ladies' Day participant. Other participants in Friday's play were: Thelma Faust, Virginia High, Ann Brown, Sue Abington, Doris Harbuck, Dot Nash, Goldie Copes, Carol Marx, Wilma Marx, Sara Ducote, Helen Wheeler and Louise Morgan.

Mary Shamlin, of Rayville, suffering from a knee injury remained on the absent list.

Muny is planning a Scotch foursome for October 12. Plans and arrangements will be announced at a later date.

Marie Pohlman won the Ladies' Day event at McGuire Park Golf Club this week with a creditable low net of 38. Other participants in this event were Louise Eaves, Mary Irby, Cynthia Feazel, Ruth Kelso and Mrs. O. B. Moses.

This array of lady golfers show that golf is on the incline at McGuire as additional interest is being shown weekly.

A fond farewell was extended to Lawrence Crummett, assistant pro at Bayou DeSiard C. C., last Wednesday morning as Lawrence departed for Oklahoma and "Uncle Sam." Lawrence was known to be a man of few words, but Georgia Summer says that he was absolutely speechless Saturday when the feminine golfers at Bayou DeSiard C. C. presented him with a beautiful watch in token of their appreciation of Lawrence's many efforts. Mrs. Summer and Mrs. Eddie Hemphill made the presentation for the ladies.

Wednesday's Canadian Sweepstakes Tournament was won by Lorraine McMahan at Bayou DeSiard C. C. with a remarkable low net of 32. Mrs. McMahan's golf game has improved remarkably here of late and she is expected to be a "tough cookie" in the forthcoming tournaments.

Low putts award went to Lucy Upp with only 12 putts. Other players were May Beekman, Aileen Guthrie, Dot Nash, Mary Shamblin, Thelma Faust, Helen Campbell, Rosalie Fudickar, Helen Wheeler, Sara Ducote, Georgia Summer, "Rusty" Hemphill, Florence Garretson, Bernice Girault, Ruth Kelso, Louise Morgan and Betty Schonlau. Mrs. Schonlau received a big welcome to Wednesday's affair after a long absence.

On the program next Wednesday at Bayou DeSiard C. C. is a hole-in-one contest and flag tournament, so let's see all of youse gals out for this event.

Lunch will be served immediately after completion of play.

Larraine and C. B. McMahan motored to Baton Rouge last weekend to enter their son, Tom, at L. S. U. Larraine, being a golf addict, took her clubs with her and played one of the fine courses in the capital city.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to Bernice Watkins in the death of her niece, Jean Haynes.

And for the three local courses that's par for today.

ARCARO SCORES ON BATTLEFIELD

Rides 35th Stake Winner Of Year In New York 'Cap

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—Eddie Arcaro rode his 35th stake winner of the year as George D. Widener's Battlefield drove to a neck victory in the $25,000-added New York Handicap after Is Proud from Harry Isaac's Brookfield farm had won the $25,000 - added Matron at Belmont Park today.

Never worse than third in the mile and an eighth race, Battlefield moved to contention at the top of the home stretch and then hooked up with Larry MacPahil's General Staff in a head-and-head duel for more than a furlong.

Arcaro, who has now won $1,992,856 in purses this year, worked furiously with foot and whip on the 4-year-old son of War Relic-Dark Display in the drive to the wire, just edging past General Staff, ridden by Jimmy Stout, at the finish line.

Third money, a length and a quarter back, went to Putnam stable's Combat Boots. The time of 1:48 2-5 is three - fifths off the track record set last year by Counterpoint.

Rank disappointment in the race was King Ranch's To Market, the favorite. He finished sixth in the field of seven.

Second choice in the wagering, Battlefield paid $8.3, $5.90 and $4.40.

C. O. P. EASY FOE FOR CALIFORNIA

Golden Bears Maul Smalltime Rivals By 34-13 Score

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP)—California's Bears, a Pacific Conference giant displayed dazzling running today as they crushed little but stubborn College of Pacific, 34 to 13.

It was a non-conference football season opener.

C. O. P., a small school with big aerial attack with the power running of halfback Tom McCormick and fullback Art Leidscher to strike first for a touchdown midway in the opening quarter.

But the vaunted Bears, their Lenen sagging with talent, stormed backs to grab a 14 - 6 halftime lead. With Fullback Johnny Olszewski sparking the running attack, the men of Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf took a commanding 27-13 lead in the third quarter, scoring both on the ground and on the accurate arm of Quarterback Billy Mais.

Olszewski, playing his first complete game since he injured his knee in mid-season last year, broke an all time California total individual rushing mark of 1,703 yards early in the game. He did it by piling up 122 yards today for a new mark of 1,785. The old mark was set by Jackie Jensen.

Some 40,000 fans, who sat under a warm sun in Berkeley's Memorial Stadium watched Johnny O. scramble for two touchdowns in the first half.

Score by quarters;

College Pacific	6	0	7	0	—13
California	7	7	13	7	—34

College of Pacific scoring touchdowns: McCormick, Leibscher, Conversion, Decristofaro (placekicks.

California scoring: touchdowns, Olszewski 2, Bill Powell, Ellis, Larson. Conversions, Perry 4, (place kicks).

Wolf Cools Wave To Favor Injuries

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Tulane, looking forward to its opener here next Saturday against Georgia, slammed through a 30-minute scrimmage today.

Coach Raymond Wolf smiled but wouldn't comment on the session except for "they'll be as ready as they're ever going to be next Saturday."

After looking at a lengthy injury list, Wolf said he probably won't hold any more full scale scrimmages before the Georgia game.

Halfback Ronnie Kent, a top Tulane ground gainer, broke a leg in rough work this week and three other Greenies, E. J. Chauvin, freshman fullback; Ed McCool, halfback, and end Ray Price, missed practice today because of injuries.

V. P. I. Gobblers Gobble Davidson

DAVIDSON, N. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—Virginia Tech's Gobblers, sluggish in the opening half, came back with a rush to turn loose some fast stepping young backs and trim Davidson, 27-14, today in their Southern Conference football opener.

V.P.I., Davison's only victim in a nine-game schedule last year, looked like it would again bow to the Wildcats, making their first start under Coach Bill Dole. Davidson drew first blood in the first start under Coach Bill Dole. Davidson drew first blood in the first period, covering 22 yards in two plays for a touchdown after recovering a fumble on the V.P.I. 22.

The Virginians moved into a tie with 22 seconds of the first half remaining and thereafter were pretty much in control of the ball game.

Freshman Halfback Dickie Beard scored twice for the winners with sophomore Quarterback Johnny Dean and sophomore Fullback Don Welsh added the other tallies.

Score by quarters:

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today announced purchase of Pitchers Richard Verbic, 26-year-old right - hander from Des Moines of the Western League, and Joe Hatten, 34-year-old lefty, from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League.

Hatten, once a Brooklyn Dodger chattel, started the current season with the Cubs. He was shipped to the Angels and posted a 7-7 record, pitching four shut-out, striking out 79 and notching a 2.24 earned run average.

Verbic, native of Aurora, Ill., pitched 12 complete games, winning five and losing 13 for last-place Des Moines.

FLORIDA PASSES STORM STETSON

Alligators Register 33 To 6 Victory Over Hatters

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Sept. 20 (AP) — Rick Casares and Fred Robinson effectively concealed their inexperience and played like big time quarterbacks Saturday night, throwing Florida to a season-opening 33-6 victory over Stetson.

Buford Long streaked 62 yards for one score, just to prove the Florida Gators had a running attack, but most of the groundwork or the easy win was built up by the passing of Casares and Robinson.

Casares passed to End Len Balas for one touchdown and Long for another. Robinson tossed to Halfback Sam Oosterhoudt for one and Oosterhoudt rammed over for the other.

Dave Hurse, a little sophomore kicking specialist who boots barefooted, made two extra points and Casares kicked one.

Stetson got its touchdown when Herb Werner intercepted a pass from Florida's third-string quarterback, Bobby Lance, and ran 57 yards.

S. L. I. NOSES OUT LAMAR, 14 TO 13

Bulldogs Stall Techmen On 3-Yard Line At Last Minute

LAFAYETTE, La., Sept. 20 (AP) — Southwestern Louisiana Institute made a last minute goal-line stand tonight to eke out a 14-13 victory over the Lamar State of Texas here tonight.

With 45 seconds left, Lamar had a first down and needed only three yards to score. SLI stopped three straight center bucks to preserve its victory.

Both Lamar touchdowns came before SLI could get moving. The second time Lamar got the ball, the Texans marched 62 yards. Bill Lierman bucked over from the two.

In the third quarter, Lamar marched 36 yards for a touchdown, with Sammy Carpenter scoring on a one-yard buck.

SLI came back strong in the third period on a 58-yard pass from quarterback Allen Meyers to all-Gulf States conference end John Falgout. SLI opened the fourth quarter with a 21-yard pass from Meyers to Falgout.

Halfback Billy Higginbotham kicked both extra points to provide the victory margin. Lierman converted after his first score, but missed on his second try for Lamar.

Giants Lose Catcher As Sal Yvars Injures Foot

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sal Yvars, New York Giants catchers, sprained his left instep Saturday night while making a play against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The catcher stepped in front of the plate in the fourth inning to pick up a topped ball off the bat of Granny Hamner. He threw Hamner out at first and then fell to the ground in pain. He was helped off the field by teammates.

A spokeman in the Giants clubhouse said Yvars had sprained his left instep. He said the instep was not badly swollen but that precautionary X-rays would be taken tomorrow. Yvars probably will be sidelined for several days. Wes Westrum took over the catching duties for New York.

Girl Tusslers Feature Double Main Event Program At Kallio's Tuesday

Miss Waldek Faces Miss Combs; Harrell Battles Mobley

A double main event, featuring the appearance of women wrestlers for one half of the card, headlines the wrestling show at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night.

Cora Combs and Ella Waldek, girls who have never before appeared here, furnish Promoter Kallio's major attraction although rugged Henry Harrell and cagey Rex Mobley, well known ringmen in this area, promise an interesting match in the other section of the program.

Both matches, with equal billing, will have time limits of 90 minutes with two falls to win.

Harrell and Mobley were in opposite corners of a tag team brawl here last week that saw the combination of Harrell and "Sockeye" McDonald win out over the team of Mobley and "Mighty" Scott. Mobley disagreed with the outcome last Tuesday, so he gets a chance for revenge in man-to-man tactics with Harrell this trip.

The wrestling girls, according to their advanced notices, should be about equal in height and weight, leaving skill as the deciding factor in victory. Both are five-feet-five, Miss Combs weighs 138 against 148 for Miss Waldek, and the latter is three years older, 26 to 23.

Both have previous athletic ability, and Miss Combs is a former hill billy singer who was once an attraction with the "Trail Riders."

Miss Combs is a graduate of Hazard, Ky., High School (1942), where she was a guard on the basketball team, member of the girls' track team and a cheerleader. As a soprano, she turned to singing after high school, singing professionally with the "Trail Riders" out of Nashville, Tenn., for three years until she became a devout follower of Mildred Burke word's champion woman wrestler, and decided on a mat career.

Miss Waldek, a native of Custer, Wash., captained her high school basketball team and then served as an airplane checker for civil service during World War II. While working in government civil service, she captained the Bailey Bombers softball team of Spokane, Wash. She, too, became a devotee of Mildred Burke and got training from Nell Stewart, Violet Viann and June Byers to start her on the wrestling trail.

Respite from the usual wrestling shows will be offered Twin City fans Tuesday night when Cora Combs, above, ex-hill billy singer, tangles with Ella Waldek in one half of a double main event at Gus Kallio's Arena here.

AUTO RACER DIES IN TRACK CRASH

Wild Bill Schindler Is Killed At Allentown Fair

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP)—Wild Bill Schindler, 43-year-old veteran of Indianapolis Speedway and other auto racing classics, was killed today in a big car event at the Allentown Fair.

Authorities reported that Schindler, a resident of Freeport, N. Y., driving a black Offenhauser, was killed on the third lap of the second big car race. It was scheduled as an eight-lap event.

As related to police officials, Schindler was leading at the time, when a car driven by Paul Becker, of Palmyra, Pa., lost a wheel, skidded, and rammed into the fence. Becker was uninjured.

Schindler, on the third lap, apparently did not see a "go-slow" sign flashed immediately after Becker's crackup. His car hit the wheel on the track, plowed through the fence and tumbled down a 20-foot embankment.

Schindler was killed instantly.

His auto struck a concession tent at the foot of the embankment, injuring Russell Pehney, of Allentown.

Schindler had been an auto racer for more than 20 years. He was seriously injured in a race at Mineola, Long Island, several years before World War Two, and a leg was amputated.

Nebraska Steamrollers Way Over South Dakota

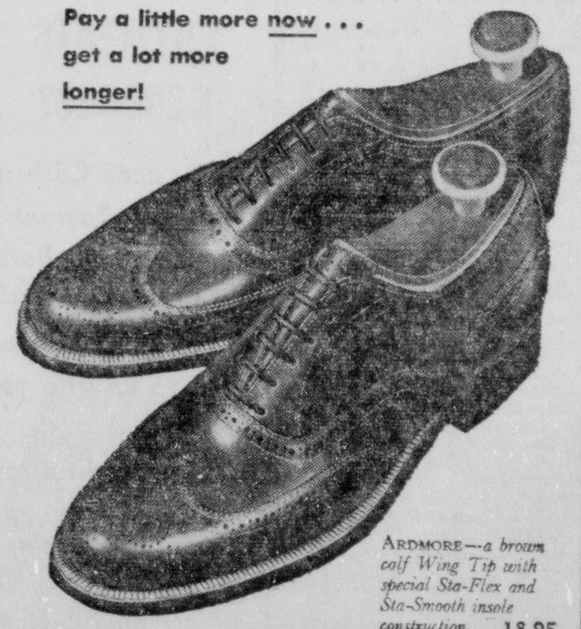

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 20 (AP)—Nebraska smashed an out-manned South Dakota team ,46-0, today as 30,000 persons got the thrill they wanted when rambling Robert Reynolds ran 50 yards for Nebraska's fifth touchdown.

Nebraska led 26-0 at the half, scoring largely by smashing through the South Dakota middle which was weakened in a defense to stop sweeps by Reynolds.

LOPAT BLANKS A'S, PROTECTS YANKEE LEAD

KELLNER LOSES PITCHING DUEL BY 2-0 MARGIN

Cleveland Smashes Detroit, 11-3, To Keep Race Hot

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Steady Eddie Lopat pitched the New York Yankees a stride nearer to their fourth straight flag today, besting Philadelphia's Alex Kellner, 2-0, in a southpaw duel as the world champions evened the vital series with the Athletics at one game apiece.

The triumph, 19th shutout turned in by a Yankee hurler this year, protected New York's first place American League margin over Cleveland.

A crowd of 34,828 sat through seven innings of scoreless pitching as Lopat and Kellner traded goose eggs until the Yanks broke through the Philadelphia lefthander for both their runs in the eighth.

Shackled with only two safeties through seven frames, both of the scratch variety, Yankee bats finally spoke in the eighth when they put together three of their five hits, two doubles and a single to decide the contest.

Ouachita, Holy Cross Losses Come As Shock To Twin-A Grid Circuit

Ruston, Sulphur Triumphs Top League's Friday Program

By The Associated Press

Sulphur repulsed everything Holy Cross offered except the crushing speed of fullback Lou Deutschmann in eking out a 28-27 victory over the highly-touted New Orleans team and staking a convincing claim as a contender for the Louisiana double-A football championship.

The swift thrusts of Deutschmann gave Holy Cross its only effective offensive weapon. The big all-state back scored twice and ran for one conversion in gaining 207 of his team's 235 rushing yards.

The most important play of the game came when Sulphur stopped Joe Delaney's attempt to run for the first Holy Cross conversion. Wayne Bourgeois made good on four straight extra point tries to give Sulphur its one-point margin.

Holy Cross was the state's fourth ranking double-A team and was picked to walk off with the New Orleans district title. Sulphur ranked sixth in the state in this week's Associated Press poll.

The game was an interdistrict contest and will not count toward the championship. Sulphur is in the southwest district and Holy Cross in the New Orleans district.

The game was one of two big upsets Friday night.

Ouachita of Monroe, the state's second ranking double-A team fell 34-7 to Ruston, the defending class A champions. Ouachita was the unanimous favorite of sports writers and broadcasters who took part in the AP's weekly poll. Halfback Charlie Barham, the son of Lt. Gov. C. E. Barham, scored all five Ruston touchdowns.

In other games, Istrouma's defending double-A champions from Baton Rouge, won their 13th straight victory 27-0 at the expense of Warren Easton of New Orleans; Fortier of New Orleans tied Picayune, Miss., 0-0; Jesuit of New Orleans beat Baton Rouge 26-6, Bogalusa downed Jennings 19-0; Byrd of Shreveport topped Classen of Oklahoma City 20-15; Bastrop beat class B Lake Providence 12-0 and Haynesville beat Magnolia, Ark., 33-6.

Holy Cross drew first blood against Sulphur with a 28 yard scoring pass from Dan French to Delaney, who failed on the fatal conversion try. Sulphur roared back with Larry King going ten yards and Wayne Bourgeois 13 yards for first period touchdowns. Deutschmann scampered around end for 70 yards for a score. Jerry Wilburn of Sulphur countered with a 42 yard jaunt and John Scofield returned a punt 83 yards for scores.

Holy Cross got back in the game with Don Carrier scoring on a one yard buck and Deutschmann on a four-yard line buck.

Barham supplied all the Ruston scoring thrust, astounding Ouachita with brilliant scoring runs of five, six, 34, 56 and 40 yards. Frank Mobley got Ouachita's touchdown on a 22 yard run.

Istrouma got two first quarter touchdowns on runs of six yards by Dick Jamison and 39 yards by Earl Castilaw. Quarterback Winton Turner passed to Tommy Bell for another first half score on a 34-yard play. With subs doing most of the last-half work, Istrouma got another touchdown in the final period. Ronnie Riley sneaked one yard for the score.

Bogalusa used three Jennings fumbles to win. Harold Cothern converted two bobbles into scores with runs of one and 20 yards. Tackle Wayne Bond recovered a fumbie in the Jennings end zone for the other.

Jesuit and Baton Rouge fought to a 6-6 halftime draw, with both touchdowns scored in the final minutes of the second quarter. Earl Rebstock ran 47 yards for the Jesuit touchdown and on the first play after the kickoff J. D. Bookman scampered 63 yards for Baton Rouge. After intermission, Jesuit was in command, with Don Trahan getting two touchdowns and Erwin Caswell the other.

Quarterback Gene Newton was the star of Byrd's victory over the Oklahoma team. He tallied on runs of five and 25 yards. Bobby Vice added the third touchdown on a two yard plunge. Classen got touchdowns on an 82 yard run by Jack Shaffer and a two yard buck by John Perkins.

Fortier had the best of everything but the score against Picayune, getting to the Mississippians once But a penalty stopped them. Picayune never threatened.

Bastrop scored in the first and third periods against Lake Providence. H. Ford ran 45 yards for one score and Jerry Henderson 22 yards for the other.

Haynesville showed unexpected power in smashing Magnolia. Tony Hartsell ran 69 yards for one touchdown, Billy Wayne Johnson 46 yards for the second, John Gardner 66 yards for the third, Hartsell 16 yards for the fourth and Donny Caraway 36 yards for the last. Magnolia scored in the third quarter on a five-yard buck by McKaimie.

Last Rites Scheduled Tomorrow For Bezdek

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 20. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Monday at Doylestown, Pa., for Hugo Bezdek, 68, one of college football's pioneer coaches and former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball team.

The son of Czechoslovakian parents died in a hospital yesterday after suffering a heart attack.

Bezdek managed Pittsburgh baseball team in 1917-18 and his steady building is credited with giving the Pirates their 1921 pennant.

A disciple of Amos Alonzo Stagg and credited with conceiving the spinner and other football innovations, Bezdek made a name for himself as coach at Penn State, Arkansas and Oregon.

MANTLE AGAIN UP FOR TESTS

Yankee Star Called For Third Army Physical Oct. 6

MIAMI, Okla., Sept. 20 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, 20-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, will be called for his third army physical examination October 6, a date that might find his club in the World Series playoffs, it was disclosed tonight.

Fred Marsh, chairman of the Ottawa county draft board, said the order came through state Selective Service Director Col. Clive E. Murray's office under what the Miami News-Record called in its Sunday edition, "The Mickey Mantle ruling."

The newspaper said it termed the ruling as such because it appeared the army regulation providing that anyone successfully treated for osteomyelitis within the past two years is eligible for army induction, was devised especially for Mantle.

The speedy center fielder has been a victim of osteomyelitis, a bone disease, for about five years. He was first treated as a high school boy here for the ailment above his left ankle.

Reporting to Oklahoma City with the Commerce, Okla., youth for the physical check will be four other Ottawa county 4-F's, including three with ailments similar to Mantle's.

Major General Hershey, national selective service director, last week said that changes must be made in service regulations next year if the armed forces are to get men they need.

Mantle, previously examined by the army at Tulsa and Fort Sill, will be 21 Oct. 20.

Almost daily treatments have been given the youngster by the New York club's physician, Dr. Sidney Gaynor, previous medical records reveal.

The doctor said Mantle wears a papier-mache guard on his left leg during all games.

New L. S. U. Player Identification System Puts Letter With Position

BY JACK HULLETT

BATON ROUGE, La.—(NEA)—Most of the comment on a new letter - number football jersey identification system launched by Louisiana State University is in the "Why didn't somebody think of that before?" category.

Fans got a look at the Bayou Bengals in new purple -on - white jerseys in their opening game last night with Texas in Baton Rouge. Near - universal approval of the idea has come from both athletic departments and the paying guests

To afford everyone an easier way to see who's - doing - what, a letter denoting the position of the player is placed in front of a number. E1 is an end, T1 a tackle, G1 a guard and C1 a center. The backfield, Q1 is a quarterback, L1 is a left half, R1 is a right half and F1 fullback.

Players on the left side of the line are given odd numbers, those on the right side even. When the observer sees a T3, he immediately knows the player is a left tackle.

He doesn't have to run furiously through a program to find that 78 is Sal Titansky, a third - string left tackle, taking enough time to miss the next couple of plays after Sal has broken through the enemy wall to throw its star left halfback for a crushing 12-yard loss. All he has to do is find the T's in his program and note that Sal is T3.

The fan has to find only one number instead of a combination of two. There are 99 of the latter, you know.

Most of the credit belongs to L. S. U. Head Coach Gaynell Tinsley and Athletic Publicity Chief Jim Corbett. They were discussing the problem of quick identification of players for the customers and press box boys.

L. S. U. had already advanced to the point that it was numbering ends in the 80s, tackles in the 7s, etc. So it was a natural step to substitute an E for an 8 and a T for a 7. The system was gorn as easily as that.

The athletic department became enthusiastic. Athletic Director Red Heard queried L. S. U.'s 1952 opponents, seeking approval. The plan is not included in the National Collegiate Athletic Association rules. There had to be a unanimous okay from everyone on the schedule.

The response was immediate and loudly affirmative. Jim Tatum of Maryland's Terrible Terrapins replied with whole - hearted approval: "It's a grand idea, so simple you wonder why it hadn't been thought of before."

SOME NUMBER—Left Halfback Jerry Marchand is pleased that Louisiana State's new letter-number system wins the approval of Co-ed Bootsie Duke. (NEA)

The experiment could be the fans' answer to the platoon system. Maybe we'll know who does what a bit more often.

It certainly seems a step in the right direction.

BASTROP'S RAY SCOUTS RIVALS

Ray And Promoters See Future Opponents In Title Bout

BASTROP ,La., Sept. 20. (Special)—Attending the fight card in New Orleans last Monday night were Norris Ray, Ray Campbell, Son Parker and Alton Hull.

Although this may sound like a current social item, it definitely is not, as Ray the outstanding Bastrop middleweight and his associates were there strictly for business purposes, attempting to land Ray a bout with the winner of the main event, in which Harvey Fallen I. K. O.'d Rocky Gatlin in a ten - rounder for the middleweight championship of the south.

Although the local fight promoters who witnessed the fight were unanimous in their opinion that Ray could lick either one, Fallen' demand for a guarantee to fight Ray in Bastrop was so large that such a bout could not be staged here. So they settled for the next best thing, a fight with Gatlin in New Orleans in a semi-final event on October 6, and if Ray gets by Gatlin, he was promised a crack at the southern middleweight champ in a main event on October 20 there.

An interesting feature of the preliminaries on the New Orleans card Friday night was the fact that both winners of the two fourrounders, Tony Lund and Lonnie Ryland, were either knocked out by the Bastrop battler personally in Bastrop, or by someone else he had knocked out. Lund was K. O.'d by Norris in Bastrop in the first round on September 15, and Ryland was T. K. O.'d by Joe Sultan on August 4, the latter knocked out by Ray in Bastrop in the first round on August 23.

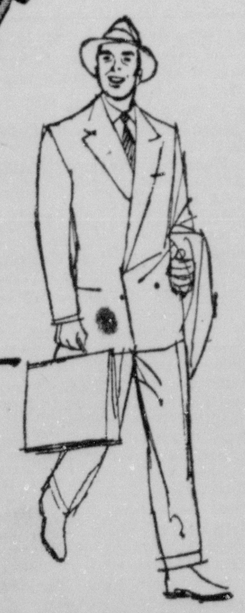

Bastrop has a potential champion in Norris Ray, and if he gets by Gatlin and Fallen in New Orleans, he will be carried east for cracks at the top contenders. It is too bad that local fight fans will be unable to see Ray in action in Bastrop but once more, but the demand for guarantees by top notch fighters to risk their reputations against him are such that it prohibits the local promoters from staging such fights.

Clarence Cook, Rays next opponent in Bastrop Monday night, stated that Ray was only a "club fighter" with a hard right, and should easily be decisioned in ten rounds. Ray's only comment in reply was "wait and see."

DODGERS FORCED TEN FRAMES TO TRIP BRAVES, 1-0

Roberts Earns 26th Win By Beating New York, 3-2

BOSTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Brooklyn's pennant-driving Dodgers, thanks to the combined and highly effective efforts of Jackie Robinson and righthander Carl Erskine, today provided Manager Charlie Dressen with a most welcome birthday present—a 10-innings 1-0 shutout over the Boston Braves.

Robinson's fourth consecutive hit against lefty Warren Spahn drove in Billy Cox with the winning run with two out in the extra frame. As a result, Robinson was credited with half of the eight hits made against the major leagues' strikeout king.

Erskine, who has been complaining about his pitching elbow for the past two weeks, was highly effective.

PHILS STUN GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Big Robin Roberts pitched his 26th victory of the season tonight for the Philadelphia Phillies, a 3 to 2 job that sent the New York Giants reeling five games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League pennant race with seven games left to play.

The Giant defeat combined with Brooklyn's 1 to 0, 10-inning verdict over Boston this afternoon, reduced the magic senior circuit pennant number to three. Any combination of three Brooklyn victories and Giant defeats would send the 1952 flag to Brooklyn. Manager Leo Durcoher's scrappy Giants need another miracle to retain their National League championship.

Roberts, the first National Leaguer to win 25 games or more since 1939, allowed only six hits, struck out three and walked one, his first pass in 27 innings of pitching.

Penn State Rally Earns 20-13 Win

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP)—Penn State came to life in the fourth quarter to score two touchdowns and defeat Temple, 20-13, before an opening day crowd of 14,000 today.

Bill Leonard's second placement kick gave the Lions a 14-13 edge until the final 25 seconds when Bob Szajna sneaked across with the clinching touchdown after Don Bailey, Penn State defensive halfback, intercepted a Temple pass and ran it 31 yards to the Owl 16.

After State took a 7-0 lead in the sluggish first half, the losers rallied to score twice in the third period to gain a temporary advantage.

JACKETS EASILY MASTER CITADEL

Georgia Tech, As Predicted, Rolls For 54-6 Victory

ATLANTA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Georgia Tech, third best team in college football, looked like an underrated club today when a fleet of footmen piled up a 54-6 score over The Citadel in weather better suited for a swimming meet.

Just as pre-season dopsters said, Tech presently is strictly a running team. The passing game is purely incidental and it was used today against the slow but willing Soldiers as a diversionary effort.

However, when Tech ordered up a pass, it usually got to the target. Sophomore Quarterback Bill Brigman did most of the throwing and directed one of the finest sets of runners in the Southeastern Conference since World War 2.

In about 12 minutes The Citadel learned to its sorrow and via the hard way, that there was no stopping Larry Ruffin, Leon Hardeman, Dick Pretz, Bill Teas and Glenn Turner.

A crowd of 18,000 watched the track meet.

It has been 16 games since Tech last lost and in that string is a victory in the Orange Bowl over Baylor.

Tech's first two touchdowns showed the one-sideness of this almost pointless game.

Ruffin went around The Citadel's left end for 32 yards for the first score. Five plays later Teas took in a punt by Paul Chapman and ran it all the way—68 yards—without a Citadel hand touching him.

Allen Bruner took the Tech kickoff and immediately dropped the ball on his 23. Tech's Ted Shuler recovered and away the Yellow Jackets went again. Hardeman banged across from the Another long run—Dick Pretz's 34-yard ramble—scored again.

The Citadel got into the scoring act against Tech third stringers late in the second quarter. Quarterback Buddy Friedlin went over from the one-foot line.

Front liners opencd the second half for Tech's 1951 co-champions of southeastern football. Defensive end Cecil Trainer slammed Chapman hard in the end zone for a safety. Hardeman scored on a 30-yard run.

Turner got his on a six-yard buck and then Tech finally scored on a pass—from Rodgers to Pretz good for 26 yards. Tech's Rodgers kicked a 19-yard field goal with less than a minute to go.

Score by quarters:

Citadel	0	6	0	0—6
Georgia Tech	28	0	9	17—54

Maryland Averts Disaster In Last Minute To Spoil Missouri's Threat

High Ranked Terrapins Fight From Behind, Win 13-10

BY ED WILKS

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 20 (AP)—Maryland's proud 12-game winning streak and national reputation rode the arm of Jack Scarbath and the churning legs of Ralph Felton to a narrow comeback 13-10 victory today over Missouri's supposedly out-classed Tigers.

It was Felton who took a pitchout from Scarbath and carried it 15 yards across the goal line early in the fourth quarter to give Maryland its first touchdown.

It was Scarbath, calmly picking his receivers under the pressure of dying seconds, who spotted Lloyd Colteryahn on Missouri's 26-yard line and opened the door for Maryland's winning score with a minute remaining. Colteryahn grabbed the pass, hesitated while Felton threw a key block that removed the only Tiger defender, and then raced into the end zone.

Except for that brilliant comeback, Maryland looked like a fallen giant. For three quarters it resembled anything but the team that was rated 1-2 among nation's football greats with Michigan State.

For three quarters the crowd of 18,000 was almost ready to believe they were to be in on the first major upset of the 1952 season. They saw fumbles dispose of a terrific Maryland first half advantage, while Missouri playing as though it had never seen the team rankings, followed along behind Quarterback Tony Scardino and Jim Hook, and Fullback Bill Roekamp, the ex-West Point cadet.

Working halfway through the second period Missouri opened up, out of a spread formation, that left five men in the center of the line and scattered five eligible pass receivers.

Scardino flipped passes to End Jim Jennings and Roekamp that carried the Tigers 35 yards to the Maryland 5. Scardino sent another pass to Jennings that skipped Maryland's Bernie Faloney into the hands of Buddy Makin. Makin turned on the three and went into touchdown. Paul Fuch's second conversion attempt was good, after Maryland was offside on the first. This gave Missouri a 7-0 lead.

With a minute remaining in the half, Fuchs shot a 13-yard field goal through the uprights and Maryland trailed by 10.

Score by quarters:

Maryland	00	0	13	—13
Missouri	0	10	0	0—10

Maryland scoring: touchdowns-Felton, Colteryahn. Conversion—Decker.

Missouri scoring: touchdown—Makin. Field goal-Fuchs. Conversion—Fuchs.

CROWVILLE WINS FROM ISLANDERS

Marion Guy Counts Two Touchdowns For Bulldogs

SICILY ISLAND, La., Sept. 20 (Special)—The Crowville High School Bulldogs, outfought in the first half, broke a scoreless deadlock with two last half touchdowns to defeat Sicily Island's Tigers, 14 to 0, here last night.

Marion Guy sliced off tackle for 30 yards and the first Crowville touchdown in the third period, and he intercepted a pass and galloped 55 yards for another TD in the final quarter. Lewis Sikes place kicked conversions.

A key block by Larry O'Brien paved the way for Guy on his pass-interception run.

The Crowville defense was more than Sicily Island could master although the Tigers were in scoring range several times. Sicily Island had three first downs to only one for Crowville during the first half.

Cecil Thurman and Carey Pearson looked impressive in the Sicily Island backfield, while Vaught, a tackle, was the best in the Bengal line.

Guy, in addition to ramrodding the Crowville offense, played a whale of a defensive game in backing his line.

KMLB To Handle Tulane's Games

Lawrence Gibbs, sports director of radio station KMLB here, yesterday announced that, as in the past several years, KMLB will again broadcast all football games played by the Tulane Green Wave.

JAYHAWKS GIG FROGS, 13 TO 0

Ex-Army Star, Gil Reich, Leads Kansas Over T. C. U.

LAWRENCE, Kas., Sept. 20 (AP)—Gil Reich, former defensive star at West Point, blossomed into a brilliant attacking quarterback today by engineering the Kansas Jayhawks to a 13-0 victory over Texas Christian University in a major intersectional football game.

Reich, a 187-pound senior from Steelton, Pa., passed for both Kansas touchdowns against the defending champion Southwest Conference Horned Frogs. He reached Halfback John Konek on a 14-yard toss in the first quarter and hit Bob Brandeberry, another half, with a 5-yarder in the final period.

About 25,000 fans turned out for the game, first on the National Collegiate Athletic Association's nationally televised program. A morning-long rain that cleared just before the kickoff left the turf in a slippery condition, but on any footing Kansas was the superior team.

It was the first time Coach Dutch Meyer's Frogs have been shut out since the Rice game of 1947—43 games ago. And Reich, one of the boys rushed out of the military academy in the cribbing scandal a year ago, was in the defensive lineup every time T. C. U. appeared dangerous.

Only in the final quarter and after the sun had cracked the heavy raincloud did the Texans show any sort of an offensive.

The Frogs, with Ray McKown doing the passing, moved once to the Kansas 6-yard line and again to the 12 where a strong Jayhawk defense slapped them back.

Yale Over Conn. By 34-13 Count

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2. (AP)—Yale, recovering from a late opening period surprise, thumped the University of Connecticut 34 to 12 Saturday in their football opener.

It was a typical inaugural with its share of exciting and dull spots and the general impression was that both squads will win more often than they lose before winter sets in. A crowd of 26,500 watched the game.

Five Yales scored a touchdown apiece, while Ed Pehota tallied both of the loser's on passes from Irv Panciera near the end of the first and final periods.

Yale scored first in the opening session, only to have the State University toss a surprise by rallying to deadlock the count. But the Uconns faded in the second period under a crushing Yale assault.

Yale plunged through the line and moved through the air in its five touchdowns onslaught. Jerry Jones, Ed Molloy and Jim Ralston registered on the ground, and Hal Woodsum and Harry Benninghoff scored on aerials.

Connecticut	7	0	0	6—13
Yale	7	14	0	13—34

Connecticut scoring: touchdowns Pehota 2. Conversions, Bettencourt.

Yale scoring: touchdowns, Jones Woodsum, Molloy, Benninghoff, Ralston. Conversions, Parcells 4.

BULLDOGS PUNCH WAY PAST VANDY

Two TD's In Last Period Break Tie, Bring Georgia Win

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 20 (AP)—Georgia punched over a couple of fourth period touchdowns today to break a tie and defeat Vanderbilt 19-7 in the opening Southeastern Conference football game of the season here.

The Georgians, throttled in the air, took a second quarter lead on a 100-yard punt return by Jimmy Campagna on a beautiful hand-off from Conrad Manisera on the goal line.

The Rochester, N. Y., sophomore streaked up the west sidelines untouched.

Vanderbilt took the opening kickoff in the second half and ground out 68 yards for the tying touchdown with Roy Duncan plunging across from the Georgia one.

Manisera, one of he game's most brilliant runners, Fullback Bob Clemens, and Halfback Bobby Dellinger battled the middle of the Vanderbilt line for consistent gains. Manisera's 23 - yard sweep and cutback at right end put the ball on the Commodore 29 in the last quarter.

Clemens and Dellinger drove to the two from where Clemens scored.

Freshman Quarterback Bill Krietemeyer, starting his first college game, was trapped and fumbled on the first play after the kickoff. Chris Filipkowski pounced on it for Georgia on the Vanderbilt 19.

Four plays later, Clemens plunged over from the four.

Score by quarters:

Georgia	0	7	0	12—19
Vanderbilt	0	0	7	0— 7

Georgia scoring: Touchdowns—Campagna, Clemens (2).

Vanderbilt scoring: Touchdowns—R. Duncan. Extra point—Foster (conversion).

It was Daly's third British P. G. A. title and the second time he had conquered Van Donck in the finals. He beat the Belgian also in 1947.

DUKE THROTTLES GENERALS, 34-0

Lutz, Sophomore Sensation, Sparks Blue Devils' Win

DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—With Quarterback Worth (A Million) Lutz experly engineering the attack, Duke scored in every period to rout Washington and Lee, 34-0, today in a Southern Conference football opener for both teams.

Lutz, a sophomore hometown boy, picked up where he left off last season as a sensational freshman. He scored one touchdown personally, passed 32 yards to End Howie Pitt for the second, and pitched out to Fullback Jack Kistler who ran 34 yards for Duke's opening score.

The longest run of the day was turned in by Duke's little safetyman Dick Sommers of Kingsport, Tenn. He gathered in a Washington and Lee punt in the fourth period and pranced 52 yards through the entire opposition to score standing.

Duke's other score came in the third period following a 92-yard drive.

After reaching the three, Duke Fullback Byrd Looper fumbled and Halfback Charlie Smith recovered in the end zone for the touchdown.

End Bill Keziah converted four of Duke's extra points with placekicks, missing on his last try.

Score by quarters:

Duke scoring: Touchdowns; Smith, Sommers, Conversions; Keziah (4).

Pep Put On Probation In Fight With Savoie

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Former featherweight champion Willie Pep will be on "probation" when he fights Armand Savoie, Canadian lightweight champion, in a 10-rounder at the Chicago Stadium Oct. 1, the Illinois state athletic commission said today.

Chairman Joe Triner said his group had been notified by the New York state athletic commission that Pep's license was revoked in New York Oct. 5, 1951, because of his unsatisfacotry fight with featherweight champ Sandy Saddler last September. The two commissions have a reciprocal pact.

"After due deliberation and review of Pep's case," Triner said, "it was decided to give him a probationary license in Illinois, to be subject to his performance against Savoie."

REDSKINS LIMIT LIONS TO 1-POINT VICTORY

SOUTHEASTERN PULLS THROUGH FOR 21-20 WIN

Plonsky, Gunter, Zappone Get Touchdowns For Tribe

HAMMOND, La.; Sept. 20(Special)—The Northeast State Indians outrushed by their opponents, the Southeastern Lions, kept fighting back yard for yard, but a missed conversion cost them the ball game.

Dropping the game to a strong and favored Southeastern squad, the Indians showed beautiful football play throughout. Halfback sprinted 84 yards off left tackle four minutes after the game began for the first touchdown. Pete Borque made the conversion.

Shortly after the beginning of the second quarter, the Indians started a drive from their own 35. Ed Plonsky, fleetfooted halfback, fairly flew around right end, chalking up 52 yards. On the next play Mark Boatright heaved an 18-yard pass that Plonsky gathered in for the few extra steps to paydirt. Boatright converted and the score was 7-7.

Later in the same period, Southeastern halfback. Welch broke loose and sprinted through the Indian line for 64 yards and the second Lion touchdown. Borque's trusty toe again provided the extra point. Before the period ended, the Indians recovered a fumble on the Southeastern 25 yard line. Quarterback Ray then heaved a 20-yard aerial to Ronald Gunter for the second Indian touchdown. Mark Boatright again converted to make the score at the half read 14-14.

In the third quarter, Southeastern recovered an Indian fumble on the latter's 40-yard line, and aided by a penalty which put them on the 25, and two hard line crashes that took them to the 12, Quarterback Doug Daniels, passed to End J. C. Stewart for the final Lion touchdown. For the third time, Pete Borque kicked the extra point, this one to eventually decide the game. The Indians took to the air, and after four beautiful passes, two tossed by Ray and two by Boatright for a total gain of 76 yards, Vincent Zappone split the middle of the line to crack over from the five. Boatright missed the placement, and the final score became 21-20.

The game was played on a wet field with rain falling throughtout the contest.

Marciano Ends Training Today

GROSSINGER, N. Y., Sept., 20 (AP) — Rocky Marciano will box two rounds tomorrow in the final workout before facing Jersey Joe Walcott Tuesday night at Philadelphia for the heavy-weight title.

"Rocky is at sharp edge now," said his manager Al Weill. "But there are one or two little moves Charley Goldman (Marciano's trainer) and I want to smooth out. Not too important, but still we like to leave nothing to chance."

He boxed two rounds today with 220-pound Al Smith, New York, who gives a good imitation of Walcott's dance-away style. He also boxed one round with light-heavyweight Tommy Harrison of Los Angeles. Marciano has boxed 97 rounds since beginning hard training on Aug. 23.

Marciano breaks camp Monday and will travel by automobile to Philadelphia. Orginally, Weill had planned to go by plane.

Andy Carey Recalled By New York Yankees

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (AP)—The New York Yankees recalled Andy Carey, a third baseman, from Syracuse of the International League today. Carey had been optioned to that club on Aug. 18 after failing to help the Bombers in their pennant drive. The 22-year-old player, a $65,000 bonus recipient two years ago, reported today.

Barber Clings To Lead In National Celebrities; Nelson Moves Up Fast

Little Jerry Holds Stroke Edge On 'Lord Byron'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Little Jerry Barber clung tenaciously to first place today in the National Celebrities Golf Tournament with a 54-hole total of 209, but Byron Nelson shot into second place at 210 with the best golf of the tournament, a 67.

Barber, a 137-pounder who is so small he looks as if he's weighted down by his golf cap, started the day with a five-stroke lead on Nelson, who was far back in ninth place.

Today Barber played steady but unspectacular golf for a one-under-par 71.

Nelson was going everything right for a 34-33, five below par.

Three other players are in a good spot to be in there at the windup of this $15,00 tournament tomorrow.

Jimmy Demaret, who had a 69 today, has 211 and third place.

Fourth is Sam Snead at 212, who three-putted the last green and wound up with a 70.

Stetson Furnishes Northeast Home Opener; Neville To Invade Rayville

Ouachita Has Open Date; LTI Visits Clarks Thursday

Northeast Louisiana States home opener with the Stetson Hatters of Florida at Brown Field here next Saturday night heads the Twin City football program for this week.

The Neville High School Tigers of Monroe will be playing at Rayville in a Class A conference game Friday night; the Ouachita Parish High School Lions will be taking an open date; the Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans visit Clarks for a Thursday encounter; and St. Matthew's High School gets its next game against St. Aloysius at Vicksburg next Sunday afternoon.

Coach James L. Malone's Northeast Indians were at Hammond last night for their season opener with the Southeastern Lions, an old rival, but the Stetson game here Saturday night will be the first contest between the two schools.

The Neville Tigers, after losing two games on the road to Bolton of Alexandria and Natchez, Miss., rebounded with a 48-0 victory over Homer here Friday night as they registered their opening victory in Class A play. The Hornets of Rayville, losers of three straight, including conference clashes with Minden and Farmerville, will be anxious for victory as well as revenge for the 13-6 defeat at the hands of Coach Bill Ruple's Tigers last year.

Neville's next home game will be with Class AA Haynesville here October 3.

Ouachita, trampled 34-7 by Ruston last Friday night, can expect nothing but hard work this week as Coach Jim Hodgins takes advantage of an open date to whip the Lions into shape for their "AA" conference opener at Bastrop October 3.

While the loss to Ruston was considered an upset in many quarters, Coach Hodgins had earlier declared "I expect this to be one of our hardest games of the season."

Then, too, Hodgins has been fighting over-confidence in the Lion camp ever since Ouachita began getting such highly-touted ratings in the "AA" race, but yesterday he was figuring "now, maybe, they (the Lions) will listen to me and stop paying so much attention to those press notices."

"You can't take anything away from Ruston's boys, however," Hodgins continued. "Coach Garret really has a fine team. Boys like Charley Barham, Pat Hinton, Layne Martin, "Red" Deloney, and Tommy Hinton were good enough for any high school team Friday night."

LOUISIANA TECH DROPS M'NEESE

Freshman Milford Andrews Scores For 6-0 Triumph

RUSTON, La., Sept. 20 (AP)—Louisiana Tech's freshmen delivered tonight to edge the more experienced McNeese State Cowboys 6-0 in the opening Gulf States Conference football game for both teams.

Tech pushed over in the fourth period with Milford Andrews, freshman quarterback, scoring from the one-yard line on his second crack at the McNeese defensive setup.

Defensive play was the highlight of the game. Tech linemen kept McNeese under control through most of the game and stopped a McNeese drive on their five-yard line.

Outstanding defensive men from McNeese were center Jack Salters and end Charles Kuehn. Strong men of the Tech defense were tackle Buster Lum and guard Billy Golden.

A fumble by Dickie Breaux of McNeese set up Tech's score. Bud McMichael recovered for Tech on the McNeese 23. Penalties set the Cowboys back to the 38. Then Andrews flipped a pass to Gayle Wise good for 12 yards.

The McNeese line held temporarily until Andrews completed another pass to end Larry Grissom for the first down.

Gordon Brown, 200-pound fullback, bucked the line for seven and then Andrews took it across. Gayle Dick's conversion attempt failed.

'Incidents' Highlight Baylor's Win Over Wake Forest

WACO, Tex., Sept. 20 (AP)—Baylors Bears fought from behind twice to tie the score then beat Wake Forest 17-14 with only 14 seconds to go today in a game marked by such unusual incidents as a player coming off the bench to take a runner and a bear charging on the field to steal an official's flag.

C. O. Brocato, the rugged Baylor linebacker, booted the field goal from the Wake Forest 11-yard line to climax a stormy football battle in which long passes and long runs kept a crowd of 16,000 in pandemonium.

It was 92 degrees, so hot the people fanned themselves in the stands and the game coincided with the weather.

Charles (Sonny) George passed for both of the Wake Forest touchdowns Francis (Cotton) Davidson long throws to set up the touchdowns for Baylor.

The incident of the bear was ludicrouous. It was one of the mascot bear cub twins—either Topsy or Turvy, no one was sure—that came on the field and grabbed up the official's flag while the crowd roared. The official had thrown it down to signal a foul against Baylor.

But the incident of the player coming off the field to tackle the runner wasn't so funny—for Wake Forest. It was Van Seawell, a substitute Deacon quarterback. Allen Jones had run around right end for 10 yards stepping out on the Baylor 19, then cutting down the side lines, not knowing he had gone out of bounds. Seawell couldn't restrain himself—he ran out and made a fine tackle. Jones hit him o the head with the ball and the fans thought he was slugging. But the officials penalized Wake Forest 15 yards.

Wake Forest scored first in the second period on a 26-yard pass from George to Jack Lewis. George kicked the extra point.

Baylor thundered back to tie the score with only three seconds left in the half.

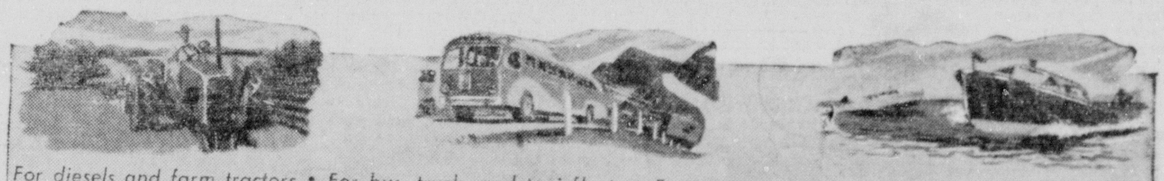

Wake Forest took the lead in the third period after recovering a fumble by Davidson on the Baylor 44. Billy Churm and George combined for the score—Churm with his runs and George with his passing. A 12-yard pass from George combined for the score—Churm with his runs and George with his passing. A 12-yard pass from George to Wesley Ledford placed the ball on the one. George plowed center for the score and again converted.

Baylor counted the next time it had the ball, rolling 63 yards. A 40-yard pass from Hooper to Charley Jones that carried to the Wake Forest 22 was the big blow. Hooper passed over the goal line to Charley Cowley. Brocato kicked the extra point to tie the score.

FOUR NEWSMEN UNCOVER FUND

PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP)—The disclosure of the Nixon fund was the result of digging by four newspapermen — one working at long range, the other three on wwrfbm b m gf bb m f g fgb mgf the scene here.

Peter Edson, NEA columnist, apparently was the first to get wind of the fund. He said he first heard rumors of its existence at the Republican convention in Chicago in July.

The other three—Leo Katcher, New York Post correspondent; Richard Donovan, Reporter magazine staffer; and Ernest Breashear, Los Angeles Daily News reporter—each stumbled on to it while making separate inquiries in recent weeks.

When each discovered the others had knowledge of the fund, they got together and jointly interviewed Dana C. Smith, the fund costodian, last Monday afternoon.

Edson, in the meanwhile, talked to Nixon Sunday night.

"He told me the basic facts and said it was all right to use them," Edson said today in Washington. Nixon gave him Smith's name to check for details.

Smith said that Edson phoned him just a few hours before the other reporters arrived.

Nixon was "perfectly willing to have the thing published," Edson said. The newsmen here said that Smith was co-operative in answering their questions.

school. To be sure some parents took up the cause of blue jeans as perfectly right and proper for girls' attire, but others registered heavy opposition.

Mrs. McClendon stated that through years of teaching experience that it has been shown that wearing of blue jeans by girls is not helpful in instilling ladylike conduct in and out of class. She said that wearing such attire often resulted in undue familiarity with the other sex and that mannish walk and mannish habits are encouraged by girls attired in blue jeans.

A year ago the faculty and student body adopted a rule against girls wearing blue jeans to school.

News has been received of the promotion in rank of Darius James Crews to major. Major Crews, with 20 years service, is now in Korea. He has served in the south Pacific and European theatres and with occupation forces in Japan.

He is son of Mrs. Blanche Crews of Monroe.

Last Thursday a Camp Polk MP officer learned that he was a captain — and had been since July 16, 1951. Captain Dalcourte Thompson of the 52nd MP company, who had been wearing a first lieutenant's bar, was notified of his promotion last week more than a year late.

A multi - decorated veteran of 71 months overseas service during World War II, he has been in the army continuously since 1936. Captured by the Japanese in April, 1942, he spent the entire remainder of the war in Japan as a prisoner of war.

He has been awarded the Silver Star, Bronze Star, Purple Heart with cluster, and the Good Conduct Medal.

Lester Clampit, U. S. A. Medical Corps, in Korea, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Clampit of Monroe, sends a little production of his own entitled "A Voice from Korea," in which he makes a request for prayer. Here it is:

"Today I sit here all alone,
In Korea far from home.
Far over the ocean wide and deep
Far from America, Land of Peace.
"As bombs burst and bullets go by
And the death angel hovers near.
Somehow I feel that Jesus is here
And there's no need to fear.
"I sometimes wonder if folks back home
Know just how well off they are
I wonder if they lift their hearts to God
And thank Him that they're not in this war.
"I think of the smoking battlefield
A place of hell and death.
It's oh, so hard to watch these lads
As they draw their very last breath.
"Dear Christian friends in the U. S. A.
Please listen to what I say
I'm a soldier at war.
So will you please
Remember me when you pray?"

CHARTER MEMBER

Mrs. Rebecca Kittril, of Wilson, Okla., only one left of the founders of the church, attended the homecoming, and the pastor Rev. H. B. Dean.

BAPTISTS ENJOY GREAT PROGRESS

Good Hope Church Holds Homecoming; Honor Last Charter Member

Good Hope Baptist Church had its "Homecoming Day" Sunday, Sept. 14th with a large crowd of members, former members and pastors present. Rev. James Green conducted both morning and evening services. Following regular morning services, dinner was served on the church grounds with plenty of food for all. In the afternoon, Eugene Smith, music director of Good Hope, conducted a singing inspiration service.

During the morning services, Rev. H. B. Dean, pastor, introduced Mrs. Rebecca Kittril, of Wilson, Okla., who is the only surviving charter member of Good Hope. Mrs. Kittril was presented a corsage of white carnations by Mrs. A. B. Grant. The pastor then asked Mrs. Kittril to tell the story of the birth of Good Hope. It is as follows:

In 1899, Good Hope was only a name and a prayer by an organized group of thirteen Baptist people being led by Mrs. R. C. White who saw the need of a church in that community. These people secured the help of Rev. Henry Bales and held their meetings under an old white oak tree. A brush arbor was erected, and served the purpose of a church until a little frame building was put up in 1900. Rev. Bales remained as pastor for only one year.

For two years they had only itinerant preachers and held services occasionally. It was 1914 before the original building was torn down and replaced by a larger one.

Through the years of struggle and much prayer, Good Hope became a half time church in 1922. Under many difficulties and adversities the church continued to grow slowly and years later became a full-time church. In 1948, a new and modern brick building was erected under the leadership of Rev. H. R. Spence.

Good Hope is located in the center of a thriving community that has a population of over 2,000 persons. It is hoped that it will continue to grow year by year, even outtripping its growth in the years that have passed.

FLYING SAUCER

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP)—Flying saucers—or their Polynesian equivalents—are old stuff to the natives of this South Pacific isle.

Stories of such aerial phenomena go back to the most ancient times, say the Polynesians.

PANELING MADE EASY

NEW YORK (AP)—Plywood wall paneling is now placed within the budget of many home owners through development of a portable electronic device that "spot welds" panels in place within a few minutes.

The device, called a Woodwelder, consists of a portable generator and a three-pound hand applicator or "gun" that transmits radio-frequency energy at 40 million cycles per second.

The transmitted radio-frequency energy is changed into heat and absorbed by the wet urea-formaldehyde adhesive used to bond plywood panels to wall framing. This causes a greatly accelerated curing or setting the glue. Formerly it required four to six hours for glued panels to set.

PUBLIC FORUM

Monroe Morning World
Monroe, La.
To The Editor:

An unjust criticism of a local doctor, a sarcastic remark about Natchez hospitality, because I live near the General Hospital where most of the girls were carried, and had a very ill sister in that institution prompts me to write these few lines so that the indignant Monroe citizens and others might get a view from the North Side of town.

And speaking of indignant citizens, those of us who had ill relatives in the General Hospital should have been the ones to have become indignant; I know because I was in the crowd just below this ill sister's window, not wanting to hamper the work of the doctors and nurses inside. I attracted her husband's attention as he stood at the window and he came and told me, while he and others were carrying the patients inside from the ambulances and nurses and friends administered them. This ill sister got out of bed and had a bed put in her room where two of the girls could be treated by nurses and friends. After a while these two girls joined the others in front of the institution to await the buses to take them home.

We her anxious relatives, were plenty worried as Friday night and Saturday the doctors were called to administer. Not being a doctor, I wouldn't say it was the reaction, but I believe it was.

An erroneous statement that Monroe had won the ball game caused the group of girls to cheer loudly, all this uncalled-for excitement on the hospital grounds directly in front of the building.

If mass hysteria is as much of a disease as food poisoning and the most of them recuperate as quickly as some of these did, I think after the recuperation it would be worthwhile for them to remember and think on the words in the hymn — others.

An article in Jackson's Daily News of Sunday quoted the high school professor of Monroe as saying 'They just got excited about the game and fainting and mass hysteria swept the group."

That same article quoted one of the group as saying "she had heard Frank Sinatra in person and he hadn't sent her as she was sent that night."

Personally, I think Natchez did a good job and I would have thanked Monroe or any other town who would have placed my loved ones in doctors' and nurses' care as quickly as they did. I would have also thanked the hundreds of Christian people who prayed the girls would be all right. In fact, I am also proud of another Natchezian, a colored woman, who stood in the crowd and said "God have mercy on those children in there."

Mrs. Marguerite D. Hancock,
713 North Pearl street,
Natchez, Miss.

P. S. Since reading Mr. R. E. Gatlin Jr.'s (of Monroe) write up of appreciation for what the Natchez people did, I feel most kindly to all the Monroe people and forgive the ones who got peeved.

To The Editor,
Dear Sir:

I hope that you will print this poem in you paper so that all the people at home can see or get the idea of what we are going through in Korea.

"Just below the Korean border,
Kamkung is the spot,
Where we are to serve out our time
In a land that God forgot;
Down with the blood and tears,
Down where a guy gets blue,
Right in the middle of nowhere
And a thousand miles from you;
We swear, we freeze and shiver
It's more than a guy can stand;
We're not supposed to be prisoners,
Just defenders of our land;
We're building up a future here,
Waiting to see our gals,
Hoping that while we're away,
They haven't married our pals;
Nobody knows we are living,
Nobody gives a damn,
We're nothing but young men,
Working for Uncle Sam;
The time we spend in service,
Is the time we have missed,
So men don't let the draft get you,
And for God's sake don't enlist;
Now after our lives are over,
And we move to place Korean well,
St. Peter will say: Pass on in boys
You've spent your time in hell."

OPS EXECUTIVES PLAN PRICING PROGRAM

Officials of the New Orleans office of price stabilization confer concerning requirements of the community food pricing program. The program to be instituted on a statewide basis, beginning Monday, September 29, calls for use of a large display poster listing between 300 and 400 price controlled food items. Left to right A. F. Roempke, district price executive; D. J. Bergeron Sr., chief of the food section, and Chester A. Usry, OPS district director. A meeting of Monroe grocers to hear an explanation of the program is scheduled at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Crystal Ball Room in the Virginia Hotel.

LOOTING HARMS ISRAEL RANKS

The Christian Science Monitor tells of looting as rampant by armed Arabs in the Israeli frontier.

The situation is described briefly as follows:

Tel Aviv, Israel: "Infiltration from Arab countries into Israel has become an increasingly disturbing factor in the Jewish state's relations with its neighbors.

"The number of armed infiltrators reaches thousands yearly, according to Israeli government estimates, and damage to property amounts to nearly a million Israeli pounds.

"During the first fortnight of July, for example, five Israeli civilians were killed by infiltrators, according to official figures of Israel's central police headquarters. The previous month the toll was five killed and three wounded—not including army losses which were not disclosed.

"The desperate situation of the 750,000 Palestinian Arab refugees, most of whom for the fifth consecutive year still camp in neighboring Arab countries close to the border of Israel, helps to create a climate favorable to large scale illegal border crossings. In addition, the refugees have little hope of being repatriated, since Israel opposes such course. Nor are these prospects for resettlement elsewhere, as the Arab governments themselves object."

Letter Describes Tour Of Bolivia

Mrs. Oscar M. Powell, niece of Mrs. George W. Montgomery of Delhi, recently wrote her aunt a letter describing a grand tour which she made of Bolivia.

Mrs. Powell's husband has been assigned as coordinator of U. S. aid to Bolivia.

The grand tour which Mrs. Powell made of Bolivia was made as a guest of the Minister of Health to familiarize himself with the health situation in various parts of the country.

Excerpts from her letter state that at each town the party visited a fiesta was held in their honor. The breakfast menu in most villages was described as beef and beer. The finale of the breakfast menus was reported to be a cow's head complete with eyelashes, ears, and chin whiskers.

Natives were described as afflicted with parasitic diseases. Most of the people live in a primitive state and the horse is the main mode of transportation.

GIRL SCOUTS TO HAVE ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER

The annual get-together of Girl Scout adults will be a coke party Thursday morning, September 25, at Bayou DeSiard Country Club, at 10:00 o'clock. Former and prospective leaders, troop committee members, mothers of girls, members of council committees and other adults interested in any part of Scouting are expected to attend. Planning the affair are Mrs. J. E. Wheeler, Mrs. Dee Strickland, Mrs. Harold Breard, and Mrs. William Roy of the local council.

According to plans made by the committee, the greater part of the hour will be devoted to opportunities for getting acquainted and for viewing the exhibits which have been planned. There will be brief talks by the chairmen of Organization, Program, and Camp committees, explaining how their work can help leaders.

"It gives all of us renewed enthusiasm to meet together like this at the beginning of fall activities. Those beginning their Scout work catch that enthusiasm from the rest of us. Let's turn out in large numbers for the get-together Thursday," invites Mrs. Roy, Council president.

Twin City P.-T. A. Council Has School Of Instruction

Many officers and committee chairmen of various units, registered at the Twin City P.-T. A. Council School of Instruction Thursday morning, with worried minds. New in P.-T. A. work, they had accepted their jobs, to do their part toward promoting the welfare of their children in the school and to bring into closer relationship the home and the school.

It all seemed quite a task until the members attended the classes conducted by more experienced workers. The comment of several newcomers was, "I wouldn't have missed it for the world, but the classes were too short." They turned toward home well informed and confident that their respective jobs would be well done.

Following classes, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. C. H. Hudson, Jr., director of Fifth District, who brought before the assembly constructive information on study groups.

There is no better way to carry out the objects of the Parent-Teacher Association than by having an active study group, or several groups. In the group discussions acute problems and controversial issues can be solved by a closer relationship of members. Under the guidance of a competent leader, teacher or principal, participants in these discussions are able to gain valuable knowledge to pass on to others, to promote better human relations and understanding.

Mrs. Stanley Hodges stressed the importance of the Evaluation Sheet, sent monthly to each unit president. To fill out the sheet monthly insures the unit of fulfilling the required goals.

Mr. Dan Caldwell urged the members to complete their Procedure Books. The Procedure Course is designed to assist officers and members by increasing their knowledge and understanding of the work of the organization. Certificates will be awarded those having completed the course satisfactorily.

For the units having ten or more members present, an attendance certificate was awarded. Three schools received certificates, namely: Mitchell, Barkdull Faulk and Lida Benton.

Schools represented by the 108 members present were: Barkdull Faulk, Central Grammer, Crosley, Georgia Tucker, Highland, Lida Benton, Millsaps, Mitchell, Lexington, Plum Street, Selman, Sherrouse, Woodlawn, Claiborne, Drew, Lenwil, Bernice, Calhoun, Columbia, Fairbanks, Farmerville, Haile, Linville, Logtown, Sterlington, Swartz, Winnsboro, Delhi and Tallulah. The Council always welcomes units outside of the Twin Cities.

Those in attendance appreciate the efforts of the president of Twin City Council, Mrs. Paul Thompson and vice president and general chairman, Mrs. Carl Thomson to conduct the school; also to the capable instructors who conducted the classes and sent so many students on their merry way, eager and enthusiastic, proud to be a part of such a worthwhile organization.

Recipes Judged In New Orleans

People in the parishes eat better than those in New Orleans if one judges by the number and types of recipes coming into the Recipe Contest for the St. Louis Cathedral Bayou Country Fair, Earl Dingeldein, chairman of the recipe contest committee said yesterday.

Recipes for such delicious foods as Molasses Custard, Sweet Potato Pudding, Creole Christmas Cakes, and numerous gumboes have been received, the chairman said. Shreveport leads, the Contest Chairman pointed out, the committee having received recipes for Nut Cake, Pound Cake, Molasses Custard, Strawberry Short Cake and numerous gumboes from that city. A lady in Monroe has sent in a New Orleans Clam Chowder recipe, from Lafayette there has come gumbo recipes. St. Martinsville is represented by Chicken and Oyster Gumbo, Chicken Fricassee and Gumbo d'Harbes which used to be called "Gumbo Zab" by the old plantation Negroes, he said.

So far New Orleanians have sent in only two recipes, one for "Creole Christmas Cakes" and another for "Plantation Potato Pie". From Goldonna, La., comes an unusual Creole beef soup recipe, the chairman said.

"These recipes are most interesting aside from the fact that they are delightful food' Mr. Dingeldein said. "They are a part of the culture of our state and can give us a picture of the elegance quite as authentic as anything in the museums."

St. Louis Cathedral Bayou Country Fair will be held Oct. 18th, 19th and 20th on the school grounds at Dauphine and St. Ann Street, New Orleans, for the benefit of the parish school. Mr. Robert E. Elliott is general chairman of the fair, Mr. Dingeldein said.

An antique show, in which various antique stores on Royal Street will exhibit particular treasures on the opening night will also be an unusual feature of the fair.

Recipes will be tried out before a committee of women judges who will select those of each category which they believe best, and prizes will be awarded according to their decision the recipe contest chairman said.

News From The Public Library

The American Heritage Reading Club, sponsored by the Ouachita Public Library during the summer months was brought to a glorious close with the party on September 6, held at the library in Monroe and attended by the children of the Monroe, West Monroe and Bookmobile branches. The children of the Carver branch were entertained at a separate party on September 1 at that branch.

The party held on September 6 was made possible only through the generosity of a group of public spirited citizens who contributed the refreshments. Although they have been thanked individually, we wish to publicly express our appreciation to The Purity Ice Cream Co., F. Strauss and Son, The Ouachita Candy Company, the Ouachita National Bank, the Bancroft Paper Company and the Monroe Ice Delivery for the refreshments. We also are deeply appreciative of the kindness of Mr. C. E. Boggs, principal of the Central Grammar School, who showed the films to entertain the children and of Griffin's Studio, who loaned us one of the films to show.

The children assembled at the library at 2:00, where Miss Flanders, the librarian, entertained them with stories until 2:30, when they were marched to the Central Grammar School, where they were shown three films. The first film depicted the activities of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. The second film was called "The Bill of Rights" and showed the basis of our American heritage of freedom. The third film was pure entertainment and was called "Here Comes the Circus."

Next, Miss Flanders presented the prizes to the six children who had done the best reading for each grade during the summer months. Prizes were donated by the children's bookshop and were lovely books, all pertaining to the American heritage. The prize for the best reader in the fourth grade went to Sharon Baxter, the daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. William S. Baxter. Sharon is a student at Georgia Tucker School. Carolyn Gallaspy, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Gallaspy of West Monroe read the best selection of books among the fifth grade group. She attends Crosley school. The best reading among sixth grade pupils was done by Edward Trevillion, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Trevillion of Fairbanks. Eddie is a student at Fairbanks School. The best reader representing the 7th grade group was David Beale, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Beale. David finished at Georgia Tucker in the spring and entered Neville High School as a member of the junior high group this fall. The 8th grade prize also went to a student of the junior high school department at Neville, Sally Hinkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hinkle. The best reading done by a high school student was the project of Gerry Lynn Lester, who is a freshman at Ouachita Parish High School. Gerry Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lester of West Monroe. An interesting feature of the prizes is that two of them were won by patrons of the West Monroe branch, three by patrons of the Monroe branch and one by a Bookmobile patron.

After the awarding of the prizes the children marched back to the library where the refreshment tables were set up in the back garden. Here they were served ice cream, cookies, snow cones and as favors, were given Mexican jumping beans. Miss Flanders was assisted in this entertainment by three members of the board of control: Mrs. C. M. Strauss, Mrs. A. G. McHenry and Miss Carrie Dee Drew; by members of the library staff, Mrs. J. B. Landreaux, Mrs. William Wilson, Miss Adine Wheeler, Mrs. Carol Riddle, Miss Marie Powers, Miss Llewellyn Adams, Miss Alice O'Kelly, Mrs. D. C. Brothers, Mrs. Grace O'Dell, and friends, Mrs. Mary Peavy, Mrs. Louise Shelton, Miss Margaret Ann Tatum, Miss Lela Bess Kite, Miss Harriett Boyle and Mrs. Harry Lemert.

526 children earned certificates this summer. That meant that they read a minimum of 15 books and if they were above the 3rd grade five of these books had to pertain to the history of our country. Of this number 212 were Bookmobile patrons, 188 were Monroe patrons, 90 were West Monroe patrons and 72 were patrons of Carver. Although the children were required to read only 15 books, they averaged 25 books per person. The certificates have been made out and will be distributed at the schools in the near future.

Following is a list of the children who earned certificates as members of the American Heritage Reading Club this summer:

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At First Baptist Church Of Haynesville

The First Baptist Church of Haynesville was the setting for the marriage of Miss Bettye Ode Acklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James David Acklin, Sr., of Haynesville, and Lory Mayfield Frey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lory Mayfield Frey, Sr., of this city, which was solemnized Sunday, September 7, at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Burning tapers in white wrought-iron candelabras cast a soft glow over the wedding party gathered at the chancel, which was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli interspersed with autumn leaves against a background of emerald foliage. Bows of white satin ribbon marked the pews of the families of the bridal couple.

The Rev. W. D. Milton officated at the impressive double-ring ceremony.

Mr. Willard Burnham, at the organ rendered a program of nuptial music including "Lieberstraum," "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "Clair de Lune." Miss Mitzi Loew sang "Through the Years" and "Because" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" following the ceremony. The "Wedding March" by Lohengrin and the "Recessional" by Mendelsohn marked the beginning and the close of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a traditional gown of antique ivory satin and Chantilly lace. The princess bodice buttoned down the front with self-covered buttons and featured a winged collar and long sleeves coming to lace points over the hands. The full skirt erded in a chapel train. Her double-tiered veil of tulle fell from a Juliet cap decorated with seed pearls and crystal beads. Her bouquet was a shower arrangement of stephanotis and white roses tied with white satin ribbon and maline.

Miss Ann Breed, maid of honor, wore a burgundy satin dress featuring a six-gored skirt gathered all around the fitted bodice which was designed with shaped flanges and wide folded straps. She carried a cascade bouquet of bronze mums.

The bridesmaids' dresses were styled identically to that of the maid of honor. Mrs. Miller Frey and Mrs. Willard Burnham wore deep green. Miss Frances Jean Talley wore gold. Their flowers were bronze mums.

Miss Dianne Miller, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. Her gown of blush satin was floor length and fashioned with a lace collar and lace inserts in the top of puff sleeves and tied in back with a large bow. White pompon mums were used on her halo and in her maline basket.

Mr. Lory Mayfield, Frey Sr. served his son as best man. Ring bearer was William R. Miller, Jr. The candles were lighted by Fred Bennet, Jr. and Jerry Frey. Ushers were James D. Acklin, Jr. and Miller Frey.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Acklin chose a dress of royal blue crepe, with black accessories complemented by a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Frey, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of mauve chiffon and Chantilly lace with matching accessories. White roses were worn at her shoulder.

Reception

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Banquet hall of the church.

The bride's table was laid with an Italian cutwork cloth and held the tiered wedding confection and punch service. The bride's bouquet formed the centerpiece and was flanked by tall white tapers in crystal holders. Arrangements of white flowers and autumn leaves were placed at points of vantage. Mrs. J. G. Rankin and Mrs. C. B. Miller presided at the punch bowl and cake service.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. W. F. Jones, Mrs. Sam Sale, Misses Betsy Crothers and Merle Wallace. Miss Mollie Olive invited the guests to sign the brides' book and Miss Ina Clair Atkins played a medly of love songs.

After the reception the bridal couple left on their wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark. For traveling the bride wore a magnolia white faille suit trimmed in black velvet. Her accessories were black and her corsage was a red glamellia.

Upon their return they will be at home in Columbia, Mo.

Four-H Girls Bring State Honors To Ouachita

Doris Burnett of Ouachita Parish High School 4-H Club won first place in the state in gardening. This entitles the young lady to a trip to National Club Congress in Chicago in December. We're keeping our fingers crossed hoping for even more state winners. Mrs. Audrey Dawson, who works with these girls in our parish, left for Baton Rouge Friday. Accompanying her were Patsy Ruth Johnson from O. P. H. S. Club to compete for first place with her school costume; and Elaine and Cherry Butler from Calhoun 4-H Club who placed in the semi-finals with their demonstration on closet arrangement. We'll let you know next Sunday the results of these two contests. While Mr. Slade Brown and his fine committee bring industry to Ouachita, our 4-H young people will bring state and national honor.

By the way — how does Slade find enough hours in the day to do all the civic work he carries on for our community? We might all take example and do a little more volunteering. Miss Juanita Porter needs workers for the Community Chest drive. Why not call and offer your services?

Tailoring Classes

For those who have been inquiring about the tailoring classes — here are the dates: January 26, 27, 28, 29, 30. This will be in time for you to make your spring suit or coat. Mr. L. L. Price and Miss Frances Kelso have again invited us to use their well-equipped home economics department during midterm. Along the first of January we'll have a meeting to discuss materials and patterns. This is one of the classes I'll need to know the exact number who will take. You can start enrolling now. Call 3-2251 and ask for me. If I'm not in just give your name to the secretary.

Did You Know?

The weather man says we'll have another thirty days of heat and drouth. If you've bought or made a winter cotton you'll really be dressed for the weather. Have you noticed that so many of the dress collars stand up in the back? In order to get that effect you use a "zig-zag" that you buy at the notion counters. These are made of wire that zig-zags and they come in black and white. You make a case for the gadget just like they make on men's shirt collars, so it can slide out when the dress is washed or dry cleaned. Of course, to get the halo effect the collar will need to be interfaced. Several rows of up and down stitching holding the interfacing to the under collar will help give body, too. Those who were in the tailoring classes will remember how this is done.

I've just finished a winter cotton and the material is so easy to work on. It's firm and holds a crease nicely. It's a little tough in texture and hard to put pins through — but not too much so.

The cotton suits in the downtown stores are moderately priced and very beautiful. They're tailored and lined just like the woolens. Our good old southern cotton is at last coming into its own.

Foods in the News

Stewing chickens continue to be plentiful. According to USDA there will be plenty of pecans for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Texas has a bumper crop. The drouth has cut the Louisiana crop extensively. Apples start their seasonal trip to Ouachita fruit bins. Concentrated orange juice and grapes continue in plentiful supply.

Around the Garden

I hope by next Sunday I can give you the dates of the landscape school in October. I'm still waiting on the men from Baton Rouge to confirm the dates. We women spend most of our lives waiting on or for men, don't we?

We've had some difference of opinion as to whether the olive tree in Lucy Knapp's yard is an olive. Mrs. Dona Ferguson and several others say it's a Chinese date.

The heat and drouth continue. There's not much you can do until we get some heavy rains. Certainly don't do any planting yet. I can tell you that there's a liquid fertilizer in your seed stores and nurseries made especially for vegetable gardens, shrubs and flowers. The weather man says we'll have thirty days more of this heat and dry weather, so just plan what you'll do later.

It's sine off time. See you next Sunday in this same column.

P. S. You men better take your hats to work with you. The girls in the millinery class made some mighty classy numbers out of men's hats.

Miss Winifred Ann Hopson Is Bride Of Myron Edwards

Saint Francis Cathedral In Santa Fe, New Mexico Is Setting For Ceremony

One of the loveliest summer werrings was held Friday, August 22 amid the traditional beauty of candlelight and flowers when Miss Winifred Ann Hopson, only child of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hopson, of Santa Fe, New Mexico, became the bride of Myron Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Edwards of San Diego, Calif.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Remigius Austing, O. F. M. at St. Francis Cathedral sacristy at 2 p.m. Palms and cathedral tapers in large candelabra were on the altar while two standing baskets of white gladioli, carnations and calla lilies flanked it. The candles were lighted by Misses Direen and Mary Helen Davies, two of the bride's cousins, wearing blue nylon net formals and light pink carnations in wrist corsages. As they officiated, Miss Katherine Gutierrez, former schoolmate of the bride, played the wedding music at the organ and Miss Nancy Overfelt sang. The musical program was climaxed with the traditional marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white nylon net and Chantilly lace. The lace outlined the illusion neckline with its Peter Pan collar. It formed the bodice and long buttoned sleeves and ended in a peplum dipping slightly longer in back to repeat the pattern of the very full net skirt with its short train. Her flowers were white gloriosa orchids and stephanotis arranged on a white prayer book. The traditional items in a bride's costumes were included, such as the lace handkerchief borrowed from Mrs. Leo Murphy who had carried it in her own wedding.

The two maids of honor, Misses Carolyn Muir of Redlands, Calif., and Kay Bentley, and the bridesmaids, Misses Marje Hester and Mary Chauvenet, wore gowns identically made in powder blue, orchid, yellow and bisque colors. Of nylon net, the skirts were full beneath fitted bodices trimmed with petals of the lace. Matching net stoles were worn over their shoulders. Their flowers were fashioned as glamelias, two carrying pink carnations, two peach-colored ones, the petals massed into one large flower within wide satin ribbons.

Don Livingston of Pomona, Calif. was best man and the ushers were Zane Goodwin, Philip Wilson and Lewis Smith.

Sharon Davies, another young cousin of the bride, was the flower girl in floor-length gown of white organdy made bouffant style with pale green satin ribbon sash. She scattered rose petals from a basket tied with peach satin ribbons, and a peach-colored carnation wristlet was on her arm.

Mrs. Hopson, the bride's mother, wore a navy blue taffeta suit with blue lace over flesh-colored illusion trimming the bodice. Her hat and accessories were pink and her corsage of light cream glads rimmed in pale pink.

Mrs. E. P. Davies, grandmother of the bride, chose plum and her corsage was made of orchid-colored glads.

Mrs. Edwards, mother of the bridegroom, wore a royal blue gown with black accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the wedding reception was held at the Santa Fe Country Club to which hundreds of guests were invited. The bride's table angled from the fireplace to the south window, set between large standing baskets filled with white flowers. Gardenias and smilax encircled the tiered wedding cake which was ornamented with roses and wedding bells. White bridal bows were tied at each corner of the table. The punch table was set at the opposite end of the room.

Assisting at the reception were a group fo young matrons, all formally gowned and wearing wristlets of white carnations. They were Mrs. Abe Silver, Marianne Pflueger, Mrs. Joe Aaron, Mrs. Ronald Rushing of Lubbock, Tex. and Mrs. Fred de Castro.

A number of out-of-town guests attended the wedding.

For their wedding trip to the Grand Canyon and Flamingo in Las Vegas, Nev., the bride was wearing a navy blue suit flecked with rust, its trim being of hercules braid. A natural silk blouse, navy blue accessories and small felt hat with veil completed her ensemble. Upon their return they will be at home at 1043 Fourth Ave. Santa Monica.

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP)—A back-to-school traffic safety drive was put on with such zeal that the police chief got caught in it. Chief Norman Richards issued a ticket on himself and paid $7 for parking his police cruiser overtime.

First Methodist Church Of Bastrop Is Setting For Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

A wedding of beauty and charming simplicity was solemnized at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening September 3rd at the First Methodist Church of Bastrop when Miss Sarah Jane Wadsworth became the bride of John Davis McAdams of Mer Rouge, son of Mrs. John Davis McAdams and the late John Davis McAdams.

The Rev. Jack Midyett of the First Methodist Church officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Myrtis Fortenberry, church organist, rendered a program of nuptial music, and accompanied Mrs. Clair Clark of Mer Rouge as she sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg and "The Lord's Prayer" by D. Harlott. The candles were lighted by John Eldridge Jr. and Martin Rodgers.

The wedding party entered to the strains of the traditional processional by Wagner.

Mrs. Louis Brodnax served the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Gay McAdams, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Martha Ann Ludlum. Their dresses were of cotillion blue satin, the floor length skirts had a full overlayer of blue nylon net. The bodices were halter style and satin jackets with full three-quarter length sleeves sheered at the elbow. Their head dresses and bouquets were of feathered carnations and King Asters in shades of pink. The deepest pink was picked up in the matron of honor's flowers which deepened in her bouquet and headdress to rose.

The bride given in marriage by her father was a radiant figure in a floor length imported candlelight Chantilly lace, over a double skirt of silk net and bridal satin with two tiers of pleated ruffles around the bottom. Designed by Emily, fashioned with a curved moulded bodice over satin. The lace in the bride's dress was emboridered with paillettes around off the shoulder neckline and appliqued on sheer net yoke. Tiny covered buttons closed the back and the long Chantilly lace sleeves came to points over her hands and were fastened with tiny satin covered buttons. Her veil of finger tip length was of imported illusion and fell gracefully from a Chantilly lace Juliet cap covered with tiny seed pearls.

The brides' airy bouquet was the essence of daintiness and beauty designed of lilies of the valley and tuberoses and centered with a pure white orchid. Tufts of maline and bows of shower ribbon tied with love knots and descending into short streamers formed the background. Foliage petals from lily of valley was effectively intermingled and enhanced the arrangement with a note of color.

Candles glowed at each end of the chancel rail and in the graduated candelabra placed at the back of the church. Huckleberry foliage arranged along the chancel rail and used on the candelabra created a background for majestic bouquets of white specimen chrysanthemums and pom pom mums. The pews were marked with white satin ribbons and silver bells.

For her daughters' wedding Mrs. Wadsworth was wearing a Rosemont oyster white lace dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of blue tuberoses centered with pink glamelia and tied with harmonizing bow. The mother of the groom was wearing a natural lace with brown accessories and bronze chrysanthemum corsage.

Mr. Louis Brodnax served the groom as best man. Ushers were Martin Rodgers, Paul Pomeroy, John Eldridge, Jr., and Thomas Mac Higginbotham. The male members of the wedding party were wearing summer tux.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception held in the church parlor.

The guest book was presided over by Mrs. John Lane Norsworthy. The brides' table was overlaid with an exquisite lace cloth. A crystal bowl held the center arrangement of majestic white mums and poms from which clematis trailed in all directions and around the crystal candelabra that flanked each side and held the tall glowing tapers. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with white roses and green leaves, topped with miniature bride and groom.

The cake stood on a reflector encircled with a frill of maline. Mrs. Johnnie Eldridge, aunt of the groom, cut the cake, assisted by Mrs. T. C. Railsback of Pine Bluff, Ark. The opposite end of the table was graced by a cut glass punch bowl at which Mr. Janie Hanks and Miss Emrey Liles presided. The tea girls were Mrs. Duke Shackleford, Mrs. Ben Tipton, Mrs. Victor Perry. Those assisting with the reception were Mrs. Allen W. Pomeroy, Mrs. Martha Ludlum, Mrs. W. W. Storment, Mrs. W. C. Corley, Mrs. J. W. Berry, Mrs. Minza Raburn, Mrs. S. E. Cathey and Mrs. Howard Templeton.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. McAdams left on their honeymoon trip to Lookout Mountain, Tenn. and through the Great Smoky Mountains. She was wearing a navy faille suit, navy accessories and a small white pan velvet hat, white gloves and the white orchid from her bouquet completed her ensemble. On their return the young couple will be at home in Mer Rouge, La.

The program will open on September 22 with a lecture by an old favorite of the chapter's, Dr. H. J. Sachs, department of English and foreign languages, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, La. His topic is, "The Time is Now." Because of Dr. Sachs' interest in and vast knowledge of world affairs he is in great demand as a speaker and has appeared before many civic groups in north Louisiana.

The date of October 13 will be filled by Mr. J. V. Spatafora, who will speak on "Old Masters and New Art." He received his BAA from Kansas City Art Institute; also degrees from Ouachita University and Kansas City University. Mr. Spatafora owns and operates the Art Shop, Louisville Avenue, Monroe; and his hobbies are painting and sculpture.

Mr. Stocker Fontelieu will be the speaker on January 12. He has been director of Monroe's Little Theatre for the past three years and is a graduate of both the New Orleans Academy and Tulane University.

On February 9 there will be a lecture by Dr. Katherine Mickel Foster, using as her subject "Formula for Fitness." Dr. Foster received her degree from Louisiana State University Medical School in 1947 and her internship from Charity Hospital, New Orleans, La. In addition to her medical practice, her offices being located in West Monroe, she is interested in many of the twin city civic organizations; particularly, Y. W. C. A., the public schools, and Girl Scouts before whom she has appeared for lectures. Her spare time is spent in raising rare orchids which are often on public display.

On March 9 Dr. Harry N. Holmes of Houston has a return engagement, having proved himself very popular with the members last season. He has selected as his topic, "Venture Into Enlightenment." Dr. Holmes is a pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church in Houston. He is vitally interested in inter-racial problems with which we are confronted today, and his talk will be along these lines.

Mrs. J. D. Durrett, in her first appearance before Sigma chapter, will give the group one of her excellent book reviews on April 13. She is an active member of book clubs and participates in many civic affairs such as Red Cross and Community Chest drives. Mrs. Durrett is a graduate of Newcomb.

Local Artists Display Works At Art Exhibit

Artists To Meet Today At Art Shop To Plan Show During National Art Week

Sunday afternoon the artists of Northeast Louisiana held their first seasonal exhibit. More than one hundred and twenty works were displayed from two until six p. m.

The large attendance, drawn from a radius of some fifty miles, was estimated in the hundreds. This makes the greatest reception to a local art exhibition yet featured in the Twin Cities. But also of unusual interest were the many types of paintings shown and the remarkable versatility of professional and amateur talent which sprang into view with such unexpected profusion.

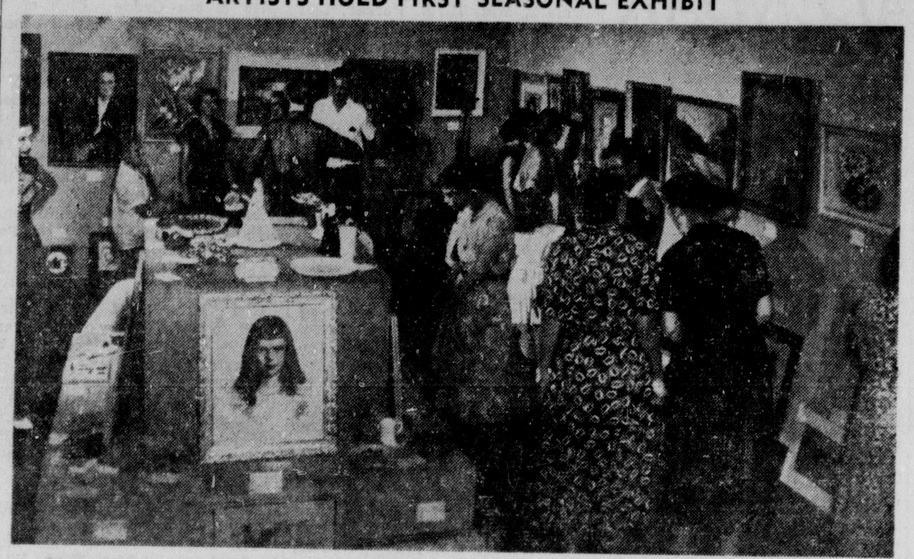

From Oak Grove, Mer Rouge, Farmerville, Ruston and a number of other neighboring towns, not to mention Monroe and West Monroe, came a flux of paintings bordering so closely to the professional artist that a separation of the amateur and the professional was hardly discernable. There were many intriguing abstractions as well as beautiful renderings of realism and impressionism. There were pastels, oils, charcoal, watercolor, etchings, woodcuts, and even showing of local ceramics.

Students, children, amateur, and professionals were all represented with their varying works of art. It was an exhilarating surprise that such an appreciation existed in this area.

Among the artists exhibiting were: Sim S. Black, Allen Trousdale, Larce M. Holder, Jr., Sally Feazel, Mary B. Dalton, Leita Mae King, Vincent Marsala, Grady Bagwell, Harry Durgin, Wynn Jefferson, Maud Mayo, Harry B. Graham, Elise Tugwell, Mrs. C. C. McCarty, Willard Carpenter, Tommye Sue Sartor, Bess James, Willie Otis Davis, Donald R. Wills, Jack Beard, John Douglas, Billy Hargiss, Hazel Smith, Charles Copeland, J. V. Spatafora, Katherine Magruder, J. S. Washburn, Mrs. R. H. Grant, Mildred Pott, Mrs. Roy L. Fisher, Carrie Evelyn Smith, Mrs. W. P. Harrison, Jr., Louise Lesler, Ivy Oliver, Tina Moses, Marie Wamsley, Floyd Southwell, Mrs. Grace Kurby, Bess James, Bob Ambrose, Authur Griffith.

The exhibition terminated with an informal gathering of the artists who then decided to meet again Sunday, the 21st of September, at four p. m. at the Art Shop to discuss organizational plans for a future exhibit during National Art Week in the first or second week of November. All artists are invited to attend and offer suggestions that might benefit the furtherance of art in Northeast Louisiana.

ARTISTS HOLD FIRST SEASONAL EXHIBIT

More than one hundred and twenty works of artists of Northeast Louisiana were placed on exhibit at the Art Shop Sunday. Pastels, oils, charcoals, watercolors, etchings, woodcuts and ceramics were placed on exhibit by artists from the Twin Cities and surrounding areas.

Girl Scout News

Quite a number of Twin City residents sleepily answered a telephone ring at 7:00 or thereabouts Wednesday morning to find the cheerful voice of a Boy or Girl Scout at the other end of the line. These boys and girls were reminding workers in the Community Chest campaign of the kick-off breakfast that morning and offering to accompany them to the meeting. It was a novel idea and a last-minute surprise to the grown-ups involved.

Some sixty girls showed up for the briefing on Tuesday afternoon with Mr. Scotten, when they chose names from the list of workers. Many were disappointed to find that the grown - up question was out of town or had not planned to attend. To be exact, thirty-seven girls, either with or without a grown-up in tow attended the breakfast.

Certainly the workers were aware, as perhaps never before, of two of the Community Chest Agencies and the girls got a peek into what makes the wheels go round. Afterward, they went to school proudly wearing a red feather and feeling that they had participated in some small way in the work of their Community Chest.

Troops represented were 10, 11, 16, 27, 28, and 39. Mrs. O. M. Fletchers Mrs. Barry Yeldell, Mrs. A. W. Lewis, Mrs. G. E. Boggs, Mrs. Fred Amman, Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. Seymour Solomon, Mrs. W. H. Webster, Mrs. Paul Blackmon, Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, and Mrs. Leon Noland were the mothers and leaders who made it possible for the girls to get to both meetings. Couldn't do without our good friends!

To be seen in the crowd were two proud papas. William Johnson and George Fink, with teenage daughters June and Cheryl. Nancy Breard looked the typical Girl Scout as she sat at the head table with Mr. James, the speaker for the occasion. Likewise at the table were Sandra Lea with Mr. McAdams, who presided, and Clair Solomon with the Community Chest president, Mr. Flood Madison, Jr.

Work of the organization goes on apace. Reports this week of Brownie troops at Lexington and Georgia Tucker and intermediate at Ouachita Grammar School and Highland. It is the hope of the organization committee that all of the troops that are left from last year and many of the new ones will have one or more meetings before October 1.

A hearty welcome to all the new adults in Scouting! We hope your experiences will be as satisfying to you as ours has been through the years. There's something about this Scouting business that gets under your skin and becomes a part of you - no doubt about it.

As a welcome to new workers and a chance for the rest of us to get together, the Girl Scout Council is inviting all present, past and future workers, newcomers, mothers of Scouts or would-be Scouts to the annual adult get-together Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock at Bayou DeSiard Country Club. The affair will be an informal coke hour with a chance to chat and look at exhibits, a chance to hear from committee chairmen and to have a say-so in program planning. It's going to be a nice affair. Let's all make note of the day and time and try to come. See you Thursday.

Miss Betty Maricella Is Bride Of James Gaddy

Bridal Couple Exchange Nuptial Vows At First Baptist Church Of Gibsland

The First Baptist Churchof Gibsland was the scene, Sunday September 7th., at 4:00 P. M., of the marriage ceremony of Miss Betty Maricella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Maricella of Gibsland, and Mr. James Gaddy, son of Mr. L. I. Gaddy of Little Rock and Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Gaddy of Springhill.

Rev. W. H. Conner officiated at the double-ring ceremony, which was performed before an altar gracefully decorated with baskets of fan shaped arrangements of white gladiola and asters against a background of magnolia and trailing ivy illuminated by white tapers held in wrought iron candelabra.

Mr. Frank Merritt, at the organ, played a medley of prenuptial music which included "Through the Years," "Song of Love," "I Love You Truly," and "Because." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional. "For You" and "O Promise Me" were played while the tapers were lighted by Miss Clara Munholland and Miss Maurine Linquist of Monroe. They wore dresses of pale green lace.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. The tiny collar was fastened with a brooch of her mother's as the "something old" of tradition. The long sleeves ended in lily points over her hands. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a satin coronet outlined with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a purple throated white orchid from which fell streamers of satin ribbon with orange blossoms.

"To An Evening Star" was softly played while the vows were being spoken. "The Lord's Prayer" was heard at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Miss Peggy Frantom, of Monroe, was maid of honor and wore a violet lace gown with a bouffant ballerina length skirt. The bride's maids were Miss Pat Wadley of Winnsboro, Miss Elizabeth Rush of Ruston, Miss Beverly Stovall and Miss Janice Dennis of Jonesboro. They wore identical gowns of orchid lace, and each carried an old fashioned bouquet of violet and orchid asters.

Mr. Gaddy served his son as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Jack G. Courtney of Caspiana, Mr. Lester Lander of Greenwood, Mr. Jack H. Pope of Springhill, and Mr. Joe B. Hanson of Homer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Maricella wore a green crepe dress with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Gaddy wore dusty rose faille, with a baby orchid corsage.

A reception was held, following the wedding, in the church recreation parlor. Flowers and greenery were placed at vantage points. The bride's attendants placed their bouquets on the bride's table and register. Mrs. H. C. Fleming greeted the guests at the door. Receiving with the bride and groom were their parents and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was covered with a cut work linen cloth. It was centered with a beautiful wedding cake, and adorned with the bride's bouquet. Mrs. Joe B. Hamiter of New Orleans, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. F. A. Coleman of Gibsland presided at the cake and Mrs. W. M. Blackman of Shreveport and Mrs. Jack Courtney of Caspiana, also aunts of the bride, served the frosted punch.

Others assisting in the courtesies were Miss Betty Jo Roach, of Monroe, at the bride's book; Mrs. C. L. Dillingham, of Monroe, at the piano during the reception; Mrs. Ralph Hodge, Mrs. R. P. Thomas, Mrs. D. W. Sutton, Miss Joan Key, Mrs. Louise Moore, all of Gibsland, and Miss Gloria Jean Shell of Arcadia.

For her wedding trip, Mrs. Gaddy chose a blonde faille fitted suit trimmed with black velvet. The orchid from her bouquet completed her costume. Her accessories were of black velvet.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blackman and son, Bill of Shreveport, Judge and Mrs. Joe B. Hamiter of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Courtney and sons, Jack and Donald of Caspiana, Miss Margaret Dalton, Mr. Richard Kavanaugh, Mr. Dan Hardy, Mr. Bill Randolph, all of Shreveport, Mr. R. H. Courtney, Mrs. W. F. Bozeman of Oil City, Mrs. John I. Gaddy and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin F. Powell of Little Rock, Mrs. R. L. Frantom, Mrs. J. D. Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Munholland, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Linquist, Miss Anita O'Kelly, Miss Jane Tidwell, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dillingham, all of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stovall, Mrs. T. G. Dennis, Miss Jo Ann Durham, of Jonesboro, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rush of Ruston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor and daughter, Martha of Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Williamson, and son, Page, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Diehl and Diana Diehl, Miss Vona Dunn, Mrs. Abbye Freeland and son, Larry, Miss Evelyn Krouse, Mrs. Velma Sehon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stewart, and Mr. John Alley, all of Springhill, Mrs. Harvey Parnell of Halley, Ark. and Mrs. J. W. Perry of Perryville.

Rehearsal Supper

On Saturday evening, September 6th, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fleming, with Mrs. Glen Fleming as co-hostess, entertained the Maricella-Gaddy wedding party with a rehearsal supper in their home. The colors of orchid and purple were carried out in flowers placed at vantage points throughout the living and dining rooms. Mrs. Charles McCullin of Oak Ridge, and Miss Diann Fleming assisted with the courtesies of the evening.

The prospective bride chose this occasion to present her attendants with gifts of pearl necklaces for the bridesmaids, and a silver ash tray for the maid of honor.

The groom also presented gifts to the ushers.

The Skillet Club

By UNCLE FRANK KOHLER
(Chief Skilleteer)

Jugged Chicken, Dumplings Are A Skilleteer's Delight

To rest up after last week's East Indian orgy, we dip into the family archives today for a good old - fashioned standby. We have altered the seasoning fromula a bit, but here is how we make Skillet Club jugged chicken and dumplings:

Oispoint a year - old hen as for frying. Place about ½ cup flour in a paper bag, add 2 teaspoons salt and ½ teaspoon pepper. Shake the chicken in this, a few pieces at a time, which is a fine way to coat the bird completely with flour. Place the pieces in a covered vessel — a casserole or bean pot — pour boiling water over to cover, then bake in a slow over, 275 degrees, for about 3½ hours. After about an hour and a half, check the beautiful gook that is forming for seasoning, and if you wish, add 1 teaspoon MSG and more salt and pepper to taste, and if necessary, add enough boiling water to cover the chicken again — then let 'er go.

For the dumplings, use 5 medium - sized potatoes, boil them in their jackets in salted water until done, then drain and cool. Peel and put through a ricer, add 2 well-beaten eggs; soak 2 slices of bread, ½ inch thick, in water, squeeze dry and mix thoroughly with the potato and egg mixture, adding ½ teaspoon baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon dried marjoram; ¼ teaspoon pepper, and enough flour to hold the mixture together. Mold into balls the size of an egg, and drop one into boiling water. If it does not break apart, put in the remaining balls and boil gently until all come to the top. Remove carefully with a perforated spoon and place in serving dish. Brown fresh bread crumbs in melted butter and sprinkle generously over the dumplings. These are very good with beef a la mode, but with jugged chicken —MMMMM!

Chopped spinach goes well with this, or any favorite green vegetable. If you use spinach, you might like the old German method which we found along with the chicken and dumplings. We use frozen chopped spinach, to save time and trouble, and for 1 package, we boil 7 minutes then drain and wash in cold water, reserving the water in which the spinach cooked. In a seperate pan, melt 1 tablespoon butter, blend in 1 tablespoon flour, then add half a cup of the spinach water and stir to a smooth sauce. Season with 1 tablespoon lemon juice; ⅛ teaspoon pepper and check taste for salt. Stir the spinach into this sauce thoroughly, and serve hot.

If you really want to add weight, you may include another vegetable with this but we feel that a good tart fruit salad, using such fruits as may be available, is a good way to end this meal.

You may arrange such things as grapefruit and orange sections on a chilled platter on lettuce leaves, and serve a dressing separately if you wish, or you might toss together a mixture that could include berries, pineapple, orange and so on.

A demitasse of black coffee and possibly a tray of assorted cheese with hot toasted crackers goes well with or after the salad. It all makes a satisfying and satisfactory evening with vittles that will, you might say, stick to the ribs—although we will agree that the calorie count is a bit on the high side.

The Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book Club met Wednesday at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. Mrs. V. S. Garnett, president presided at the luncheon meeting celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the club's affiliation with the American Federation of Women's Clubs.

Thirty seven members and guests were seated at the beautifully appointed U-shaped table. A most attractive floral arrangement of the single red hibiscus was used as the center piece from each side of the center piece was the lovely clematis vine running the full length of the tables together with the lavish use of the pink hibiscus made a garden setting. The place cards which were pink hibiscus, carried out the theme and on the stamens the names were written.

Guests present were Mrs. Anna Jones, Mrs. L. D. Ritter, Mrs. Julia Hover, Mrs. Addie Holloway, Mrs. Eugene Shows, Mrs. Zell Smith, Jr., Mrs. Ben Oliphint, Mrs. C. M. Konntz. Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, past president of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. H. Pankey, president of the fifth district of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, from Ferriday, La., Mrs. E. B. Knotts of Sicily Island, La., the state chairman of public safety of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Harry Frazer, Sr., president of the Twentieth Century Book Club the "mother" club of the Welcome Branch Book Club. Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. E. C. Gibson.

Members present were: Mrs. W. R. Cain, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. Sidney Douglas, Mrs. Gaston Eikel, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, Mrs. J. G. Hicks, Mrs. James Horton, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. A. C. Polk, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. Dean Selig, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. C. S. Swain, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. Cyril Yancey.

Ten of the past presidents were introduced by the president and given special recognition: Mrs. E. C. Gibson, 1934; Mrs. J. Norman Coon, 1936; Mrs. Zell Smith, 1939; Mrs. J. D. Petty, 1941; Mrs. L. V. Tarver, 1942; Mrs. T. H. Scott, 1943; Mrs. A. R. Doughty, 1944; Mrs. A. S. Gunter, 1946; Mrs. A. J. Speer, 1947; Mrs. F. H. Peterson, 1948.

The meeting was opened by the invocation given by Mrs. W. R. Cain. Mrs. Zephyr Ware Tarver gave two readings of her poems "Prelude" and "A Leaf from America's Bough." Mrs. J. Norman Coon sang Kipling-Dekoven's song "Recessional" accompanied by Mrs. E. Everett Lawson. Mrs. J. H. Pankey, president of the fifth district gave a brief talk on the aims and projects of the fifth district for the coming year and gave high praise for the accomplishments of the Welcome Branch Book Club on their federation achievements. Mrs. Harry Frazer, president of the Twentieth Century Book Club gave anniversary congratulations.

The study for the year is "American Heritage" to introduce Gerald Johnson's book "This American People." Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, past president of Louisiana Federation of Women's Club was asked to review the first two chapters. In her very capable concise way a new meaning of the "American Way" was brought to her audience. In part she spoke — "In space of less than two centuries these United States has been converted from a string of backwoods settlements into a colossus so immense that in military power rivaled by one only and in wealth by none. Beyond dispute in 1776 the Americans had the right idea. Scheme was a good one for that time and place and those people.

"The fact is that how free we can afford to be depends upon how scared we are. If we are not scared at all, we can be as free as the Declaration of Independence asserted we should be. If we are somewhat scared, but nevertheless resolute — as the men who signed the Declaration were — we can still be free beyond anything possible in a nation frightened into hysteria."

Mrs. F. H. Peterson charmed the members with the review of Paul Cranston's book "To Heaven On Horseback," the story of Narcissa Whitman the year 1836. She was one of two women to go westward by wagon, the first to cross into Columbia Valley. The story of a woman who was afraid of nothing, a story of many conflicts an expedition into a raw new land—Oregon—and how Narcissa and her husband, Marcus adjusted to them. Here is history — dangerous, adventurous, pioneering history. The Whitmans ignored the danger signals. In the wilderness outpost of Waiilatpu, range of the treacherous Cayuse Indians, they set up a mission, unaware that Heaven is not always accepted. Narcissa Whitman never converted an Indian, but she was waiting to welcome the first pioneers through the warmth of her hearth and her heart. She proved a fact: History is only begun by men; women make it possible for them to see it through.

The meeting was brought to a close by the assembly singing "America" lead by Mrs. A. R. Doughty accompanist, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson. A most gracious welcome was extended by the president, Mrs. Garnett to celebrate future anniversaries with the Welcome Branch Book Club.

The hostesses for the day were Mrs. Henson Coon, chairman; Mrs. Cyril Yancey; Mrs. B. E. McWilliams; Mrs. E. Everett Lawson.

It might cost as much as $500,000 a mile to reproduce an ancient Roman road, if were hand built as the Romans built it.

Fort Miro Chapter, D. A. R. Meets With Mrs. George Weaks

Mrs. James Leake Stirling Gives Resume Of Work On Oakley House At September Meeting

Mrs. James Leake Stirling of St. Francisville was in charge of the program for Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, when the group met in the home of Mrs. George Weaks Saturday afternoon, September 13th.

Mrs. Stirling gave a resume of the work done on Oakley House in the Audubon Memorial Park, illustrated with black and white and colored slides. Mrs. Stirling pointed out that Oakley was built in 1799, the year George Washington died, and is a massive illustration of the southern plantation home. It consists of three stories above ground level, plus a basement and a non-connected three - room kitchen. The Daughters of the American Revolution were the prime movers in getting the state of Louisiana to purchase Oakley and restore it. It was while staying at Oakley in 1821 that James J. Audubon painted 32 of his famous bird pictures. The giant live oaks and beautiful woods surrounding Oakley make it a natural bird sanctuary.

The first money grant was used to restore the three-room kitchen of the early plantation home, and with the cooperation of some of the Garden Clubs an herb garden was laid out in front of the kitchen, complete with mint bed and a sun dial. Another garden club later donated Louisiana iris to surround one of the three private lakes near the home.

When a second grant of money was made restoration of the house itself was undertaken despite the enormity of the job due as much to vandalism as to age. In some instances mantels had been pulled loose from the walls and deep holes dug in the hearths in an obvious search for valuables.

A distinct feature of the old house is the huge chimney extending upwards more than forty feet to serve the three stories above ground level. When the modernization work of some fifty years ago was removed in the old dining room, a warmer-oven was discovered in the wall. Insight into the original appearance of the house was gained through old letters found on the premises as well as from bills for materials used to alter the house by later owners.

While restoration of Oakley House is not complete, much progress has been made and it will be a worthy heritage to hand-down to posterity. Mrs. Stirling has been a tireless worker both in helping with the actual plans of restoration and appearing before various interested groups to tell her story and enlist their support.

The business meeting followed immediately after which iced punch, sandwiches and confections were served to: Mrs. C. R. Russell, Mrs. C. E. Faulk, Mrs. Stanley Blower; Mrs. E. G. Clavert, Miss Marjorie Leigh, Mrs. W. E. Leigh, Mrs. Joe Renwick, Mrs. J. C. Liner, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Mrs. James Leake Stirling, Miss Ann Stirling, Mrs. R. D. Kellogg, Mrs. John Filhoil, Miss Ina Merle Thomas, Mrs. Gladys Sperry, Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., Mrs. J. R. Coulter, Mrs. Wharton Brown, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. M. R. Troy, Mrs. C. E. Slade, Mrs. W. Stewardship Building Fund Set At $250,000 Here

First Baptist Church In W. M. Plans Dinner To Inaugurate Project

A $250,000 Stewardship Building Fund Campaign has been launched by the First Baptist Church of West Monroe.

Fred E. Bennett, the general chairman, announced that the building fund committee is inviting the entire 2,500 members to a loyalty Dinner in the Exhibit Building at the Ouachita Valley Fair Grounds on Wednesday, October 15 at 7:00 p.m. All members are to be dinner guests of the committee and there will be no solicitation of funds at this dinner. Printed invitations with enclosed reservation card will soon be mailed to all members.

The $250,000 goal is to build a new and adequate Sanctuary on the present site and will be located between the present Educational Building and the old Sanctuary, and connected to these two buildings, rounding out a very fine church plant at 500 Pine street.

Mr. Bennett stated there will be approximately 375 members of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, actively working on this campaign, making up the campaign organization personnel.

The First Baptist Church was organized thirty years ago and the present Sanctuary was built in 1927. Today the membership consists of 900 families representing a membership of 2,500.

The new Sanctuary will have a seating capacity of 1,564; it will be air - conditioned and constructed with steel and red brick to harmonize with the present auditorium and educational building. Memorial opportunities will be offered and a fitting bronze placque will be erected honoring loved ones.

Campaign Headquarters are located in the recreation room of the church. The following committees have been organized and others are in the process of organization. Canvass Committee—Carey Holmes, chairman; (Mr. Holmes is also chairman of the Listings Committee); Publications Committee—Miss Lallage Feazel, chairman; Arrangements Committee — Delma Carter, chairman and Mrs. W. C. Feazel, vice chairman; Training Committee — Walter Reed, chairman; Special Gifts Committee — Herschel A. Gentry, chairman; Initial Gifts Committee—Parker Humble, chairman; Teams Committee —Bruce B. Humphries, chairman; Church Dinners Committee—Mrs. Fred Tucker, chairman; Hostess Committee—Mrs. A. B. Colmer, chairman and Mrs. A. J. Lester, vice chairman.

There are ninety-three ladies serving on the Hostess Committee. These ladies will telephone the 900 families to obtain the definite number of acceptances for the Loyalty Dinner. It is planned to make this the largest church family dinner gathering ever held in the State of Louisiana. The members of the First Baptist Church will dine together, sing together and pray together for the success of the $250,900 building fund campaign. Each family attending the loyalty dinner will be presented with an illustrated brochure containing the floor plans, over-all view of the finished new Sanctuary, and program for the evening. Printed programs and song sheets will also be distributed at the loyalty dinner.

The guest speaker at the loyalty dinner will be Dr. R. O. Cawker, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church, Shreveport, La. Other speakers will be Rev. Jaroy Weber, pastor of First Baptist Church of West Monroe; Fred E. Bennett, general chairman; Carey Holmes, chairman of the canvass committee; H. A. Gentry, chairman special gifts committee; Bruce B. Humphries, chairman terms committee. Group singing will be conducted by J. R. Jones, minister of music.

A high point will be the introduction of charter members of the church by Delma Carter. Mrs. Maurice Fleming will pin a white carnation on the men charter members and Ralph E. Reed will pin a pink carnation on the ladies who are charter members. Honored guests, members of the campaign executive committee and their wives will be seated at the speakers table. Special tables have been provided for the Board of Decons and their wives.

The campaign dates are September 2 through October 31.

The organization of personnel for other important committees is now in process of formation.

CROSLEY HOLDS PTA SESSION

First Meeting Of New School Year Is Conducted Here

The monthly meeting of the Crosley P.-T. A. was held recently in the school auditorium. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. Jaroy Weber. A new member of the faculty, Homer Cook, led the members in two songs; "S-M-I-L-E" and a parody to the tune of "There Are Smiles That Make Me Happy.'

A very interesting and timely program on 'Understanding What We Face Today.' had been arranged by Mrs. Paul Crowell, program chairman. The subject was very capably presented to the assembly by Mrs. Paul Crowell, Rev. Jaroy Weber, Supt. William Ward and Master Donald Duffy. These speakers all agreed that it takes tolerance, discipline without dicattorship and close unity and cooperation between parent, child, teacher and pastor, to ready our children to meet the problems they will encounter.

During the business meeting, Mrs. B. F. Jackson, president, presided. It was decided that committee be appointed to select a date for the Halloween carnival. Mrs. F. P. Cobb was elected treasurer to replace Mrs. Roy Brooks, who is no longer a member of the organization. Mr. Rutledge introduced all of the members of his staff and faculty.

A social was held at the close of the meeting. Delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality chairmen, Mrs. Ed Hislop and Mrs. John McCormick.

HOME VISITATION TO START HERE

City Of Monroe Teachers To Initiate Calls On Parents

Home visitation for the Monroe city schools will be observed during the present week. This program was started in the city schools here in 1946-47 and has been well received by teacher and parents.

It is explained that home visitation is of value in many ways, particularly with respect to promotion of greater understanding between home and school.

Supt. Van Odom announces that schools listed will send out teachers to visit homes on days as follows:

Barkdull Faulk, Central Grammar, Georgia Tucker and Lexington schools, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 22 and 23.

Neville High School, Sherrouse and Lida Benton, will have visitations made to homes on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 23 and 24.

Plum street visitation on Wednesday and Thursday Sept. 24 and 25.

The Monroe City schools have experienced an unusual gain in attendance. When schools closed last May 30, there was total enrollment of 3,280 (white) and 1,758 (colored) grand total, 5,038.

At the end of the 2nd week the enrollment was 3,490 (white and 2,050 (colored), a total of 5540. This shows a gain of 9.97 per cent.

Broken down into the various schools the totals are as follows: Lida Benton, 442; Barkdull Faulk, 344, Plum Street, 269; Central Grammar, 399; Georgia Tucker, 356. Lexington, 250; Sherrouse, 493; Neville, 937, grand total of white schools, 3490.

Newtown (colored) 391 and Monroe Colored High, 1,659, total 2,050.

Monroe, La.
Dear Sir:

Congress has been told by the air force that it had saved $87,498,000 in reducing its dormitory construction program in the continental United States.

Among bases affected are: Selman Air Force Base, Monroe, $3,806,00, Lake Charles Air Force Base, $3,004,00 and Houma Air Force Base, $1,000,000.

Since the $3,806,000 reduction in the funds allocated for dormitory construction at Selman represents new construction, it provokes the thought that such action may have a decided effect upon the permanency of the Selman Air Base.

One could appreciate a $3,806,000 reduction in overall construction of the base at Selman but such a reduction in the construction of dormitories or barracks could mean that no permanent living quarters for personnel are to be constructed.

Citizens have been informed to present their inquiries regarding new construction at Selman to the U. S. engineers. The most recent report of that body states that the only construction proposed between this date and June of next year in Louisiana is the construction of a building at a New Orleans base. This work is to cost the taxpayers some $48,000.

Citizens are interested in the facts about Selman Field.

Sincerely,
Arthur M. LeBlanc, Jr.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephone Lowman

The mistake most of us make after losing extra pounds is to go back to old eating habits.

Up and Down, Up and Down; That's Way Your Pounds Go

Most of us become enthusiastic about self-improvement when the first snappy, fall weather arrives. We have been somewhat lazy during the summer and now think in terms of losing any extra pounds, of reconditioning our skin and hair after the recent heat and exposure to the hot sun. We begin eyeing our winter wardrobe. We want to bleach out our suntan and slim down our abdomen.

This is a fine idea and now is the time to do it. While some cases of simple acne clear up under the influence of sunshine the latter is trying on dry skins. Even normal skins may become too dry since the sun's rays dry out the natural oils.

Treat your skin to bleaching creams and lubricating oils or creams. Give your hair some special care, too. It may be dry and streaked if you did not protect it during your summer outdoor activities. There are splendid tonics for dry scalp on the market.

Surprise the Scales

When it comes to weight, the average woman goes up and down like a seesaw. She gains ten pounds and then struggles to lose it. She loses it and gradually gains it back. I admit this is better than letting the ten pounds turn into 20 but why not remain at the weight which is perfect for you? You would give the scales a surprise!

Many women write, and men, too, asking how to "hold that line" once they arrive at their most becoming poundage. After you have been on a restricted diet, of say, one thousand calories daily for women, and fifteen hundred daily for men, you can build up the daily count. You can again enjoy some of the trimmings. However, don't go haywire!

Add about three hundred colories daily to your intake and see what happens. If you continue losing, add another two hundred and so forth until you find the food intake you require to maintain your correct weigh.

Feel Your Way

The mistake most men and women make after losing extra pounds is to adopt their old habits of eating. Instead of adding a few food luxuries they return to menus which built the pounds they have just struggled to lose. Be moderate in your buildup. Feel your way along. Then you will not have to repeat the slimming session.

If you missed Nine-Day Diet this spring and would like to have my Nine-Day Reducing Diet Booklet which gives you a loss of from five to ten pounds in nine days' time, send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

UNITED STATES POLL

By Princeton Research Service, Kenneth Fink, Director

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 20—Results of accurate statewide polls in the three key Middle Atlantic industrial states, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, indicate Dwight Eisenhower is now substantially ahead of Adlai Stevenson in all three states, which have a total of 93 electoral votes. (The national total is 531.)

And in each of the trio, Eisenhower at the present time shows at least 4 per cent more strength than the previous Republican nominee, Dewey, had in November, 1948.

In New Jersey, Eisenhower is favored by voters over Stevenson by a margin of 9.6 per cent. In 1948, Dewey carried New Jersey by a margin of 4.4 per cent. Thus, Eisenhower is running 5.2 per cent better today than did Dewey in November, 1948.

In Pennsylvania, Eisenhower now is preferred over Stevenson by a slightly smaller margin—8.2 per cent. Dewey carried the Keystone State over Truman by a margin of 4.1 per cent. So here, too, Eisenhower is over 4 per cent stronger at the present time than Dewey was in 1948.

In New York State, Eisenhower is ahead of Stevenson by a margin of 5.4 per cent. Dewey carried New York by nine-tenths of 1 per cent, which puts Eisenhower 4.5 per cent ahead of the New York State 1948 GOP presidential vote.

Following is the result in New Jersey when Princeton Research Service's trained staff reporters asked a representative cross-section of New Jersey voters: "Right now, which of the two candidates —Stevenson, the Democrat, or Eisenhower, the Republican—do you personily favor for president?"

New Jersey, Statewide
(16 Electoral Votes)

Eisenhower, 53.8 per cent.
Stevenson, 44.2 per cent.
Undecided, 2.0 per cent.

The results when the same question was asked in Pennsylvania were:

Pennsylvania, Statewide
(32 Electoral Votes)

Eisenhower, 52.9 per cent.
Stevenson, 44.7 per cent.
Undecided, 2.4 per cent.

And here's how the New York State vote divided:

New York, Statewide
(45 Electoral Votes)

Eisenhower, 51.4 per cent.
Stevenson, 46.0 per cent.
Undecided, 2.6 per cent.

It must be emphasized that today's findings reflect only current sentiment and that opinion can change between now and election day. Princeton Research Service's trained staff reporters are in the field continuously to note developments or shifts in political sentiment throughout the country for the United States Poll reports in this newspaper.

What's Going On In Ohio

Ohio, the home of Senator Taft, is one of the key states in the Midwest — 25 electoral votes. In 1948, Ohio went Democratic by three-tenths of 1 per cent. who's leading there today -- Eisenhower or Stevenson? To find out, read the United States Poll report in this newspaper next Wednesday.

First Report From the South

PRINCETON, N. J., September 20—Results of the latest toll in southern states of voter preference in Congressional (House of Representatives) races show Democratic candidates to be leading Republicans by a margin of 39 per cent in the South as a whole.

In the past, the support given to candidates for Congress has proven an excellent index to the presidential vote.

In the last presidential year, 1948, Democratic candidates for Congress led GOP candidates in the south as a whole by a margin of 58.2 per cent.

Princeton research Service's nonpartisan reporters asked an accurate cross - section of southern voters, "If the elections for Congress were being held today, which party would you like to see win—the Republican or the Democratic?" The question was asked in all states, even though some do not have regular Republican tickets in Congressional races. The result:

The South
(Vs., Ga., N. C., S. C., Fla., Miss., Ala., La., Tenn., Ark., Ky., Tex., Okla.)

Republicans, 30.5 per cent.
Democrats, 69.5 per cent.

In 1948, Democratic Congressional candidates received 79.1 per cent of the Congressional votes cast in the South as a whole. Thus, GOP Congressional candidates today are favored by 9.6 per cent more voters than in 1948.

In 1950, Democrats received 79.5 per cent of the Congressional vote in the South as a whole. The 20.5 per cent other voters included some for candidates who did not run as Republicans.

A United States Poll report on September 3, showed that nationpresident, Dwight D. Eisenhower, ally, the Republican candidate for president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, was running 2.5 per cent ahead of his party vote for Congress. Today's poll results indicate he would have to run a good deal further ahead of the Congressional tickets to crack the solid South.

Whether Eisenhower has pushed further ahead of congressional candidates in the South than in the rest of the country is being carefully surveyed by Princeton Research Service and a report will be made next Sunday in this newspaper.

Tub Gadget Guards Baby

A new kind of baby anchor makes a lot of sense if you use the big family tub for his bath. It's a sponge rubber seat equipped with suction cups, and baby's weight is enough to hold them firm against the tub. With this kind of security, baby can really enjoy his soap and water splashing with safety.

You can keep children's pajamaed feet spanking clean if you pull plastic bags over them. A colored rubber band keeps them snugly in place around the ankles. You can also cut extra feet from any patterned plastic yardage and sew them on over the sleeper feet. Charm of plastic is that it can be wiped clean with a soapy cloth and saves mother many a minute.

The World's Waltz King, Wayne King, above, will appear in Monroe at Neville auditorium under the sponsorship of the Exchange Club on October 14.

WAYNE KING COMING HERE

Wayne King, also known as the world's waltz king, heard for many years on every national radio network, and seven consecutive times awarded the profession's highly coveted radio guide award for the most popular dance orchestra, was heard regularly each Tursday evening on NBC television, under the sponsorship of the Standard Oil Companies.

In between weekly shows, which for the time being will originate in Chicago, the Waltz King will try to fill some of the many invitations he receives from all parts of the country to perform concert-benefits for leading service organizations such as Kiwanis, Lions, Exchange, Rotary, etc. One of these appearances will be in Monroe, Oct. 14th, sponsored by the local Exchange club at Neville auditorium.

Wayne King is noted for his many diversified interests. In addition to his first love. . .music. . . the Waltz King is intensely interested in good horses, and personaily owns a string of show horses which consistently win top ribbons and awards at horse shows everywhere. Sharing her famous father's love for horses is the maestro's charming daughter, Penny, who shows her own horse "Jet-Propelled" in a dozen or more shows a season, and who is justly proud of her fast - growing collection of ribbons and prizes.

Wayne King also owns two large farms, one of 640 acres, ranch type in the northern wilds of Wisconsin, teeming with wild life, bears, deer, and small animals. In central Illinois, the Kings own and successfully operate a 600 acre feeder farm. Recently when a friend expressed surprise at this farm, the maestro grinned broadly and said, "Sure I have a farm! That way I keep my corn down there, and out of my music!"

Wayne King also has one of the finest of pipe collections, more than 300 in all, ranging from corncobs to choice briars and finest meerschaums in all sizes and styles. In speaking of his pipe collection, the Waltz King is very definite in his assertion that every one of his pipes is usable.

When conversation turns to hobbies, the Waltz King invariably makes clear that music is his first and foremost love. When questioned recently, of satisfaction in his profession, the maestro beamed and said, "Well, when I first 'made good' with my own orchestra at the Aragon Ballroom, I realized a great ambition. Then when radio came in, and during all the years we were on the air, I thought there was no thrill like radio. And now, with the coming of television and the absolutely unlimited, undreamed - of possibilities of TV. . . well," and here the genial maestro grinned from ear to ear. . ."It's TV for me. . .and me for V."

STATE TRAFFIC ACTION BETTER

Louisiana's 1951 traffic and highway accident prevention effort was slightly improved in some respects over 1950, but still was manifestly too weak to materially depress the accident experience.

This was shown in a Louisiana analysis in an annual inventory of traffic activities of the National Safety Council. The analysis was presented by James D. Hill, field director of the inventory and highway-rail intersection programs.

The state's highway safety problem consisted of 659 dead, over 23,000 injured, and more than $62½ million economic loss. The demonstrated opportunity, unfulfilled, amounted to the saving of 455 lives, the prevention of 16,000 injuries and $43 million worth of accidents. This opportunity was demonstrated by the state of Rhode Island, which in 1951 recorded a death rate of 3.0 per 100 million miles traveled compared to Louisiana's 9.5 and a national average of 7.6. To those disinclined to compare Louisiana and Rhode Island, it can be pointed out that in 1937, the Rhode Island death rate was 8.7 — 0.1 higher than Louisiana's 1949 rate. The Louisiana rate has been rising for the last three years —8.8 in 1949, 9.1 in 1950, 9.5 in 1951.

The only fundamental difference between Louisiana and Rhode Island was in a systematic program approach to accident prevention bringing to bear all expedients of proven effectiveness and constantly, through the years, "keeping the pressure on."

The quality of Louisiana's effort to prevent accidents in 1951 was not high. As reported, it fulfilled only 35 per cent of measures applied, ranking tenth among 12 southern states and 43rd nationally. Of 9 program elements appraised, eight were below the national average.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE . . . With Major Hoople

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. Yes. The college student who said, "The Greek Goddess of Love, Aphrodite, is a germ that causes sickness," was speaking more truth than poetry. If the course of true love is not running smoothly, it causes loss of appetite, weight, energy and, it is believed, many sometimes cause death from a broken heart. Our booklet, "The New and Easy Way to Conquer Bad Habits," tells how to overcome love disappointment. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Not according to a magazine article by Noble Prize Winner Arthur Compton. After sketching "wonder" products and achievements of the past 50 years—autos, penicillin, TV, better plants, animals by control of heredity, etc.—he looks into the next 50 years. He thinks people will wear clothes of synthetic fibers that will not fade, shrink or wrinkle. My wool suit is fading, but I hope it will last till then. He thinks also, as I do, that the world's greatest danger will be over-population.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes, with remarkable success, according to John E. Gibson. In Vienna, a stenographer, taxi driver, college professor, tavern keeper, minister, school teacher, woman mathematician, boy 12 and girl 14 spoke two minutes over the radio. Then 2700 listeners wrote their estimates of each person's temperament. The majority were correct in estimating which were introverts and which were extroverts.

Our great New Booklet—How to double your reading speed. Read Faster and Better by Albert Edward Wiggam, Sc. D., will be a remarkable key to knowledge and success. Six simple but priceless rules sent without profit for 15 cents in coin. Address Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper. Enclose a 3 cent stamped self-addressed envelope.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, September 20—Old Paint may be the darling of Tin Pan Alley songsmiths, but he's strictly Old Pain to me.

After serving as the somewhat reluctant saddle - partner of Hollywood horses for years, I have come to the conclusion that our positions should be reversed. If a screen cowpoke like myself wants the finer things in life, he had better change places with his horse.

This notion occurred to me the day I flung a leg over my first movie mount, a prima donna and pampered dandy with more money in the bank than the guy who was about to ride him. It has become firm conviction with the windup of my latest equine drama, "The Lusty Men," at RKO Radio. All the average Hollywood nag needs today is a squirt of Prince Matchabelli under the forequarters and he'd be welcomed at Ciro's.

Fortunately for me, I do not have to maintain the horses I ride in pictures. If I did, there would be a passel of ragged Mitchums running around while their old man begged for alms outside the studio parking lot. I hear from guys like Gene Autry, Roy Rogers and Hoppy that the bills I foot for my wife, three kids, twelve relatives, two cats, one dog and a recently - arrived houseguest from Far Rockaway are just a little under what a single movie horse requires for spartan living. That ain't just hay, brother, no sir. That's oats, alfalfa and wheat germ oil besides.

Keeping up with the Triggers also requires that a horse in Hollywood be clothed as well as fed. These mounts are the Menjous of moviedom. My tuxedos, which are rented from a shop near RKO dealing in wedding and funeral photos on the side, cost me $14.00 a year, or $7.00 per wearing. The equine equivalent of a tux is a non-rentable silver - mounted saddle with accessories to match. Down to the last dab of gilt on the hooves, this finery represents a financial outlay to some poo —, I mean proud owner of a thousand bucks or more. The outfit he must wear to do justice to his horse costs almost as much. The horse would snort at anything else.

Getting an actor to work in the morning is no problem. He simply is pushed out of bed and into his car. But movie horses rate royal treatment. After a brisk rubdown and nourishing breakfast, during which the stock market returns are read to them, they are chauffeured to the set in streamlined trailers.

The actors, having memorized dialogue and sweat out rehearsals, then leap on these educated chargers and expect to be galloped away. They are — usually too far beyond the camera and into a protruding two - by - four which the crafty horse has correctly figured should knock the mime right off the saddle. Riders picking themselves up after two or three such jousts have been known to eye the horse, eye the S. P. C. A. man standing by, and draw up a quick constitution for a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Actors. Several, following these painful encounters, have refused pointblank to recognize the Cowboys' Code which requires the hero at picture's end to give his loyal and ever - loving steed a kiss.

In addition to taking their kingly status in Filmville for granted, horses provide the most uncomfortable means of transportation ever invented. Many a movie mount has learned to steal scenes by prancing, mincing, strutting, waltzing, undulating, gyrating, and otherwise ambulating. This looks great on the screen and undoubtedly wins fan letters for the horse, but all it gets for the guy astride him is headaches and a loosened upper plate. A horse's back in the midst of such didoes feels like a washboard toboggan on its way down Houndstooth Hill. Any actor who can manage even a faint smile while this is going on deserves a special Academy Award. I refrain from suggesting what the horse deserves.

Worst of all, horses in Hollywood are rewarded for such behavior with princely salaries. Several, I am told, have invested their earnings in riding academies, where they employ less - fortunate relatives. At least two equine stars own stables and board polo ponies. Many play the horses, with remarkable success. Gene Autry told me this.

In view of the foregoing and particularly since the Collector of Internal Revenue has yet to descend on any nag I know of, I am ready, any time he is willing, to trade places with my horse. He never will, though. Too smart. He's got it made and he knows it.

VETS' RIGHTS ARE EXPLAINED

Answer Handbook Is Issued By U. S. Department Of Labor

DALLAS, Sept. 20 —(Special) — Answers to more than 400 of the most frequently asked questions on veterans' reemployment rights such as reinstatements, layoffs, seniority, disability, damages, vacation rights, and pensions are included in the revised and expanded veterans' question and answer handbook, single copies of which are available from the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights here.

George M. Dunlap, BVRR Field Representative here for Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana, said that the revised handbook includes the 1951 amendments to the reemployment provisions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

Single copies of the handbook are available upon request at his office at 222 Comercial Building, Dallas, or in quantity through the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office in Washington at a cost of 30c a copy, with discounts of 25% on the purchase of 100 or more.

"Numerous problems which already have been resolved are incorporated in the new handbook to prevent recurrence," Dunlap said in pointing out that the handbook is one of several devices adopted by the Bureau to prevent controversies from arising in the reemployment rights program.

The over-all program affects millions of ex-servicemen, reservists returning from active or training duty, rejectees employers, labor organizations, and others, Dunlap explained.

The original handbook which contained about 300 questions and answers was issuel in October 1950. The new revised and expanded handbook brings up to date the most significent points of the veterans' reemployment rights program, he said.

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: How can I ease the ache of my sweetheart's departure for service? I am 20, and very much in love with a boy who went into the Army last week. This might seem silly, but since he has been gone I am really sick with worry over him, and miss him so much I cry every night. I don't want to go out or see anyone. We have been childhood sweethearts. I feel that we will not be able to marry as we planned.

JUDY

ANSWER: Your feelings are quite natural since your sweetheart so recently went into service but, be assured, as time goes on you'll become reconciled to his absence and the two years will pass quickly enough. Looking ahead they seem like an eternity, I know, but it really isn't so long. The thing for you to do is find activity to fill the gap.

You must, first of all, learn to have faith in the well-being of the boy and in the fact that he will be home. Go to church regularly and often—not just on Sunday. Drop in for a few minutes during the day to pray for the boy. Read the Bible or your prayerbook and you'll find more consolation therein than a world of psychologists or psychiatrists could ever give. You must not give in to the morbid fear that your marriage will never take place. Thousands of girls are waiting for the return of their GI's, preparing with happy anticipation for their wedding days.

If you continue in your melancholy state, it is bound to be evident in the letters you write the boy. Is that a nice way to treat a lad who has had to leave home and family for a strange, and not particularly comfortable, life? He deserves more than that. Cheer up, and let him see that you are not forsaking the world during his absence.

Learn to forget your own troubles by alleviating those of other people. For this I know no better way than to do volunteer work with the Red Cross, or a similar agency. Through them you will be aiding other servicemen instead of mourning over just one. Hospitals desperately need volunteer help, too.

If you have lots of spare time and want to put it to good use, how about taking a home economics course at your local YWCA or college? By doing something tangible about your forthcoming marriage, you'll lose the hopeless feeling that it will never occur.

Share yourself with others, and you'll have no time for self-pity, or needless apprehension.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Five years ago I lost my husband. I am now in my middle 50's, and have been seeing and writing to a widower whose wife died two years ago. He is in his early 70's. He says he thinks a lot of me but cannot love me because he cannot forget his wife. Do you think if we married he would still think of her? He says marriage wouldn't be fair to me since he couldn't put her out of his heart.

EDNA

ANSWER: Since the man and his wife were undoubtedly married for a good many years, it would be expecting the impossible to assume that he could ever forget her. Have you forgotten your own husband? If you want whole-hearted devotion from a recently widowed man of 70, you will be disillusioned. I don't think marriage is feasible under these conditions.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem is my mother. We go down to see my in-laws twice a year and I am at my folks' house almost every day. However, when I tell my mother that we are going to visit my husband's people, she gets very nasty and insinuates that I am under my husband's thumb.

LETTY R.

ANSWER: Your mother is an unreasonable, selfish woman—of a type found all too frequently. You've spoiled her by seeing her too often, and doing too much for her. Cut down your visits and, if she sulks, leave her alone.

DOROTHY DIX gives tips on improving social, domestic and business relations in leaflet D-7, "Disposition." To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper.

MONROE TEAMS WITH WIDMARK

Adult Entertainment Promised In 'Don't Bother To Knock'

Potent and emphatically adult entertainment is promised by the Paramount Theatre Wednesday with the advent of the Richard Widmark - Marilyn Monroe co-starrer, "Don't Bother to Knock." Advance reports on this Twentieth Century - Fox thriller have it that this is one of the best and most forthright of all movie melodramas.

Set realistically within the various confines of a typical mid-city New York hotel, and dealing entirely with the sharply dramatic occurrences there during a single evening, "Don't Bother to Knock" is said to utilize in full measure the pressure - cooked personalities of stars Richard Widmark and Marilyn Monroe. While the dialogue is on the steamy side, there is no lack of bright and crisp comedy in the process.

Widmark, who departs from heroism in uniform, his more recent assignments, to return to his original film concept — the tough-minded city boy, is cast opposite Miss Monroe as a baby-sitter with some very grown - up ideas. In facing rooms of a hotel, Widmark gets more than he bargained for in tangling with Miss Monroe upon her provocative invitation to come on over and see her right away, without bothering to knock.

The heart of the drama involves the terror the seemingly harmless Miss Monroe creates through a series of strangely twisted impulses. The film script, by Daniel Taradash from a novel by Charlotte Armstrong, called for a past master of taut suspense to handle its direction, and for this purpose Producer Julian Blaustein imported the top - notch Britisher, Roy Baker.

To fill the chief supporting role in "Don't Bother to Knock" the studio assigned newcomer Anne Bancroft, throaty actress - songstress as a flame of Widmark's who performs in the hotel night spot. She is called upon to render a number of standard blues numbers. Other spots of importance fell the way of little Donna Corcoran, Jeanne Cagney, Lurene Tuttle, Elisha Cook, Jr., Jim Backus, Verna Felton, Willis B. Bouchey, Don Beddoe and Gloria Blondell.

KNOCK! KNOCK!

That's Marilyn Monroe opening the door for Richard Widmark in a scene from "Don't Bother to Knock" which opens a four day engagement at the Paramount Wednesday. The torrid team plays most of the action hit in a hotel room but audiences don't find HANGING AROUND — Every day, during the shooting of Mari Blanchard's current picture in Hollywood, she gets "hanged." It's on account of her 14-pound jeweled headdress. She can't doff it between scenes, because it takes too much time to readjust on her head. So studio carpenters built the "gallows" seen above to take the weight of the heavy tiara off her head while she waits for a call to the set.

F. B. I. ATTACK ON SPIES SHOWN

'Walk East On Beacon' Reveals Techniques Of Spy-Smashers

The techniques used by Federal Bureau of Investigation spy-smashers in tracing a coast-to-coast espionage ring are graphically and excitingly delineated in "Walk East on Beacon," the new Louis de Rochemont production for Columbia pictures. The spy drama, starring George Murphy, Finlay Currie and Virginia Gilmore, opening a three day run today at the Paramount theatre.

Suggested by the Reader's Digest magazine article, "The Crime of the Century," by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover and filmed realistically by de Rochemont, "Walk East on Beacon" shows how the scientific resources of the FBI are called into play to unravel a curious puzzle of obscure clues that lead to the heart of an espionage plot.

J. Edgar Hoover orders Murphy, as a veteran FBI inspector to investigate an elaborate espionage conspiracy seeking to hijack "Operation Falcon," America's top secret. All Murphy has to go on are movies of an unidentified woman with a peculiar walk and the fact that Currie, refugee scientist in charge of "Falcon," has been contacted by the ring. Murphy urges Currie to play along with the spies, in the hope that he will lead them to the mystery woman. He does, and the girl unwittingly leads the FBI agents to undercover workers in Washington, D. C., and in Boston where they are apprehended.

The desperate spy chief makes one more bid for success by kidnapping Currie and attempting to smuggle him out of the country but the FBI, with the assistance of the Coast Guard, manages to effect a nick-of-time rescue.

Murphy gives a quietly authoritative performance as the FBI official; Currie is outstanding as the elderly scientist who gambles his life to defeat the spies, while Miss Gilmore turns in a capable portrayal as the mystery lady.

Alfred Werker directed "Walk East on Beacon" with mounting suspense, from the story and screen play by Leo Rosten, Mr. de Rochemont, who produced the spy drama with the complete cooperation of the FBI, lends his highly realistic touch to the proceedings by filming "Walk East on Beacon" on location in Boston, Washington D. C., and Portsmouth, N. H.

PICTURE STARS WAYNE, OLSON

'The Quiet Man' Is Far From Quiet In 'Big Jim M'Lain'

John Wayne, following recent success in a picture called "The Quiet Man," is far from quiet in his latest adventure epic, "Big Jim McLain," the Wayne - Fellows production for Warner Bros. which debuts locally at the Tem Theatre on Wednesday. Beautiful Nancy Olson provides the romance and James Arness also stars in this rugged outdoor drama, the first modern motion picture story filmed in Hawaii and featuring Dan Liu, head of Honolulu's internationally - famous police department.

As a trouble - shooting special agent assigned to the investigation of a world-wide terror ring headquartered in Hawaii, Wayne plays one of the most two-fisted roles of his career. From local informers, the investigator learns the names of the top terrorist leaders, and sets out to prove their guilt. How "Big Jim McLain" digs into his bag of sleuthing tricks to smash his adversaries makes for one of the season's big action offerings, according to advance reports.

Some of the major sequences of the picture were shot at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, Honolulu's world known hostelry, while other scenic highlights were recorded against a background around the pool of Edgewater, the Outrigger Canoe Club where the fabled Hawaiian beach boys and the sportsmen of the islands stage their wondrous surf board riding and canoeing exhibitions. Other highlights are an actual Shinto temple, the Chinatown waterfront, and a wealth of the natural, beautiful and rugged scenery.

"Big Jim McLain," directed by Edward Ludwig, features John Hubbard, Veda Ann Borg and Alan Napier in the cast.

HAS LONG WALK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A white-haired, bearded retired college professor, George F. Miller, 72, is back home after a 2,025-mile hike from Georgia to Maine along the Appalachian Trail.

He started the walk at Mt. Oglethorpe, Ga., April 18 and recently finished up at the summit of Mt. Katahdin, Me. He averaged 15 miles a day. On the trip he suffered a cut leg, a sprained knee and several falls. His shoes were resoled three times.

TOURIST STUDY SLATED

NAPLES (AP)— A booming world tourist industry comes under expert study at the seventh international conference of the International Union of Official Travel Organizations here next month.

Forty-six member nations, as well as a number of associate members, are to be represented. There will be reports on the development of tourism in all parts of the world and study of plans to increase tourist travel.

Damascus has been conquered by Israelites, Assyrians, Macedonians, Egyptians, Romans, Ommiads, Carmathians, Seljuks, Crusaders, Mongolians, Ottomans and French, the National Geographic Society says.

Persian Rummy Is Fascinating

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service

We are often surprised that the game of Persian Rummy hasn't taken on more than it has. At the present moment, and for some years past, it is played only in a few New York clubs—places where the world's best bridge players congregate. Incidentally, the greatest admirers of Persian Rummy are these same bridge champions.

Persian Rummy is played like 500 Rummy. There are four players, arranged in partnerships, as in bridge. The deck consists of the usual 52 cards plus four jokers, and each player is dealt seven cards.

The play proceeds as in rummy, for the most part. Each player in turn draws, melds (if he wishes to do so), and then discards. Eventually somebody melds out.

When you draw from the discard pile, you don't have to take the top discard. The discards are fanned out so that you can see them all, and you may take any earlier discard—with all the discards that are on top of it, but not those that are below it.

Jokers are a separate denomination, and are not wild. They may be melded only in groups of three jokers or four jokers.

The other cards are melded as in rummy, either in sequence or as three or four of a kind. Aces count 15 points each, picture cards count 10 points each, and other cards count their face value.

If you meld four of a kind all at once, you get double the normal scoring value of that meld. For example, three aces count 45 points; and that value goes up to 60 points if the fourth ace is added later on. If all four aces are melded at one time, however, their value is 120 points instead of only 60.

Much of the enjoyment and skill of the game consists in helping your partner and in being helped by him. You signal by discards during the early play. For example, if you discard an ace, you ask your partner to discard a joker if he has one. If you discard a picture card or a ten-spot, you ask your partner to discard an ace if he has one.

The idea of asking for a particular discard is to get a card into the discard pile that you can meld with later on. If your partner fails to discard the card you have signaled for, it is safe to assume that he doesn't have such a card, and this helps you work out what he does hold. The best players know an amazing amount about what the other players hold, and they claim that the game is as profound as contract bridge.

World's Largest Brush

Scintillating Barbara Benson, singing star of the popular Sammy Kaye TV show, gazes in rapt admiration at the world's largest hair brush. This gigantic brush is six feet long, contains 790 feet of bristle and requires two men to carry it. An exact copy of a Jewelite hair brush made by Prophy-Lac-Tic Brush Company. This big brush is now on display all this week in one of the front windows of The Palace.

CAP Over Monroe

A supercharged military training program spiraled to a finish in August at Lackland AFB, Texas, where 45 Civil Air Patrol girl cadets encamped to learn about Air Force life. This was the first nationwide all-girl encampment and a main event in the biggest cadet summer training program in CAP history. The young women at Lackland represented CAP units throughout the U. S. By the end of August more than 8,000 cadets, 15 to 18 years old, participated in similar encampments at 40 AF bases across the country. One other all-girl encampment was held at Griffiss AFB, Rome, N. Y., in July. It is hoped that the CAP all-girl encampments will become annual events. The girls at Lackland agreed the Lackland contingent had provided "excellent" training; "good" food and accommodations; "adequate" recreation; and "fine" supervision; and were enthusiastic for another such encampment.

GOOD SPEECH

English is a beautiful language, rich, colorful, expressive, all that can be desired. There is no thought, however exalted, however harsh or bitter, however lovely, that cannot be put into clear, clean English. School children, including high-school students, take great pleasure in using slang, forbidden words and forms. It seems at times that the more their teachers tried to have them see the beauty of clean English speech, the more they enjoyed using slang, crude forms and even worse.
That is a habit of youth, carried from generation to generation to generation, that has troubled teachers of English through the years. There is only one way to combat it and that is to keep teaching good English, keep putting the best written works before them, speaking in praise of fine English, using it in their hearing.
Many high-school students dislike the English course and small blame to them, for too often the English courses begin and end with the history of English literature, dates and periods of this and that. Such information is drab, deadly dull, without interest to active, eager boys and girls. It seems to me that it would be far more valuable to such students if they were allowed to have the current reviews of books in their hands, read them, talk about the writers, their work and how they do it. Christopher Morley, our contemporary, seems to me far more important in the teaching of English than Beowulf.
Speech is the expression of the individual's self. "Speak, that I may know you," is veritable truth. The young person who has no words to express his pleasure beyond "gee," "some looker," "swell," "outa this world," indicates a poverty of mind that is pitiful. Likewise the one whose only expression for something he disapproves of is 'lousy." That term is a fitting description of his language power, and as deplorable. The one who must fell back on words unfit for the ears of decent people closes the doors of such people against him. The unfortunate one who calls upon the Deity every other sentence, or sprinkles his brief thoughts with references to the nether region, is to be pitied and shunned.
The schools could do better than they do in this teaching of English. We could spare the history of English literature and devote the time and energy to a mastery of clear, clean, forceful English speech and writing and all of the time keep the teaching closer to the children's interests and needs.
And better patterns in everyday speech at home and abroad would go a long way to improve matters.

K. K. CHANDY IS TO SPEAK HERE

Great Christian Worker Of India To Appear At Local College

The public of all church denominations are cordially invited to attend a special meeting to be held by K. K. Chandy of India, great Christian leader of his country, who will speak in the Northeast Louisiana State College auditorium Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Dr. B. R. Oliphint, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, will preside. No admission is asked but there will be received a free will offering at the door.
Mr. Chandy was born in 1908, received his B. A. degree and did graduate study at Madras Christian College and Woodbrooke College in Birmingham, England.
He has visited Finland, Norway, Sweden and France on an educational tour. He was student chairman of the Madras Intercollegiate committee oft he Student Christian Movement and was Indian delegate to the Round Table Conference.
This man's experience of Christ was formed in a nation where the forces of resistance to imperialism, national self-determination, conflict of religions and caste, poverty of masses, the pacifism of Gandhi, the call of communism and the way of Christ are met in severe encounter. Coming to America at this time of tension between east and west, Mr. Chandy will speak from an exciting background as well as a depth of personal conviction.
It is expected that a large assemblage will greet him at his appearance here.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

By J. Paul Hewitt

Last week we talked about the American Symphony Orchestra League, Inc., and its objectives in stimulating the growth of civic and community symphony orchestras in the U. S.
Among other things, the league has worked out a plan in conjunction with the Philadelphia Orchestra—one of the pillars of the major league—whereby conductors of community or non-professional orchestras may receive advice and coaching from Eugene Ormandy in a series of rehearsals with the Philadelphia Orchestra—Sept. 30 through Oct. 4. Out of 80 applicants for this training, 12 have been selected for active participation and 24 will be permitted to sit in as observers. The experiment is the first of its kind and if followed through consistently could contribute enormously to raising the standards of bush league orchestras.
Another innovation instituted by the league is a six-day course in community symphony orchestra management. The league also publishes for its members a magazine simply called Newsletter that must not only render valuable service to its subscribers but provides an insight into the manner of operation of some of the minor league orchestras.
With such a clear definition of purpose, the bush league symphony orchestras are bound to make a lasting contribution to American music, not only in quantity but also in quality. When buying a piano, top quality is a must. Always insist on a true singing tone that will hold tuning. For the very best in tonal qualities at reasonable prices it's the STEINWAY at HEWITT, INC., 216 Grammont. Phones 2-1491, & 2-1492. Headquarters for The Hammond Organ, "Music's Most Glorious Voice."

Jacoby On Bridge

Any Great Play Demands Thought

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The man who dives from the top of the Empire State Building into a small barrel of water is always very matter of fact about his feat. "You need only four feet two inches of water," he will say, and he will go onto prove that anybody at all could do it.

The same thing is true of certain high dives at the bridge table. There's always a logical explanation later on, but they still look pretty good. For example, take the beautiful play made recently in a rubber game by Perry L. Ruston.

Ruston opened the king of clubs and was allowed to hold the trick. He continued clubs, and dummy's ace won. Now declarer led a low trump from dummy to the ace of

	NORTH 20 ♠ Q 7 3 2 ♥ 10 5 ♦ K 10 9 4 ♣ A 6 3
WEST ♠ K 4 ♥ A Q 7 6 ♦ 7 5 ♣ K Q 10 9 5		EAST ♠ J 10 6 ♥ 9 8 4 3 2 ♦ 6 2 ♣ J 8 4
	SOUTH (D) ♠ A 9 8 5 ♥ K J ♦ A Q J 8 3 ♣ 7 2

North-South vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	2 ♣	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♣ K

spades in his own hand, and Ruston executed his high dive by dropping the king of spades.

There was a logical explanation, of course. Declarer surely would have tried a finesse if he had held the jack of spades. Since no finesse was anticipated, East must hold the jack of spades.

South's bidding indicated that he held only four spades, so East was marked with three trumps. Hence the defenders would still get the same single trump trick whether or not Ruston dropped his king.

The full beauty of the play became apparent later on. East was bound to win his jack of spades in time to lead a heart, and this gave West two heart tricks in addition to the club and the trump. Thus declarer was set one trick.

Now see what happens if West keeps the king of spades when declarer plays the ace of that suit. South leads a second spade, and West must win with the king.

Now what? If West leads hearts, South's king will win a trick. If West leads anyting else, South gets in to draw the last trump. Then South can run the diamonds, discarding one heart from the dummy. Thus only one heart trick is lost, end declarer makes his contract.

Card Sense

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 N.T.	2 Hearts	?

You. South, hold; Spades K-Q-4, Hearts 6-3.D iamonds 8-3-2, Clubs K-Q-9-8-4. What do you do?

A—Bid three clubs. This free bid at the level of three is forcing to game. If North can stop the hearts he is expected to try three no-trump. Otherwise, he must raise the clubs or show a new suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold; Spades J-5-3, Hearts K-3, Diamonds 8-3-2, Clubs K-J 9-8-4. What do you do?

Answer Monday

10-CENT BETTING OK

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—There are few, if any places in the world where you can wager as low as 10 cents on a horse race, but it's being done here.

That's the minimum bet allowed at a race track in the suburbs where racing is held every Sunday.

And there's no bar against minors. There are hundreds of children on hand for every race meeting. For them the 10-cent par-mutuel window is a bee-line objective.

School children in Geneva Canton, Switzerland, have Thursdays and Sundays off. This system was devised to give parents who have Saturday off a vacation from children as well as from work.

TELLS HOW TO MAKE HENS LAY

Euna Spielman Gives Instructions About Poultry Raising

We are interested in helping you get good production out of your pullets this fall and winter. We would like to give you the following timely recommendations and suggestions. We would like to see you check your management program and put these managements practices into use immediately, says Euna D. Spielman.

1. Do a good job of culling your pullets. Select pullets with vim, vigor, and vitality.

2. Pullets should be in permanent laying houses now.

3. Gradually close the laying houses leaving the south end open giving plenty of fresh aid and ventilation.

4. Pullets confined to a laying house will probably give best production. Do not over crowd. Allow at least three square feet of floor space per chicken. If you have good grazing feed such as oats and rye grass, pullets can be turned out of house late in the afternoon.

5. Feed a high quality of laying mash using a twenty per cent protein mash supplemated with grain. If the mash is 16 or 17 per cent protein it is an all-mash feed and no grain is to be fed.

6. Keep laying mash before pullets at all times. Allow at least thirty-five feet of feeder space for each 100 pullets.

7. Use low type feeders to increase feed consumption. Add fresh mash daily and stir mash three or four times a day.

8. Egg production can be increased by feeding pulets on top of mash once a day or by feding a wet mash. Feed what pullets will clean up in ten or 15 minutes.

9. Provide clean water. One hundred pulets will consume six gallons of water a day. Lack of water will decrease egg production.

10. Lights will increase fall production. Use fourteen to sixten hours of light a day from the time the pullets are in 20 per cent production. Provide at least one watt per bird from the start; using two watts per bird will give extra stimulus when needed to hold or boost production.

11. Do not neglect pulets if you want fall or winter eggs. See that they have top quality laying mash before them all the time, plenty of water, and that they are comfortably housed.

A little-known quality of licorice is the ability of liquid in which it has been processed to foam.

SCREAM IS CORNY

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (AP)—A woman screamed in a local bar and a policeman rushed to her aid. He found a misplaced bar stool the cause of the trouble.

The womans husband had accidentally placed a bar stool on the touchy corn of his wife's foot.

FLASH GORDON.....by Mac Raboy and Don Moore

SURPRISING DALE WITH A TREACHEROUS ATTACK FROM BEHIND, FLAMMA STRUGGLES FURIOUSLY TO GET THE COSMIC-RAY "SCEPTER" WHICH CONTROLS THE SPACE-SPHERE AND THE ENTIRE COMET-WORLD. JUST AS SHE REACHES THE WEAPON, FLASH RETURNS UNEXPECTEDLY AND LEAPS ACROSS THE ROOM TO DALE'S RESCUE.

THE FATEFUL COSMIC-GUN, DASHED FROM THE GIRL'S HANDS BY FLASH'S HEADLONG CHARGE, FALLS TO THE FLOOR WITHIN REACH OF THE REVIVING PYRON, WHO SCRAMBLES TO SEIZE IT!

"DON'T SHOOT ME!" FLAMMA SHRIEKS IN TERROR AS PYRON LEVELS THE WEAPON TO FIRE A BURST OF SHORT-RANGE COSMIC RAYS. BUT THE COMET-MASTER MUTTERS COLDLY: "I'VE GOT TO SHOOT FLASH. I'LL REVIVE YOU LATER, FLAMMA!"

THE LOYAL ZARKOV HEROICALLY THROWS HIMSELF IN THE PATH OF THE RAY-BEAM AND HURLS HIS HEAVY METAL SPACE-HELMET WITH SURE AIM AT THE MURDEROUS COMET-KING'S HEAD. BOTH ZARKOV AND PYRON ARE FELLED INSTANTLY!

COPR. 1952, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, Inc., WORLD RIGHTS RESERVED.

SUCH IS A FITTING END FOR THE TWISTED GENIUS WHO LEARNED TO CONTROL COSMIC ENERGY AND THEN TRIED TO MISUSE IT TO DESTROY HIS NATIVE EARTH WITH A COMET-MISSILE. AS FLAMMA WEEPS BRIEFLY OVER HER FALLEN GUARDIAN, FLASH TURNS TO DALE: "PUT ZARKOV UNDER THE HEALING-RAYS", HE SAYS. "I MUST FIX THE STEERING GEAR BEFORE WE CRASH INTO THE SUN!"

WHILE FLASH WORKS FEVERISHLY IN A RACE AGAINST TIME TO REPAIR THE DAMAGED COSMIC-DRIVE MECHANISM, THE RUN-AWAY COMET CARRIES THE SPACE-SPHERE IRRESISTIBLY TOWARD A FIERY DOOM IN THE SUN ITSELF!

TERN, I WOULD NEVER HAVE BELIEVED IT WAS YOU WHO STOLE THE DIAMOND NECKLACE!

WELL, MAJOR CANYON, I GOT SICK OF HAULING DOPES LIKE HIMMERSKORN

SO I SNITCHED THE ROCKS! I WANT TO HAVE ONE FLING BEFORE I BUST MY NECK DOING BUSH FLYING!

I COULD HAVE FLOWN ON TO THE STATES AFTER I DROPPED YOU OFF AT THE AIRLINE TERMINAL— AND NOBODY WOULD HAVE SUSPECTED ME, BUT SINCE WE'VE BEEN STUCK HERE THE COPS WILL HAVE HAD TIME TO CHECK EVERYBODY OUT...

SO I'LL THROW IN WITH BONBON AND HIS FRIENDS! THEY'LL GIVE ME A RIDE TO THE STATES IN RETURN FOR A CUT OF THE SALE PRICE OF THE DIAMONDS! EH, BONBON?

GOT ENOUGH, SERGEANT?

RIGHT!

HUH? WHAT DO YOU MEAN 'SERGEANT'? WHAT HAPPENED TO YOUR ACCENT, BONBON?

THE MEN IN THE PLANE ARE SGT. STEUBEN AND CONSTABLE BURR, AND I AM CONSTABLE CARAMEL, ALL OF THE ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE!

YOU HAVE BEEN TALKING INTO A MICROPHONE CONCEALED IN THAT MOORING WEIGHT!.. A RECORDING HAS BEEN MADE OF EVERYTHING YOU HAVE JUST SAID...

YOU WILL BE FLOWN TO A HEARING ON THE REQUEST FOR EXTRADITION MADE BY THE ALASKA AUTHORITIES—THAT YOU BE SENT BACK ACROSS THE BORDER TO STAND TRIAL FOR ROBBERY!

14,000,000 CANADIANS—AND I PICK A REDCOAT TO BLAB TO...

IF ANY OF YOU SAYS HE KNEW IT ALL THE TIME I'LL BEAT HIM OVER THE HEAD WITH MY FRAMED PHOTOGRAPH OF NELSON EDDY!

YOU TELL HIM, DARLING.

NO, YOU.

DON'T! I CAN SEE IT IN YOUR EYES. YOU TWO YOUNG LOVERS ARE TO BE MARRIED!

TEE HEE!

CONGRATULATIONS, MY DEAR BOY! YOU'VE CAPTURED NOT ONLY THE FLOWER OF AMERICAN WOMANHOOD, BUT ALSO THE HEIRESS TO THE FABULOUS GOLDWORTH MILLIONS!

FOR YOUR SAFETY, MISS GOLDWORTH, MARRY AT ONCE! THAT WILL MAKE IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR YOUR COUSINS TO INHERIT YOUR UNCLE'S FORTUNE BY KILLING YOU.

YES, SIR.

TO BE DOUBLY SAFE, MAKE A WILL. WHO DO YOU WISH THE BENEFICIARY TO BE?

MY HUSBAND, OF COURSE.

ALL THOSE MILLIONS? BY GEORGE, THIS YOUNG MAN IS IN LUCK!

HE'S EVERYTHING TO ME.

AND NOW THAT THE WILL'S SIGNED--- OH, YES, I ALMOST FORGOT. YOUR UNCLE LEFT EVERYTHING--CASH, BONDS, DIAMONDS-- STORED IN TRUNKS. NOW, MISS GOLDWORTH, IF YOU WILL LET ME HAVE $3,418.11 TO COVER STORAGE CHARGES....

BUT I DON'T HAVE IT.

I HOPE I'M NOT TOO PRESUMPTUOUS, BUT— AHEM!— SINCE MR. SWEENEY WILL BE SHARING IN THE FORTUNE, PERHAPS HE... ER... AH....

I'D HAVE TO MORTGAGE MY FARM, OR—
